Truman Flies Nonstop Across U. S.

DOUBLE PROBE FACES ARMY ON HIGHWAY DEALS

'Billions' Reported Possibly Involved

BY WALTER TROHAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., June 19—A double barreled inquiry into charges of "fantastic graft and corruption" in construction of the Latin American highway loomed in congress today.

Sen. Mead

In the senate Sen. Mead [D., N. Y.] said his war investigating committee, formerly known as the Truman committee, would conduct a full scale inquiry into charges of wholesale corruption in the highway, which was designed to link the United States by land with the strategic Panama canal.

Sees Graft in "Billions"

In the house Rep. Arends [R., Ill.] demanded that a house committee hold hearings, call witnesses and demand production of documentary evidence on "graft running even into billions of dollars" which may be involved in government contracts "hiding under the cloak of 'military security.'"

The promise and demand of investigation followed a week of congressional agitation over the defense project, which was launched under the orders of Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, chief of the supply services, who also ordered construction of the controversial Alcan highway, linking the United States with Alaska.

While Somervell is not widely known outside of the capital, he is regarded here as one of the most powerful men in the United States because he controls raw materials, industrial production, man power, wages, prices and hours as boss of the vast war procurement program.

Congressional interest in the Latin American highway was roused by a series of broadcasts by Fulton Lewis, Mutual Broadcasting System news commentator, who offered evidence that hundreds of millions of public dollars are being systematically stolen with the connivance of government officials on the highway.

Army Also Investigates

Last week Senators Ferguson [R., Mich.], Moore [R., Okla.], and Robertson [R., Wyo.] called for investigation of the reported waste and corruption in government contracts.

Moore said he had written Somervell asking him whether the war department had done anything

Strong Winds Delay Plane on Trip West

Olympia, Wash., June 19 (AP)—This city of 15,000 at the southern tip of Puget Sound became the temporary capital of the nation tonight when President Truman stepped from Gov. Mon C. Wallgren's car at the door of the state executive mansion.

Mr. Truman was barely 13 hours out of Washington, D. C., after the first cross-country plane trip ever made by a President, and less than an hour from McChord field, 20 miles north, where his special, luxurious C-54 transport plane landed smoothly at 7:40 p. m. [Chicago time] after a 12 hour and 18 minute flight from the capital.

Winds Delay Plane

The President smilingly told reporters he enjoyed the nonstop plane flight and scarcely noticed the very strong head winds which delayed his arrival more than an hour beyond schedule.

The trip was the first flight ever made within this country by a President, altho the late President Roosevelt used the same C-54 in connection with his travels to the Yalta conference.

People stood at the roadside in front of their country homes as the Truman procession moved toward Olympia, many of the men rigidly at attention, some saluting. In the capital city a human lane up the main street had been formed long before the arrival, and the President waved his gray hat to the crowd as he passed.

Wallgren an Old Friend

Starting his brief vacation here as guest of the governor, a short rest before he goes to San Francisco, Cal., to address the allied security conference, the President was met at the airport by Wallgren. Wallgren is an old friend who served with him on the Truman investigating committee when both were United States senators.

Retreat sounded at the moment of the landing, and for a minute the field's personnel stood at attention as the flag came down and the sun touched to splendor the snowy tip of Mount Rainier just showing above the clouds to the east.

As the plane rolled up the platform upon which stood the Wallgrens, the President waved from a window and then hurried to be the first man from the plane.

The three story Georgian home of the Wallgrens, will be the nation's temporary White House for the duration of the Truman visit.

Fishing Trips Possible

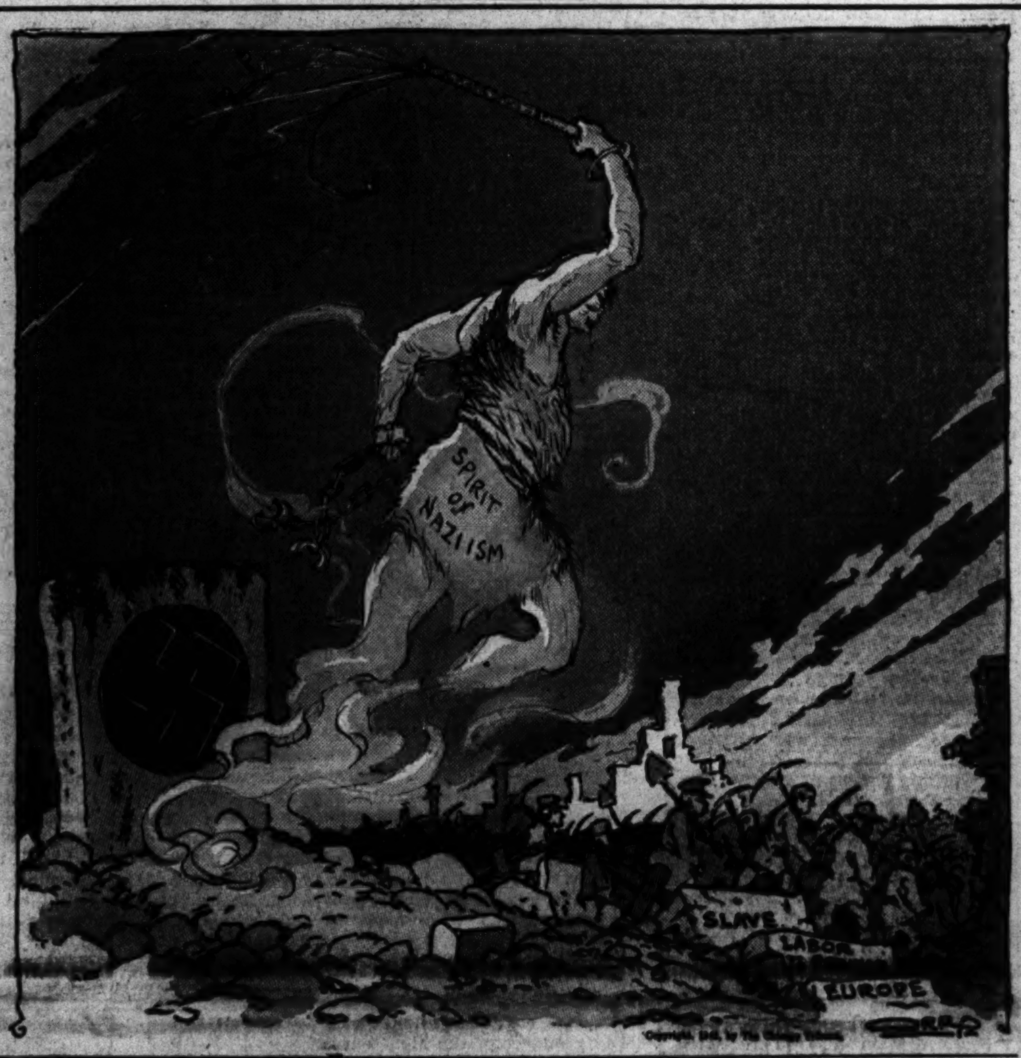
The President still hopes the peace charter can be completed at San Francisco by Saturday afternoon to permit his appearance there at that time. If there is a delay, his stay here likely will be lengthened accordingly. The vacation may include fishing trips up Puget sound or into the Cascade mountains to the east or the Olympics on the west.

The President, on leaving Washington, was greeted by Gen. Eisenhower, who himself had come to take a plane for New York. He shook hands and said:

"I didn't know you could get up so early in the morning, Ike."

"Well, I had to, you know," the five star general of the army replied with a big grin.

THE THING WE FOUGHT



MOSQUITO NUISANCE BELIEVED AT PEAK; EARLY RELIEF SEEN

In case you've been annoyed by mosquitoes in the last week or two, you can blame the trouble in part on the heavy rainfall from May 2 to May 15, J. Lyell Clarke, sanitary engineer of the Des Plaines valley mosquito abatement district, said yesterday.

The May rains flooded the marshes and bottom lands of rivers and streams and caused the mosquito eggs to hatch early, Clarke explained. Recent warmer weather caused the mosquitoes to scatter 12 to 15 miles from their hatching places, he added.

Clarke predicted that the mosquito annoyance will subside during the next two weeks as the mosquitoes from the current brood die or are exterminated. There are no new broods in the marshes at this time, he said.

CRITICS DEMUR WHEN PARSON IS FOUND UP A TREE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, June 19—The story of a Church of England clergyman found up a tree hiving a swarm of bees when he should have been conducting services was told today at a meeting of the Anglican church parliament which approved a proposal to set up ecclesiastical courts to deal with cases of "unseemly conduct" among the clergy. Another clergyman, it was stated, sometimes allowed his congregation to decide whether services would be held on Sunday morning.

Yanks of 86th Almost Home; in Camp Grant

BY GEORGE SCHREIBER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Camp Grant, Ill., June 20 [Wednesday]—Midwestern members of the fighting 86th [Blackhawk] infantry division, nearly 2,000 of them, came home yesterday and today. All thru the night they came, in five troop trains. By dawn the last had arrived back in what they generally characterized as "God's country."

Shoulder patch of Blackhawk division

These soldiers never drove a fire spitting tank thru enemy lines. They know nothing of the legendary glory of the air corps "up in the wild blue yonder." They are the infantry who walk where they are going. They know what it is to take an enemy machine gun nest. And they know the effect of his heavy artillery. They are the chaps with unsung glory—the infantry, still queen of battle.

Band Greets Them

By this evening, or tomorrow at the latest, most of these men, 700 from the Chicago area and the rest from Michigan and Wisconsin, will be home with their families and friends. Each will have in his pocket a 30 day furlough. But the sad part is each will have also an order to return to Camp Grant for shipment to Camp Gruber, Okla., again to take up training for the Japanese war.

As the men stepped from the trains that brought them from Fort Kilmer, N. J., they were greeted by the band.

The general fear that they would be kept here for days before departing for their furloughs was allayed by Lt. Col. Forrest W. Edwards, camp commander. He assured them that while they slept in comfortable beds, with real sheets, the camp staff of officers and enlisted clerks would work all night on their records, cutting the army red tape. He promised that they would be speeded on their way home as soon as possible. It is the army policy to get men away from the redeployment center within 24 hours.

First Division Home

Earlier yesterday the group had had a brief glimpse of Chicago when their trains paused in Chicago railroad yards.

The 86th division is the first of the infantry divisions scheduled for redeployment to the Pacific to arrive home. The troops came from the European theater on four transports. They landed at the New York debarkation port last Sunday. Eventually they will be followed by thousands of others.

Sergeant Wants Spaghetti

Sgt. John Ladolce, 1409 Mohawk st., Chicago, was waiting to put in a call to his wife Betty. He wanted to tell her to put on some spaghetti. "You know," he said. "Those canned rations are all right, but there's nothing like good spaghetti."

Three soldiers carried German swords. They are Pvt. Charles W. Carter, 4350 N. Lawndale av.; Corp. James W. Flatley, 6335 S. Troy st., and Pvt. Armond Salerno, 5538 Potomac av.

Capt. Raymond Kuhn, a landscape architect of 62 Park dr., Glenview, admitted having a "fairly good time" in Europe.

"Well, home again," said Sgt. Gus Katsoulis, 2947 N. California av. "I was inducted here in 1942. I sure want to see my wife Lena."

Sgt. Rudolph Berg, 317 Vincent ct., Lake Bluff, said he wanted a chance at the Japs.

COMISE CONVICTED OF ASSAULTING BOY: PENALTY 6 MONTHS

John Comise, former personal bailiff to Judge Francis Borrelli and former president of the Cafe Owners association, was found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon by a jury of eight women and four men in Criminal court last night. Comise had been indicted on three counts for attacking William Fortier Jr., 17, of 4428 Wallace st., but the jurors elected to return their verdict on a misdemeanor count. Thus, the jury was able to fix the penalty: Six months in jail and a $1,000 fine.

John Comise

George M. Crane, attorney for Comise, entered a motion for a new trial and Judge Cornelius J. Harrington set June 29 for the hearing. Meanwhile, Comise will remain at liberty under bond of $9,000.

Evidence in the trial showed that Comise attacked young Fortier after accusing the youth of being responsible for the disappearance of John Comise Jr., 17, the ex-bailiff's son, who had run away from home. Fortier testified the elder Comise beat him [Fortier] with a blackjack.

Fortier and young Comise are scheduled to appear before Judge Jacob M. Braude today on a charge of disorderly conduct based on the throwing of a brick thru a window at 543 W. 45th pl. The brick struck Thomas Comise, 76, the elder Comise's father.

Hidden Valley Trio Reaches Rescue Camp

BY WALTER SIMMONS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

HOLLANDIA, New Guinea, June 18 [Delayed]—Three survivors of the plane crash which unlocked many secrets of Hidden Valley in the interior of this island completed the first leg of their return trip to Hollandia today.

After four days of marching thru the jungle and along native trails under paratrooper escort, the trio—Lt. Joseph McCollum, Trenton, Mo.; Tech. Sgt. Kenneth Decker, Kelso, Wash., and WAC Corp. Margaret Hastings, Owego, N. Y.—arrived at the base rescue camp in the valley at midafternoon.

From a low flying B-25 piloted by Col. Ray T. Elsmore, Menlo Park, Cal., they could be seen waving happily. On the last stretch of the trail they were accompanied by more than 100 spear carrying natives who served as bearers in exchange for gifts of shells.

Inspects Glider Strip

After inspecting the glider strip which had been cleared, Col. Elsmore said a glider would probably be landed Thursday after exhaustive loading and pickup tests are conducted at near-by Wakde.

Then the crash survivors and their paratrooper rescuers will be returned to civilization in the glider.

Preliminary towing tests were conducted today by Maj. William J. Samuels, Oakland, Cal., and Capt. William G. McKenzie, La Crosse, Wis., at Biak. In the crew of a specially equipped pickup plane were Master Sgt. Winston Howell, Romma Bay, Minette, Ala., winch operator; Sgt. Harry Baron, Brooklyn, N. Y., radio operator, and Sgt. Donald Gellasch, Detroit, Mich., crew chief.

Capt. McKenzie pointed to a 300 foot nylon rope which will be used in the glider "snatch" operation.

"There's enough nylon in that to make 3,600 pairs of stockings," he said.

Survivors' Condition Good

Radio reports from the valley said all three survivors finished their long and difficult march in good condition. The only "casualty" was Capt. Cecil Walters, Portland, Ore., stalwart paratrooper chief who has never been hurt in a jump but who suffered a slightly sprained ankle when he slipped on the trail.

Capt. Walters said the terrace dwelling natives in the region, where the plane crashed May 13, killing 20 service men and WACs, were displeased when the expedition first started out.

The distance from the site of the crash to the base camp was only about 17 air line miles, but was much farther thru jungle and along twisting, slippery trails. Capt. Walters estimated in a radio interview that the marchers averaged about 10 miles daily, taking plenty of breaks on account of the three patients.

At the base camp Sgt. Alfred Baylor, Chicago Filipino paratrooper, traded five cowrie shells to a native for a pig whereupon the little group had a feast.

MARINES PUSH OKINAWA FOE INTO THREE POCKETS

B-29S SET FIRE TO THREE MORE CITIES OF NIPPON

GUAM, June 20 [Wednesday]—(AP)—Great fires some of which raged for four hours were set today in a triple strike by 450 B-29s at two industrial centers on Honshu Island and one on Kyushu in the enemy homeland.

The Super Forts hit Shizuoka and Toyohashi on Honshu and Fukuoka on Kyushu, raising to 13 the homeland cities scorched by 25 such mass incendiary raids.

Tokyo radio said fires broke out in a "number of places" in Fukuoka, the bombers worked it over for two hours—and that most fires were extinguished two hours after the raiders departed.

The raid on Shizuoka eliminated it as a future target, returning crews reported today. Shizuoka was caught by surprise. Crewmen said they left it "one solid mass of flames."

Crewmen reported they saw few searchlights, antiaircraft fire was meager and there was virtually no fighter opposition. Intense heat bounced the planes 1,600 to 2,000 feet.

Drop 3,000 Tons

The mission was the second in three days of the newly launched campaign of the 21st bomber command against secondary war production targets.

About 3,000 tons of latest type incendiary bombs were released by the B-29s from low level, starting about 3 a. m.

Shizuoka, with a population of 212,000, and Toyohashi, 242,000, are on the south Honshu Island coast between Tokyo and Nagoya. Fukuoka, population 323,000, is on the north coast of Kyushu Island.

The raids followed similar attacks Monday on Omuta and Kagoshima on Kyushu and Hammatsu and Yokkaichi on Honshu, each with less than 200,000 population but with important war plants.

25th Incendiary Raid

Today's missions brought to 25 the number of mass incendiary raids by the Marianas based Super Fortresses since they struck Tokyo March 10.

Shizuoka, 85 miles southwest of Tokyo, is the largest city between Yokohama and Nagoya.

Toyohashi, important silk industry center before the war, is 189 miles southwest of Tokyo. Key targets were armament and explosive factories in the southernmost part of the city, near government military schools.

Fukuoka, capital of northwestern Kyushu's important industrial and mining prefecture, has become a key center in Japan's industry dispersal program. Many new ordnance and aircraft factories have been built in the southwestern area.

Defense Collapsing; Surrender Too Fast to Be Counted

GUAM, June 20 [Wednesday]—(AP)—Japanese troops leaped into the surf from Okinawa cliffs yesterday as two marine regiments drove thru weakening resistance to the southern tip of the island.

The marines' push split the Japanese remnants into three pockets and brought from Adm. Nimitz the triumphant announcement: "The enemy's defenses are in the process of collapsing."

"Numerous enemy personnel were reported to be jumping off cliffs near the coast south of Udo town," Nimitz added.

The Japanese still were fighting stubbornly on the southeastern coast in the 96th and 7th infantry divisions' sectors and several thousands remained to be eliminated before Nimitz could report Okinawa militarily secure.

Still Meet Jap Fire

Despite the disorganization of the Japanese, American troops continued to meet moderate to heavy fire from automatic weapons, machine guns, and small arms. In one sector, Okinawa civilians joined the battle, hurling hand grenades among advancing Yanks.

Col. Clarence Wallace's 8th marine regimental combat team—a fresh outfit that entered the battle only Monday—reached the southern coast 700 yards south of Komesu town.

The 5th regiment of the 1st marine division also drove to the south coast, east of the 8th combat team. They encountered some small pockets of Japanese still fighting from individual strongpoints.

One of the main concentrations of surviving Nipponese appeared to be in the hill 81 sector at the southwestern edge of Yaeju escarpment. This force was under attack from the west by elements of the 5th marine regiment and from the northeast by troops of the 96th infantry division.

Can't Count Prisoners

Correspondent Al Dopking reported from the front that resistance cracked like an ice jam in the spring with a suddenness that surprised doughboys and marines.

Prisoners came thru one marine sector so fast guards didn't have time to count them. Numerous Japanese soldiers tried to slip thru as civilians.

Many Americans, including some high officers, were being killed, however.

LCT's were standing in close to the shore and sending rocket fire into the fleeing Japanese bands, some of whom were driven into hopeless leaps over the cliffs into the sea, or onto rocks on the beach.

The collapsing Japanese garrisons' resistance was growing steadily weaker and isolated bands broke into open flight.

Adm. Nimitz reported that a United States destroyer sank a Japanese cargo ship and two luggers Monday night off Yome Island in the northern Bonins, then took the time to pick up 53 survivors—once a risky business in the days when lurking Nipponese submarines were more of a menace. Yome is 200 miles north of Iwo.

Well, Who Wants Kansas After All This Build-Up?

Des Moines, Ia., June 19 (AP)—Prof. Allan Crafton of the university of Kansas described his home state at an Ad club meeting today. He said: "I give you Kansas. The state where there are more rivers and less water, more dry voting and less dry living . . . where you can look farther and see less than any place in the world except Texas." But he added, Kansas has produced many fighting men for this war—Gen. "Ike" Eisenhower, for instance.

CROSS CAGAYAN RIVER

BY ARTHUR VEYSEY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

WITH THE 37TH DIVISION, Northern Luzon, June 20 [Wednesday]—Amid a shattering aerial and artillery barrage, infantry men of the 37th division have battled across Cagayan river, the biggest natural obstacle before Aparri, north coast city 113 miles away and only Luzon seaport remaining in Jap hands.

Only one American soldier was injured in the river crossing. Fragments from Jap mortars hit him in the leg.

The Japs waited four hours, until the south bank of the river was heavy with infantry and engineers, before opening fire. That only one man was hurt in the mortar and machine gun fire from the opposite bank is damning testimony of Jap marksmanship.

Tanks and infantry, spearheading the drive up the valley, reached the river after an advance of 13 miles a few minutes after the last Japs fled. The steel bridge

Plains of Reims a Little America

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune]

REIMS, France, June 19—About 3,200 square miles of agrarian plain around the ancient cathedral and "surrender" city of Reims have become a "Little America."

Spread over the area in four clusters around Reims' satellite towns of Soissons, Suippes, Mourmelon, and Mailly are 17 United States army camps named after American cities and comprising an assembly area thru which a majority of 2,500,000 troops redeploying to the United States and the Pacific will pass.

In this far flung community of 33,000 tents and 5,000 hut buildings, troops going to the United States will stay 15 to 20 days, and those going to the Pacific 25 to 40 days—the latter to give their equipment a head start on slower ships.

The purpose of the area is to serve as a reservoir for the coastal staging areas, and a central point for checking equipment and personal records.

The stopover also will be a sort of a vacation for veterans of the European campaign. Accommodation is now in a basic stage consisting chiefly of shelter and sanitary facilities but within a few weeks the schedule will include such battlefield unknowns as theaters, barber shops, three day laundry and dry cleaning service, watch repair service, shoe shine parlors, ice cream soda stands and beer gardens serving beer brewed in France from American malt and hops.

Each camp holds about one division—15,000 men. The area has a capacity of more than 250,000 men and when it is in full swing 18,000 will be moving in and out daily.

It takes a whole division—currently the 75th infantry—to operate the establishment, plus 42,000 German prisoners divided among the camps as laborers. About 40,000 troops have moved into the area and 140,000 more are en route.

Find Jap Admiral's Body

WITH THE 6TH MARINE DIVISION, Okinawa, June 15 [Delayed by Censorship]—(AP)—A vast Japanese naval underground headquarters gave up its dishonored dead today, including the bodies of Adm. Minoru Ota, commander of this Ryukyuan naval base, and his staff.

Confirming reports that the Japanese admiral and his officers died there, marines explored the intricate pattern of tunnels linking a big hill with two smaller adjoining ones.

In a room marked "admiral's quarters" on various Japanese charts they discovered the tableau of death.

Lt. Hart Spiegel, Tulsa, Okla., and Lt. Joseph Hopkins, Woodmere, N. Y., led marine patrols up dank passageways from which branched officers' compartments where they found many bodies of suicided Japanese.

"We found the admiral's body in the room we expected to," Spiegel said.

"On a low broad table about two feet high were the bodies of the admiral and his five top aides. The throat of each one was slit, but there was no knife around, indicating some lower officer had been assigned to do the job."

"Each officer lay on his back with his arms and knees slightly bent. We found the admiral's epaulets—three silver pips on heavy gold braid shoulder bars—and his other effects, even a box of calling cards with his name and 'headquarters, Okinawa prefecture naval base,' printed on them in Japanese."

across the 300 foot wide river was blown by the retreating Americans three years ago. The Japs replaced it with a ferry.

The Japs abandoned several trucks and automobiles they were unable to ferry to safety. As we arrived tank tracks leading up the opposite bank from the ferry were still wet, so close were we to the Jap flight.

Because the Japs had destroyed the ferry our advance was delayed until assault boats could be brought up. These in turn were delayed until a heavy duty by-pass could be built across a small gully three miles from the rear. Meanwhile, infantry men and tankmen went swimming.

Call for Air Attack

About 2 p. m. the Japs opened fire. Pvt. John Sweger, Easton, Pa., splashing in the water, ran naked to his tank, but brought his 75 mm. cannon to bear. Infantry men scattered into the grass.

By radio, air force liaison officers called for 12 P-51 fighter-bombers. Artillery pulled off into the fields and set up their guns.

The planes loosed their bombs. Timbers from the town of Naguilian on the opposite shore flew like match sticks.

Massed artillery began pounding the shore. From our bank tanks and tank destroyers added their cannon and machine guns. The din was ear shattering.

Yanks Paddle Across

Lt. Guy Burtis, 2452 E. 72d st., Chicago, whose platoon was to be among the first to cross in assault boats, set off a green flare. Then Pvt. Bernie Bogen, 4352 Division st., Chicago, and other doughboys piled into boats and paddled across.

Doughboys combed the remnants of Naguilian, pouring round after round into debris where something moved. Engineers joined some assault boats and jeeps and anti-tank guns were ferried across.

A long convoy of heavy bridging equipment arrived and engineers began inflating the big rubber pontoons and swinging a steel treadway onto that. Trucks and tanks and guns will be rolling on northward at dawn.

A stockade built during the day was full of brand new Jap prisoners. Among them was one captain, who said in good English, "When we learned the 37th division had been committed against us we knew it was all over."

Prisoners Numerous

MANILA, June 20 [Wednesday]—(AP)—Infantry men mopping up in the newly captured area south of the Cagayan river killed nearly 200 Japanese and captured 447, one of the rare instances in which the number of prisoners exceeded the enemy dead. Many of the prisoners were Formosan troops.

The 6th division, driving west and north into mountainous terrain above Bagbag in northern Luzon, killed or found already dead 132 Japanese as they advanced on Kiangan. They killed 300 more as they proceeded over the Bambang-Pinkian road.

Correspondent Richard Bergholz reported from Mindanao that patrols of the American 8th army had entered outskirts of Calinan, near Davao gulf.

NEW PREMIER OF ITALY FILLS CABINET SLATE

ROME, June 19 (AP)—The new Italian premier, Feruccio Parri, has completed a government after two days of consultations, it was announced tonight, but his cabinet immediately came under attack from the Socialist party.

Parri named as one of two vice premiers Pietro Nenni, Socialist leader who recently was arrested by allied military authorities for making an unauthorized political speech in northern Italy, and also chose Socialists for the ministries of labor and public works. However, Sandro Pertini, Socialist party secretary for northern Italy, asserted "The solution of the crisis cannot satisfy us Socialists."

The other vice premiership was retained by Manlio Brosio of the Liberal [Conservative] party. Alcide de Gasperi remains as foreign minister. Vincenzo Aranzio Ruiz, a Liberal is minister of education.

RECORD BUDGET OF $68,568,309 IN PHILIPPINES

MANILA, June 19 (AP)—President Sergio Osmena submitted to congress today a record budget of 137,136,619 pesos [$68,568,309] along with a message asserting the finances of the Philippines government were "very precarious." Osmena said revenues probably would be insufficient to meet expenditures which, as set up in the budget, includes $9,240,333 for national defense.

Negotiations are underway for financial aid from the United States, which Osmena intimated would be the only way to solve the problem.

ONLY INVASION WILL END WAR, TOKYO INSISTS

San Francisco, Cal., June 19 (AP)—Radio Tokyo repeated today that Japan is not seeking peace, and continued its daily chatter on homeland defense, which it warned must not result in abandoning other battle fronts.

Sadao Iguchi, spokesman of the Japanese board of information, "firmly reiterated that Japan has never proposed peace negotiations," said a Domei report. It is the enemy, he added, who persistently spreads rumors of Japanese peace feelers.

Another speaker, who said he was reading a talk prepared by Dr. Kosaku Tamura, Japanese authority on international relations, said the war could be terminated only "thru the ghastly landing operation of the American forces on the homeland of Japan, where they will bury mountains and rivers of Japan with their dead bodies and paint the beaches of Japan crimson with their own blood."

U. S. SUBMARINES SINK 11 MORE JAPANESE SHIPS

Washington, D. C., June 19 (AP)—United States submarines have sunk 11 more enemy ships, including two light combatant vessels, in far eastern waters, the navy announced today.

The combatant ships were medium patrol vessels. The noncombatant vessels were a medium cargo vessel, two medium tankers, a medium merchant vessel, two small cargo vessels, and three small merchant vessels.

The 11 raised to 1,153 the total Japanese losses inflicted by United States submarines. The total includes 138 combatant ships and 1,015 noncombatant.

CRIPPLED PLANE COAXED TO SAFE HAVEN IN SPAIN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

MADRID, Spain, June 19—Co-Pilot Lt. Harold Hasselbacher, 945 N. Lorel av., Chicago, today told how an engine of a four motored bomber carrying a score of aviation personnel to America conked out between London and the Azores, 500 miles from land, and how with the pilot and navigator they coaxed the plane for four hours to a perfect landing at a small airdrome with only a 1,500 foot runway, near Corunna, Spain.

The plane is not damaged, but cannot take off because of the short runway. The passengers had lightened the ship by throwing their gear, machine guns, ammunition, kit bags, provisions, and even their cigarets overboard.

"We sure sweated it out," said Staff Sgt. Henry Huetten, 6631 20th av., Kenosha, Wis. "It was a narrower squeeze than the bombing missions over Germany against flak and jet planes," said Staff Sgt. Martin Madden, Claremont, Ill. Hasselbacher said, "My sister, Mrs. Catherine Horn, works in The Tribune want ad department, and I hope my wife, Helen, will read I'm okay."

PATRIOTS STORM ITALIAN PRISON; KILL 13 FASCISTS

ROME, June 19 [Reuters]—A band of armed men believed to be partisans were reported today to have broken into Modena prison yesterday, rounded up Fascists and collaborationists awaiting trial, and shot dead 13 of them, injuring three others. Other reports today of popular feeling ending in action being taken outside the law were:

At Parma last night four men entered a hospital, seized a Fascist, Domenico Petacci, who was awaiting an operation, and shot him dead outside the building. At Alfonsine the former secretary of the Fascist Women's association, Bruna Orioli, was killed with her 74 year old father, apparently by partisans. At Spezia the Marchioness Passano Schoepe, of German origin, who acted as interpreter during the nazi occupation, was taken from her villa and killed by patriots.

YANKS TO HELP JAP HEROES TO RETURN TO U. S.

LAKE GARDA, Italy, June 19 (AP)—Officers of the United States 442d infantry regiment have organized their own replacement plan for the Japanese-American soldiers returning home after gallant fighting with the regiment in Italy and France.

Thru arrangements by a committee of three officers, every Nisei soldier heading home takes with him the names of men already contacted in America who will help him locate in the place and in the industry or profession he wants.

He also will have letters of reference from his company, battalion, and regimental commanders attesting to his membership in one of the most decorated outfits in the army.

Chicagoan on Committee

The plan was originated by Lt. William Wolf, Evanston, Ill., who serves on the committee along with Lt. Edward R. Williams, Chicago, and Capt. California Ushiro, originally a Californian whose address now is the Heart Mountain War Relocation center in Wyoming.

The system was arranged specifically for soldier victims of exclusive tactics on the Pacific coast—for fellows like T/4 Sagie Nishioka, Hood River, Ore. The other day Sagie received a note from his mother, who is in the Wyoming relocation camp with his 16-year-old brother, and a sister.

Her note began, "I suppose you've heard your name has been taken off the soldier rolls at Hood River."

[The Hood River post No. 22 of the American Legion restored the names of 15 Nisei, including Sagie Nishioka, to its honor roll last March 6 upon the order of the Legion's national commander. Nishioka was born in Hood River Feb. 10, 1920, and inducted there on Feb. 1 1942.]

Wounded by Shell

Sagie is not doing so well just now. He's had 15 blood transfusions and five operations in the last few weeks. A German mortar shell did it to him when he and the rest of the 442d spearheaded the drive up the Ligurian coast in the last push of this campaign, and actually outran their flanking support.

NEW ZEALAND TEA PARTIES FOR JAPANESE HIT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, June 19—The Foreign Veterans' association is indignant, having learned that tea parties are provided for Japanese war prisoners in their camp at Featherston.

"Working parties of prisoners are getting morning and afternoon tea," said R. A. C. Selby member of the association's governing board. Others said the board was not satisfied with results of its inquiries and would push the matter farther. One member said that if the tea came from the daily rations it was in conformity with the Geneva convention. The board also is seeking facts about an issue of leather gloves to Japanese working parties.

Fraternization also in receiving the attention of the board. At Featherston railroad station recently a conductor had his arm around a prisoner's neck "like a long lost brother."

AUSSIES PUSH 4 MILES TOWARD BORNEO OIL AREA

MANILA, June 20 [Wednesday] (AP)—Combat patrols of the Australian 9th division pushed four miles beyond Tutong, on Borneo's western coast, in their drive toward the Seria oil fields, Gen. MacArthur announced today. Other units fanned out in all directions, MacArthur reported, with air and naval support.

Aussies who landed several days ago at Weston, on the eastern shore of Brunei bay, penetrated two miles inland along the Jesselton railroad and reached Linghungan.

Australian amphibious patrols landed without opposition 10 miles southeast of Brunei in another move designed to mop up the invaded area.

Bombers blasted the east coast oil and ship building centers at Balikpapan and Samarinda with more than 200 tons of explosives.

WIESBADEN, Germany, June 19 (AP)—Franz Tiso, former Hungarian minister and ambassador extraordinary to Moscow, is in allied custody at Worgl, near Innsbruck, 12th army group headquarters said today. 20 in Mine Trap 2 Weeks Are Reported Still Alive

MEXICO CITY, June 19 [Reuters]—Twenty miners of the Montezuma Copper company in the province of Sonora, Mexico, are believed alive after being trapped underground by a fire two weeks ago. Flames have prevented rescuers from reaching the men but their voices have been heard.

Force Japs Back

CHUNGKING, China, June 19 (AP)—Chinese troops have rolled within 19 miles of the south China air base and rail city of Liuchow, the Chinese command said today, while the Japanese were reported preparing to abandon the southeast coast ports of Amoy and Swatow, 430 miles northeast of the Philippines.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's three pronged drive on Liuchow, 400 miles southeast of Chungking, gained up to seven miles after three Japanese counter-attacks were broken up by Chinese veterans, a bulletin disclosed.

As the central news agency reported that Chinese flags were jubilantly hoisted in Wenchow following Japan's evacuation of the prize port 220 miles south of Shanghai, Chinese reports said the enemy command also appeared planning the abandonment of Amoy and Swatow. These cities, two of the deepest seaports on China's invasion vulnerable east coast, lie 290 and 170 miles northeast of Hong Kong. Chinese observers expected the Japanese garrisons to be pulled southward to the Hong Kong and Canton region.

Okinawa Leader Gets 3 Star General's Rank

Washington, D. C., June 19 (AP)—The senate approved today the promotion of Maj. Gen. Roy S. Geiger, commander of American forces on Okinawa, to the rank of lieutenant general in the marine corps. Geiger took command on Okinawa when Lt. Gen. Buckner was killed two days ago by a Japanese shell. A flyer, he was commander of all allied aircraft in the Solomons during the Guadalcanal campaign.

GEN. BUCKNER OFTEN WARNED NOT TO GO SO CLOSE TO FRONT

OKINAWA, June 19 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner Jr.'s chief of staff and close friend of many years today said that he often had cautioned the commander of the United States 10th army about going so far forward on his visits to the battle lines. Buckner was killed yesterday by a fragment from a Japanese shell. Brig. Gen. Ed Post, Buckner's chief of staff, said the discussions always ended the same way, with the general replying:

"'These soldiers and marines are my responsibility. I consider their well being my responsibility. I cannot from a map make decisions involving lives of Americans. I must see for myself what they are up against and actually see the terrain over which I propose to order them to attack.'"

Impressive, simple funeral services were held this morning, with high ranking officers and men standing around the gray wooden casket.

Six of the pallbearers were Buckner's four enlisted clerks, his orderly, and the driver. The driver, Sam Taylor, Nashville, Tenn., who has been with him for years, broke into tears. The pallbearers included T/Sgt. Walter F. Krueger of 2141 N. Kildare av., Chicago.

MORE GIs DRIVE, BUT IDLE TRUCKS PILE UP ON ODT

Carriers Wait in Vain for Military Escorts

Chicago's truck strike, which completed its fourth day yesterday, boiled down to this: More soldiers on duty and fewer trucks operating.

Ellis T. Longenecker, office of defense transportation executive operating the struck truck lines under government seizure, said 1,200 soldiers were driving trucks, compared with slightly more than 400 Monday, but did not give any figures on the total number of trucks in service.

Walter McCarron, general manager of the Illinois Motor Truck Operators association, and William B. Crawford, attorney for the Cartage Exchange of Chicago, said fewer of their members' trucks were operating than on Monday.

Police Convoys Assigned

In addition to soldier drivers and guards, police convoys were helping to protect the movement of essential civilian goods.

Longenecker said more soldiers were arriving in Chicago almost hourly to help get the trucks moving.

Longenecker said Ben Miller, ODT man power executive, is en route here from Washington to handle cancellation of strikers' draft deferments. He said Miller will confer with state and county selective service officials about induction of strikers under 38.

Robert Emberson, secretary of the Ben Lee Motor service, 55 E. 28th st., said 33 trucks and 600,000 pounds of freight were held up there waiting for military police escorts. Two soldiers appeared Monday, he said, and helped move 20 tons of freight, but none appeared yesterday.

ODT Efficiency Criticized

E. T. Cahall, head of the Cahall Trucking company, 1473 Hubbard st., said six of his drivers have been waiting for two days for military police escorts. Among the freight waiting to be moved, he said, is 10,000 pounds of winches for the army and navy.

"When you can't get army aid to move essential war materials, some one in the ODT is not doing his job," he said.

F. H. Maurer, Chicago manager for the Wilson Motor company and J. A. Grant & Co., Inc., 3115 Wallace st., said 10 of his drivers were waiting all day for guards who failed to appear.

Among the 120 tons of freight held up, he said, was a shipment consigned to the Douglas Aircraft plant.

Priority Assignments Made

Longenecker explained that an effort was being made to assign guards and drivers first to shipments of high war priority.

Officials of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters [AFL] pleaded with 150 members, assembled near the Willett company, 700 S. Des Plaines st., to return to work. The drivers refused. Des Plaines st. police sent three squads to the scene as a precautionary measure, but no violence was reported.

COURT REFUSES TO ENJOIN UNION IN MORGAN CASE

Judge Donald S. McKinlay in Superior court yesterday refused to issue an injunction sought by Harry Morgan, 36, against local 1150 of the United Radio, Electrical and Machine Workers' union [CIO]. Morgan sought an order against the union seeking his discharge by the Chicago Flexible Shaft company, 5600 Roosevelt rd., under a maintenance of union membership contract. Morgan is a turret lathe operator.

The court held that Morgan and 12 others who attempted to rescind their union memberships still are members. Judge McKinlay previously held that Morgan, a former chief shop steward, was illegally suspended by the union's executive board. The court's order in the case will be signed Monday.

Morgan's suit charged the union was communist dominated and was used by the CIO political action committee to help the New Deal in the 1944 election.

DON'T JUNK OUR SEA POWER, NAVY ASKS CONGRESS

Forrestal Urges U. S. Keep Giant Fleet

Washington, D. C., June 19 (AP)—The navy urged today that the United States retain a giant fleet after the war, keeping a big pool of combat vessels in reserve rather than junking them.

The views of the professional navy men were given at a joint session of the senate and house naval affairs committees by Secretary Forrestal and Fleet Adm. King.

The meeting, called to get an outline of the navy's ideas for the post-war period, was closed but a statement by Forrestal containing the proposed policy was made public by Chairman Walsh [D., Mass.] of the senate group.

Rejects Dominance Everywhere

This statement did not go into detail but from other sources it was learned that Forrestal called for United States naval superiority in vast stretches of ocean which he designated as the approaches to the United States.

Emphasizing that the navy did not seek superiority thruout the world, he called for:

The minimum combatant naval craft required to afford effective combat superiority over the active naval forces that any other single power, or any combination of likely enemies, could bring to bear in the western part of the North or South Atlantic oceans or anywhere in the Pacific ocean, including, in each case, the approaches thereto.

No Legislation Sought Now

Forrestal did not ask for any legislation at this time, advancing the reserve fleet proposal simply for the legislators' information. The drafting of bills may come later, the secretary indicated.

"The size of our navy cannot be static," Forrestal emphasized. "The important thing is that we should not freeze the navy at any given strength but we should continually adapt its strength to current world conditions.

"We propose to divide the ships which we will have on hand at the close of the war into an active fleet and a reserve fleet.

"The division between these two fleets should be a constantly shifting one. If world conditions deteriorate, ships in the reserve fleet should be called to duty and added to the active fleet. If international relations improve, vessels can be withdrawn from the active fleet and laid up in reserve."

Such shifts would have to be made by congress, the secretary pointed out.

Irish Bishops Express Sympathy for Poland

DUBLIN, Eire, June 19—Cardinal Joseph MacRory met here today with archbishops and bishops of Eire and adopted a resolution offering "once more to the Polish nation our deep sympathy in the unparalleled trials and sufferings she underwent during the war and which the cessation of hostilities has done nothing to mitigate."

HOLD BABY'S DEATH IS ACCIDENT

A Lake county coroner's jury yesterday decided that John Moran, 3 months old, son of Tech. Sgt. and Mrs. William A. Moran, found dead in his crib early Monday, was a victim of accidental asphyxiation. The Morans live on the Fort Sheridan military reservation.

Lauds U.S. Negro

Justice Hugo L. Black of the United States Supreme court last night paid tribute to the American Negro for the part he is playing in bond drives and other war activities.

"It is a tragic fact," he told a dinner of the South Central association, an interracial group, in the Morrison hotel, "that a great number of Negroes have all too little with which to buy bonds, so that each contribution is proportionately more of a sacrifice than it is for many of the rest of us. But I hope that our country will always remember the spirit of the Negro woman in Los Angeles who sold her home so that she might buy bonds, and of the 11 year old Negro boy who saved 1,875 pennies to buy a bond."

Justice Black predicted a realization of the American ideal of equality of opportunity "if the common men and women of the world, white, Negro, Catholic, Protestant, Jew, farmer, laborer, little business men, and working people everywhere can keep their shoulders to the wheel of progress with the same determination with which they have kept their shoulders to the wheel of victory."

600 JAMAICANS ORDERED FROM STATE IN STRIKE

Fort Collins, Colo., June 19 (AP)—More than 600 Jamaicans who refused to continue blocking and thinning beets in northern Colorado yesterday were ordered transferred today, some to California and others back to their British West Indies homes.

After about a week's work, the men ceased working yesterday. They complained they were not being paid by the Larimer County Farm Improvement association, the employing agent, and also about their housing, working conditions, tools, and food. The food complaints were understood to deal with the lack of sugar and pork in their diet.

Sugar company officials said the Jamaicans would be replaced with German prisoners of war.

POSTAL PAY BILL IS APPROVED BY SENATE GROUP

Washington, D. C., June 19 (AP)—The house-passed postal pay increase bill was approved today by the senate post office committee with "no fundamental changes."

Sen. Mead [D., N. Y.], who sponsored a similar bill in the senate, told reporters the committee made some amendments "which either conform with war labor board practices or to provisions in the civil service bill.

Increases, he said, total between 18 and 19 per cent but "since postal workers have had no increases since 1925 and because of inequities involved," the committee feels that the bill does not violate the "Little Steel" formula which limits wage increases to 15 per cent of the 1941 base.

NAVY ASSAILED FOR 'ANNAPOLIS OFFICER' BIAS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., June 19—Members of the house and senate naval committees have put the heat on the navy for its policy of limiting its reserve officers to junior grades while appointing only graduates of the Annapolis naval academy to higher ranks, it was learned today.

Navy Secretary Forrestal, appearing before a closed session of the two committees to discuss post-war navy plans, was questioned sharply by members who said there was "widespread interest if not concern" thruout the country over the navy's treatment of its civilian officers, an authoritative source said.

Plans Remedial Steps

It was understood Forrestal was told the navy's withholding of promotions beyond the rank of lieutenant commander for reserve officers amounted to "prejudice against non-Annapolis men." The ratio of reserve officers to regulars is about 35 to 1.

It was understood that Forrestal, after several uncomfortable minutes under the questions and observations of the naval committee members, said the question of reserve officers' status was receiving careful study at the navy department and promised that steps to remedy the situation complained of would be outlined to the committee in the future.

It has been apparent since early in the war that Annapolis graduates form an exclusive club within the navy establishment. Top appointments go only to Annapolis men, altho the army's top ranking officer, Gen. Marshall, chief of staff, is not a West Point graduate.

But the major complaint of naval reserve officers on active duty is their inability to rise above the rank of lieutenant commander, even after nearly four years of service in positions equal to those held by Annapolis trained men.

"U. S. N." or "U. S. N. R."

One member of the Senate naval committee was reported to have told Forrestal today that the reserve designation should be dropped when a naval officer goes on active duty. Reserve officers, thruout their service, are designated "U. S. N. R.," to distinguish them from Annapolis men, after whose name appears only "U. S. N."

"A man should no longer be classified as reserve when he goes on duty," the senator reportedly said. "At sea especially he should have full navy status, classified as a naval officer and with the same opportunity for promotion as any other officer."

After the war the navy will require at least 30,000 officers, and perhaps as many as 50,000. Less than 12,000 Annapolis graduates are now in the regular navy, so the rest of the officer personnel must come from the reserve.

GERMANS ASK U. S. TO OUST A NAZI MAYOR

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune]

ROSENHEIM, Germany, June 19—By unanimous vote, the council of this city of 30,000 in upper Bavaria has petitioned the occupation authorities for permission to remove their American appointed pro-Nazi mayor, asserting that until that is done they will "feel themselves robbed of the fruits of their political liberation."

The situation here is typical of the whole area of which Rosenheim is the seat of government, but this is the first community to bring the growing skepticism of American good faith out into the open.

The burgomaster for whom the city fathers are gunning is Max Drexl, a 55 year old attorney who, according to local people, has been a dues paying member of Hitler's SS since 1933. He was appointed burgomaster by an American military government detachment during the combat phase.

FRENCH ASSEMBLY VOTES TO SEEK AID PACT WITH BRITAIN

PARIS, June 19 (AP)—France's consultative assembly and Gen. de Gaulle extended the olive branch to Britain on the Syrian dispute today in a surprising finale to an acrimonious debate between the French leader and Pierre Cot, a former French cabinet minister.

In a speech to the assembly De Gaulle proposed that France and Britain settle the Levantine problem between themselves, and said that a solution could be "found without difficulty."

The assembly then adopted a resolution calling upon the government to redouble its efforts toward conclusion of a Franco-British treaty along the lines of France's mutual aid treaty with Russia.

ORDERED TO JAIL, OFFICIALS AGREE TO OBEY COURT

A few minutes after Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher signed an order jailing Mayor Frank Kaminski and City Clerk Steve J. Maciejewski, both of Calumet City, for contempt, they agreed to obey the court's original order to issue building permits for 34 houses for war workers.

Judge Fisher several weeks ago ordered Calumet City to issue the permits to the Central Construction company of Hammond, Ind., to put up the homes. The two officials refused to comply because residents in the area of the proposed home objected.

Issuance of the permits, besides keeping Kaminski and Maciejewski out of jail, will allow the construction company to go ahead with building the four room bungalows, destined to house war workers in the area.

POLES OCCUPY TESCHEN OVER CZECH PROTESTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

LONDON, June 19—Teschen, one of Europe's "trouble spots," tonight was occupied by Polish troops over Czechoslovak objections, and shortly later it was announced the Czech government had accepted Russia's offer to settle in Moscow all Czech-Polish problems.

Basing his action on charges the Polish people in Teschen were being persecuted by the Czechs, Marshal Rola-Zymierski, Lublin Polish commander in chief, led his troops into the rich coal town, which was occupied by the Poles after the Munich settlement in October, 1938.

"The Polish army is always ready to defend the rights of Poland and her people," the Warsaw radio said in a word of warning to the Czechs.

HERO'S CANYON IN N. Y. HONORS GREATEST—IKE

BY CHARLES GOTTHART

(Pictures on back page)

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

New York, June 19 — A soft-spoken, unassuming, one-time Kansas farm boy returned from the wars today. He returned to receive the greatest welcome that his country's largest city has ever bestowed on a hero.

Four million cheering, flag-waving men, women, and children jammed every inch of space affording a glimpse of Gen. Eisenhower.

The allied commander accepted the applause in the spirit of having finished "one nasty job" in Europe, but with the sobering thought that another war must be fought in the Pacific.

This was Eisenhower day in New York from the moment the famous five star general's transport landed at New York airport at 10:17 a. m. to receive a 17 gun salute from a battery of three 75s until after dinner when he was the city's guest of honor at its largest banquet hall.

Exceeds Other Welcomes

The magnitude of the greeting not only surpassed anything New York had ever witnessed, but far exceeded the welcome accorded him in Paris, London, and in Washington, D. C., where he was flown from Europe yesterday.

He was the beloved "Ike" of an appreciative flood of humanity during a 37 mile automobile tour of the city, and again during a baseball game at the Polo grounds, but became a solemn and dignified commander of the allied armies when he made two addresses dealing with the affairs of a war torn world.

At a dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel before 1,600 guests he admonished his country to apply itself to the problems of peace with the same determination that won the war in Europe. His home town of Abilene, Kas., is only 16 hours by air from Europe, he said in emphasizing the point that the United States can not isolate itself from the world.

The United States must always be ready to defend its rights, he said.

Sees Only Two Threats

The only threat to solution of world harmony lies in "politics and personal ambition," and "we will be lost" if these elements are not forgotten, he said.

Gen. Eisenhower showed plainly in a noon speech at the city hall that he did not place all reliance on international agreements to keep the peace, when he called for a strong military organization for the United States.

Before him in the front row of seats at city hall was Mrs. Eisenhower, who was able to talk with her famous husband only briefly before entraining tonight for Abilene. Near him was his only son, Lt. John S. D. Eisenhower, who was graduated by West Point on the day his father's forces invaded Europe.

Mayor Fiorella La Guardia presented the general with a gold medal bearing the city's seal and an inscription expressing its gratitude, and then handed over a scroll making him an honorary citizen of New York.

53 Yanks With Him

Gen. Eisenhower was accompanied by an official party of 53 officers and enlisted men flown here from Washington in three other transports. Among others, he was accompanied by Lt. Gen. Smith, his chief of staff and Vice Adm. Kirk, who directed the naval phase of the Normandy invasion.

After an overnight stay, Gen. Eisenhower will be given an official army reception today at West Point, then leave for a hometown greeting at Abilene. "You know, I have to go back to Europe," he told reporters, "but I hope to get seven or eight days' leave."

Interspersed in the day's events was a luncheon for the general at Mayor La Guardia's residence. The invited group of 75 guests included Brig. Gen. William O'Dwyer, the Democratic-American labor party nominee for mayor, but not his Republican-Liberal party opponent, Judge Jonah J. Goldstein.

G I Joe in the Pacific

By ARTHUR VEYSEY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

WITH THE 37TH DIVISION ON LUZON, June 19—Break-thru and rout—these are pretty words, except to the doughboy. To generals and bystanders break-thru and rout mean victory. To the sweating, tired, hungry, dirty infantrymen they mean more sweat, more aches, less food, and more dirt.

So there wasn't much cheering among these foot soldiers when they broke thru the foothills and started routing the Japs from Cagayan valley.

Since landing at Lingayen more than five months ago, these doughboys have been on their feet almost constantly. The first month they hiked and fought 120 miles into Manila. Then they fought thru the ruins of Manila, where, instead of hiking they made most of their advances either flat on their stomachs or at a hunched over run to dodge Jap bullets.

After a brief spell in a cluster of tents that was supposed to be a rest camp, where they got rid of some of their hunger and dirt and aches but, Manila heat being what it is, continued to sweat, they were sent up the road toward Baguio.

And when Baguio fell, these infantry men got a truck ride into the hills at the head of Cagayan valley. There they got back onto their feet with orders to go toward Aparri, a mere 230 miles away.

Just walking 230 miles under a sun that makes every dusty road so hot it burns your feet is a big chore. Toting packs and guns and ammunition doesn't make it any easier. When fighting thru the foothills the men moved probably five miles on the best days.

Then came the break-thru. In the past few days some men have hiked 30 miles or more. Some can't take it and fall out. Trucks come along and give them a ride to a first aid tent.

With the break-thru they left their kitchens behind. A chow truck, which used to come around at least once daily to almost all the troops, vanished in the dust. From now on they eat a can of C rations at dawn, maybe heating a cup of coffee over a small fire, then another can amid the dust by the side of a road sometime near noon when a brief rest comes, and a third can for supper. You carry the noon and night cans with you.

You wash when you hike thru showers or ford rivers. Your clothes are already so wet with sweat you can hardly tell the difference.

Your bones ache and your feet swell. Your whiskers grow long. Dust turns your hair into a gray dustmop. At night you are almost too tired to dig a hole but you probably do. Then, when you get ready to roll up in your poncho for a nice long sleep, along comes a lieutenant or sergeant and tells you you're on guard. Hundreds, maybe thousands, of Japs were by-passed today and every night some of these set up guns along the roads to attack trucks that must run day and night after break-thrus.

So the next time you meet a 37th division foot soldier don't ask him about that "wonderful" rout of Jap forces at the head of Cagayan valley.

DOUBLE PROBE FACES ARMY ON HIGHWAY 'GRAFT'

about the matter. He said he received a reply acknowledging that the department had investigated itself, but gave no inkling what the report was.

In announcing the decision to investigate the highway project, Mead told the senate the inquiry would be extended to include "the propriety of the decision to construct the highway in the first place." He added that the group would insist on disciplinary action or criminal proceedings against military or civilian agencies responsible in the event any illegalities are uncovered.

He said the nature of the charges and the evidence so far presented warrant a full and complete investigation. At the same time his committee will make a full investigation of all projects on foreign soil, he added, explaining the committee has been assembling data on the Alcan highway for some time.

Public Entitled to Know

In the house Arends said:

"The people of the United States who are footing the bill for this war—and that is all of us—have a right to know whether our bond dollars and tax dollars are being correctly spent or corruptly spent. If there is graft and corruption, as charged, it must be exposed and put down."

Arends said that there is documented evidence which can be placed before a committee and that eyewitnesses are prepared to testify. He asserted that there is no question in his mind that there is graft of hundreds of millions of dollars going on at this time.

To support his argument Arends cited "one little contract" where it locks as tho "some one got away with 6 million dollars." He cited the building of the southern half of the Nicaraguan section of the highway under army engineers for less than 2 million dollars while the northern half was built by an American contracting firm on a cost plus basis at a cost of almost 8 million dollars.

Northern Half Unfinished

"The southern half of the road was just as tough a road building job as was the northern half," Arends said. "What's more the southern half was finished; I understand it is a beautiful road. The northern half, on the other hand, was not finished; miles of it are nothing but soft road bed; miles of it are utterly impassable. As a military highway or any other kind of highway it is practically worthless."

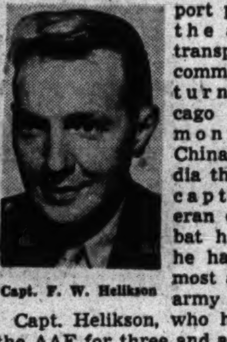
Arends said where most of the graft comes in is in the equipment rental racket, under which a contractor rents to the government his own equipment for use on a project.

He said the monthly rental of a D-8 crawler-type tractor on the highway project thruout the life of the contract is $775 whether the tractor is working or idle.

"That's maximum and maximum is always paid under these contracts," Arends said. One of these tractors under contract since Pearl Harbor would have brought in almost 10 times its used ceiling price of $4,100, he said.

In congress the army has been defended by members during the controversy. Today the defense was undertaken by Rep. Whittington [D., Miss.] and Rep. Savage [D. Wash.].

CHICAGO FLYER HOME FROM CBI AREA WITH MEDALS FOR HEROISM



Capt. F. W. Helikson

Capt. Frank W. Helikson, 25, of 5030 Berteau av., a test and transport pilot with the army air transport service command, has returned to Chicago after 20 months in the China-Burma-India theater. The captain, a veteran of 538 combat hours, said he has flown almost all types of army planes.

Capt. Helikson, who has been in the AAF for three and a half years, wears the distinguished flying cross, the air medal with one oak leaf cluster, and the CBI theater ribbon with one star signifying action at Kwellein during a battle when he evacuated wounded and supplies.

The captain's wife, Margaret, and their daughter, Carol, 2, live at the Berteau av. address. His parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Helikson, reside at 1504 Oak av., Evanston. Capt. Helikson was graduated from Evanston Township High school and attended the University of Tulsa, Tulsa, Okla., and the Central Y. M. C. A. college in Chicago.

PICK NOMINEES FOR PITTSBURGH MAYORAL RACE

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 19 (AP)—David L. Lawrence, 55, Democratic state chairman, and Robert N. Waddell, 47, Republican, an insurance executive, won nomination from their respective parties as candidates for mayor of Pittsburgh on the basis of incomplete returns in today's primary election.

Lawrence was leading his opponent, Register of Wills John M. Huston, by more than 2 to 1, and Waddell had a substantial margin over his chief opponent, Lt. Col. Harmar D. Denny Jr. of the army air corps.

IKE GETS NEW PLANE SIMILAR TO M'ARTHUR'S

Santa Monica, Cal., June 19 (AP)—A big, four engine plane, identical except in interior appointments with that of the late President Roosevelt, was delivered by Douglas Aircraft company today to the army for the personal use of Gen. Eisenhower.

The plane is outfitted with sleeping quarters, an electrically equipped galley, conference room and desk similar to the flying headquarters recently delivered to Gen. McArthur.

ARMY DECLINES TO EASE RULES FOR DISCHARGE

Washington, D. C., June 19 (AP).—The army tossed a sheaf of redeployment and reorganization figures at congress today to explain why many soldiers eligible for discharge under the point system won't be released for some time.

At the same time it indicated unwillingness to lower the automatic discharge age below 40—despite congressional clamor that it be cut to 38, 35, or even 30—and disclosed that the new point program to be announced next month will give no credit for service performed after May 12, 1945.

The information was given by Maj. Gen. Stephen G. Henry, assistant chief of staff, to the house military committee. The committee had called upon the war department for a progress report on the discharge program inaugurated May 12, when men with a score of 85 points were eligible for release.

Barriers to Discharge

Gen. Henry, stressing that the demobilization process to affect two million men will take 12 months, told the committee there were many barriers to speedy releases. They included the availability of shipping and the necessity of obtaining and transferring replacements while shifting millions of men from Europe to the Pacific.

The rate of discharges, he said, will average 100,000 this month and in July, 125,000 in August, 150,000 in September, 175,000 in October, 190,000 each in November and December, and 200,000 monthly for the first five months of 1946. The last group to be mustered out a year hence, he added, probably will include some men even now eligible for discharge.

A new "critical" score for releases will be announced next month, he said.

"It won't drop to 70," he replied when Rep. Sparkman [D., Ala.] asked if the new system might lower substantially the present requirement for 85 points. And, he added, it will apply to officers as well as enlisted men.

Big Cut in Ground Forces

Gen. Henry said that by next June there will be four million soldiers overseas, compared with 5½ million now.

Army strength will be reduced from 8,300,000 now to approximately 7,000,000. Air forces will be reduced from 2,300,000 to 2,100,000; service forces will be cut from 1,700,000 to 1,600,000; ground forces will be trimmed from 3,200,000 to 2,300,000, and miscellaneous components will be cut from 1,100,000 to 1,000,000.

Meanwhile, he said, 800,000 new men will be inducted into the army thru selective service during the next 12 months. Gen. Henry emphasized that many of these will be men over 30.

Silver Star Awarded to First Negro Pilot

ROME, Italy, June 19 (AP)—Col. Benjamin O. Davis Jr., commander of the Negro 332d Mustang fighter group, was awarded the silver star today for gallantry in action. It was the first award of this medal to a Negro pilot. Davis of New York City led a fighter group damaging or destroying 35 locomotives, 52 railroad cars, four barges, and a plane in Austria.

TRUMAN ASKS CHANGE IN LAW ON SUCCESSOR

Rayburn Might Became President Under Plan

BY JOSEPH HEARST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Washington, D. C., June 19—President Truman today asked congress to amend the law so that the speaker of the house of representatives and not the secretary of state would succeed to the Presidency in the event of the death of both the President and the Vice President.

Sam Rayburn

The proposal, sent to congress while Mr. Truman was en route by plane to the Pacific northwest, was given a mixed reception on Capitol hill. Sen. Bridges [R., N. H.] introduced a bill to carry out the proposal, and Rep. Martin [R., Mass.], the house minority leader, said he thought the legislation should be taken care of before congress recesses.

Sen. Austin [R., Vt.] said "the proposal sounds consistent with our theory of government," and Sen. Hill [D., Ala.] said it is timely to review the matter of succession and asserted there is "much logic in the suggestion regarding the speaker of the house."

G. O. P. Leader Opposed

Sen. White [R., Me.] minority leader, said, "I don't like it at all," but declined to elaborate. Sen. Lucas [D., Ill.] asserted the proposal "has some serious defects."

Under the present law, enacted in 1886, the line of succession passes to cabinet officers in event of the death of the elected President and Vice President, with the secretary of state the first in line.

"Each of these cabinet members is appointed by the President with the advice and consent of the senate," Mr. Truman said. "In effect, therefore, by reason of the tragic death of the late President, it now lies within my power to nominate the person who would be my immediate successor in event of my own death or inability to act. I do not believe that in a democracy this power should rest with the chief executive."

Edward R. Stettinius Jr., present secretary of state, is a holdover appointee of President Roosevelt, and there have been reports that he is to be replaced by a man or Mr. Truman's own choice. Rep. Rayburn [D., Tex.] is now speaker of the house and would become next in line for the Presidency if the President's proposal is enacted.

McKellar Next in Line

Mr. Truman also recommended that the president pro tem of the senate [now Sen. McKellar [D., Tenn.] be next in line after the speaker.

Mr. Truman said the question of succession is of great importance now because there will be no elected Vice President for almost four years.

Mr. Truman said the speaker, elected in his own district, is also elected to be the presiding officer of the house by a vote of all the representatives of all the people.

"As a result, I believe that the speaker is the official in the federal government whose election, next to that of the President and the Vice President, can be most accurately said to stem from the people themselves," he declared.

Passes Over Senate Choice

Mr. Truman said members of the senate are not "as closely tied in by the elective processes to the people as are the members of the house of representatives," and that only one-third of the senate is elected in a Presidential election year.

"The senate might, therefore, have a majority hostile to the policies of the President, and might conceivably fill the Presidential office with one not in sympathy with the will of the majority of the people," he said.

85 POINT SCORE MAY FREE 40,000 EUROPE OFFICERS

PARIS, June 19 (AP)—Army officers with adjusted service rating scores of 85 points or more and not considered essential to further operations in the European theater are eligible for return to America and possible discharge, supreme headquarters said today. About 40,000 officers were expected to be released. On May 31 there were 245,000 officers in the European theater, including 54,675 in the air forces. The discharge eligibility score for WAC officers was set at 59. A separate score for air forces officers was not yet ready for announcement by the air forces.

HOUSE WINDS UP ITS HEARING ON POSTWAR DRAFT

Washington, D. C., June 19 (AP)—The house post-war military policy committee today concluded its public hearings on compulsory peacetime military training and went to work on a formal report to congress. Its recommendations may be submitted late next week.

Final witnesses were a group of house members. Representatives Dirksen [R., Ill.] and Bolton [R., O.] urged compulsory peacetime training as a part of the post-war policy. Rep. Celler [D., N. Y.] claimed the argument of military leaders for universal training was "so weak that glittering names had to be brought in to bolster it."

Rep. Lewis [R., O.] advocated establishment of military departments in colleges and universities, with training on a voluntary basis, at government expense.

ROBIN ABANDONS TRAVELING NEST AND FLIES AWAY

Convinced at last that a lady trying to raise a family on a Barrington suburban train has virtually no privacy, a robin which has been attempting to hatch two eggs in a nest on an air brake cylinder beneath a passenger coach, last night gave up and went off in a huff.

The nest appeared under the first car of the train, No. 645, about a month ago. Two weeks ago, an egg appeared in the nest. The next day there were another egg and a mother robin sitting on both.

Professor Has Explanation

The train leaves Barrington each morning at 7:24 o'clock, returns each evening at 5:55, and remains in the Barrington yards over night. Each morning when the train started, the robin left the nest. Each night, when the train returned, the robin was waiting to return to the nest.

That was the routine until last night when no robin appeared. Dr. Albert Wolfson, associate professor in the zoology department of Northwestern university, explained it. He said the normal incubation period for robin's eggs is from 10 to 12 days, and if the eggs do not hatch in that time, the mother robin abandons both nest and eggs, and builds a nest elsewhere.

Arthur Fletcher, conductor, and Carl Kulin, collector on the train, said the robin succeeded in building a nest under the train only after two failures when the train was moved before her work was completed. They believe the robin took advantage of the fact that the train remains in the Barrington yards over Sunday to complete the third nest.

Removed Nest Ignored

Some other robin built a nest under the third car of the train, but this was removed by Mrs. Lillian Howell, 1548 N. Dearborn st., at the request of Mrs. Gertrude Charny, 6972 Greenview av., president of the Friends of Birds, Inc. She placed it in a tree beside the track, but the mother robin ignored it.

Dr. Wolfson explained that one, too. He said if a nest is disturbed, the mother bird is unable to recognize it as her own. He believes the robin is busy setting up housekeeping in a new location. It is quite possible, he said, that she will lay more eggs and finally fulfill her urge to become a mother.

U. S. ENVOY DEMANDS ARGENTINA ROOT OUT JAP AND NAZI FIRMS

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune]

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, June 19—A demand for eradication of German and Japanese firms in Argentina whose continued existence under enemy management represents danger for this continent, was made today by Ambassador Spruille Braden at a luncheon given in his honor by the British chamber of commerce.

Braden recalled that Argentina together with 20 other American republics had agreed at Chapultepec [Mexico City] that war criminals shall be tried, that axis subversive influences be eradicated, and that enemy property, investments, and other holdings beginning with those stolen from victims of aggression, be immobilized and controled.

Braden said firms taken from Germans and Japanese should be owned and managed by Argentines and that the United States does not covet them. Only in the event that Argentina should require some temporary assistance would the United States, Braden said, "gladly endeavor to help a democratic Argentina."

YANKS UNEARTH NEW 5 BILLION NAZI TREASURE

Take Securities, Stolen Guns and Bullion

PARIS, June 19 (AP)—American troops have uncovered a vast nazi treasure hoard valued at $5,000,000,000, including the main national wealth of Austria and Bavaria and loot stolen from death camp victims and desecrated churches, it was revealed today.

Announcement of the find was made by communications zone headquarters and was based on information from the United States 12th corps, whose troops discovered the treasure. Most of it was in securities. Zone headquarters said it lacked information as to how values were estimated and whether they were face values or actual current market worth.

Far greater in estimated value than the cache of 200 tons of gold found on April 7 at Merkers, 18 miles southeast of Hersfeld in Thuringia, the new trove was discovered by troops of the same corps that unearthed the gold hoard from a salt mine.

Found in Bank Vaults

The second treasure trove, including securities, stolen jewelry, church property and gold bullion, was found in the vaults of the Regensburg reichsbank, zone headquarters said.

The cache was uncovered by Lt. John J. Stack Jr., of San Francisco, fiscal officer of the 12th corps local military government detachment, and his assistants.

The major value of the hoard was in its securities. Stack and his men found foreign securities, representing the major wealth of Austria, which were valued at $3,000,000,000. Domestic German securities, comprising the main wealth of Bavaria and estimated at $2,000,000,000, also were discovered.

Headquarters said suitcases and boxes bulging with watches, bracelets, and other gold jewelry stolen from political and other prisoners of the Nazis were found in the vaults.

2,200 Pounds of Silver

Some 2,200 pounds of silver bullion melted down from stolen silver jewelry were stacked in piles. A solid gold tabernacle from a Russian Orthodox church in Prague, Czechoslovakia, stood in one corner, an announcement said.

In addition, there was $50,000 to $100,000 worth of gold and silver coins and 15 bars of gold bullion valued at $300,000.

Other troops of the 12th corps found a cache of pure gold valued at $50,000 under a haystack near the railroad station at Haidhausen, Austria.

Twenty miles east of Munich, other American soldiers discovered the irreplaceable library of the University of Munich, valued at several millions of dollars, hidden in the tiny farming village of Kirchdorf, SHAEF announced.

Paintings from Cathedrals

Several score paintings from Munich cathedrals valued at nearly $1,000,000 were found, along with 1,500 rare books which were hidden in the homes of a priest and a schoolmaster in the hamlet of 40 houses. One painting was signed by Vincent van Gogh.

The find was made by men of the 94th cavalry reconnaissance squadron, led by Lt. Robert Newkirk of Detroit, Mich. The collections had been moved from Munich to escape allied air raids.

THE QUESTION

Why do so many people dislike traffic policemen?

WHERE ASKED

La Salle and Washington sts. [asked of traffic policemen.]

THE ANSWERS

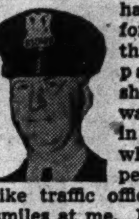
H. M. Hall, 4821 Belle Plaine av.—Probably because the traffic officer is that mean old character who comes along and says, "Sorry, you can't park here!" or "What's your name and address? I'll have to give you a ticket." If a person hasn't had any actual contact with the law, he dislikes an officer because some day he might.

Leo Lapinski, 4541 N. Melvina av.—Lady, people just love traffic officers! They don't dislike us. They smile at us for no reason and are always asking questions, knowing they'll get a courteous reply. I just helped two elderly ladies across the street and they seemed very well pleased. We're really a great bunch of guys!

Al Myers, 262 E. Illinois st.—As a general rule policemen to children are worse than a bogey man. When these same children grow up they carry over this idea that a policeman is—well you know what. In these times everybody is in a hurry and naturally they don't want to be bothered by a ticket or a red light.

Mervin Jones, 4441 Greenwood av.—Being a policeman involves enforcing the law. We all know that laws are necessary but they restrain people from doing certain things. Laws won't enforce themselves, therefore officers must be appointed to carry out the laws. Does any one like to be told what they may and may not do?

Harry W. Klepsteen, 3730 Lyndale st.—It's only natural that people should dislike a policeman for one reason or another. Many people don't give policemen any thought as to whether they like them or not. If they do give thought, it's probably because they are the recipient of a ticket. They just can't take it.



Tom Quinn, 8044 Laflin st.—Should I say we're mean, that we have no consideration for people who run thru red lights and park where they shouldn't? We're always poking our nose in our own business, which involves other people! Do people dislike traffic officers? Every one smiles at me. Don't they mean it?

REPORT GERMAN TUBERCULOSIS UP 10% DURING WAR

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

MUNICH, Germany, June 19—American and German health experts interviewed in the Munich area report that tuberculosis and malnutrition are widespread among former inmates of concentration camps, foreign and German, among relatives of Germans imprisoned by the Nazis, among Jews, and among foreign slave workers and their relatives.

But these experts also report the health of persons close to the Nazis is excellent and that of average citizens, not engaged in political conflict and in the majority, is considered good.

Maj. Morgan Linick, health officer of the American military government, and others hold that despite the smallness of the Germans' present rations there is no reason to fear starvation because many citizens still have reserves of food on which to draw. Labor and transportation are the main obstacles in food supply difficulties. The situation would become serious if American authorities failed to develop efficient means of collection and transport for available foodstuffs in Germany.

Building Up Grain Reserve

American food authorities are building up a reserve of grain outside German borders for use in case of emergency.

Maj. Linick has seized two Munich hospitals, to care for former inmates of concentration camps and for foreign workers who represented a danger to the general health if not properly attended. German health authorities were granted permission to use the model barracks of the schutzstaffel [elite guard]. They are being transformed into hospitals for patients from the two Munich hospitals and other civilians.

Dr. Ludwig Schaetz, Munich health councilor, said:

"Tuberculosis spread somewhat in the last two years, partly because of the food situation and because shortage of space and other war complications made it impossible to isolate all cases. After hospitals were seized by the German army there was an acute shortage of beds for civilian patients."

Rate Increases 10 Per Cent

Other German doctors had stated they believed the number of tuberculosis cases increased by about 10 per cent. Schaetz said that because of the disruption of services thru bombings and other upheavals at the end of the war he had no accurate figures, but believed the increase was somewhat bigger, tho "not as high as after the first World war."

Another physician, Dr. Blatz, said that "In the last 20 years the people learned to take better care of their health and avoided some war time pitfalls because of their knowledge and the systematic efforts of the government to take care of public health." Like a number of other doctors he also held that "war time evacuation of German children from the cities removed many of them from centers of possible infection, and their health prospered in the country surroundings."

The healthy appearance of Germans on the streets, especially children, was reflected by the remarks of American soldiers such as Sgt. Jimmy Denman of Chicago: "The Germanys, specially German kids, look well fed."

Danger in Long Continuance

All doctors agree that long continuance of the short rations the Germans are receiving would affect the general health. This week the citizens of Munich received slightly more than one-half pound of meat, two pounds of bread, three and one-half ounces of butter, five eggs, almost two quarts of milk, marmalade, some cheese, a quarter of a pound of noodles or beans, as well as a daily pint of beer, and potatoes.

Lettuce and other vegetables can be obtained without ration cards. But only the housewife who has the time and energy to stand in line can get all these rations and vegetables. Dr. Schaetz estimated that the average citizen is getting between 800 and 900 calories daily, not including the caloric value of beer and potatoes.

Dr. Schaetz and his staff are convinced that conditions in all areas occupied by the Americans are similar to those in Bavaria because the advantage which Bavaria holds as a mostly agricultural state is outweighed by the fact that it is jammed with refugees from all parts of Germany and with German armies which concentrated in this area before surrender.

SPURNS BELGIAN KING'S PLEA FOR A NEW CABINET

Leopold Rebuffed After He Insists He'll Reign

BY HAL FOUST

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

BRUSSELS, Belgium, June 19—Leopold III., in his first attempt to exercise his self-asserted sovereignty over the Belgians since his liberation from the Nazis, has been rebuked.

He ordered Prime Minister Achille van Acker to form a new government favorable to the king's return from the royal displaced person camp near Salzburg, but the prime minister refused.

Leopold, earlier in the day, had declared at Salzburg that there was no question of his abdicating. He said he had decided to return to Belgium and "has reassumed his full constitutional prerogatives."

Van Acker tonight disclosed the results of negotiations between the king and the cabinet last week, culminating in the ministers' resolve on Saturday to resign if Leopold returns to Belgium.

General Strike Threatened

A general strike has been threatened if the ruler who surrendered with his armies in 1940 tries to resume the throne.

Van Acker said that Leopold has announced he will try to form a new government by remote control before attempting to come home with his wife and two children.

In the meantime, the exile has asked his brother Charles to continue to serve as regent.

The Catholic party, after a conclave, issued a statement tonight reaffirming fealty to the king. Also they contend that the talk of strikes is political, and that the people of this hungry, war torn country are for law and order, food and jobs, with interest in politics a secondary matter.

Allies Won't Interfere

The allied mission here, commanded by the British, has announced it will take no part in the controversy, provided there is no interruption of army supplies and communications for which Antwerp is the main port. Government sources said SHAEF has received assurances that military operations will not be obstructed even if a general strike should ensue from a move by Leopold to return.

The country is divided on whether Leopold opposed the Nazis with all his vigor. The Communists and other leftists condemn him. The right wing, supporting Leopold, contends he has not been given an opportunity to defend his declaration that he always acted in the best interests of Belgium.

Majority Opposes King

The Communists have asked for Leopold's abdication. The conservative Catholic party has declared that no one can judge the king. These are the extreme positions, but a majority of the politicians, between these extremes, oppose Leopold's return.

Meanwhile, according to government sources, Leopold is without any power, notwithstanding his assertion that he is the constitutional ruler. It was said that should Leopold name a new cabinet and return to Brussels, parliament would pass a vote of no confidence, tantamount to an ouster of the ministers, on the first government proposal. The king might then dissolve parliament and call for an election in 40 days.

Judge's Ensign Son Visits Court

Home from Pacific

Judge Elmer J. Schnackenberg in Circuit court yesterday received a surprise visit from his son, Ensign George, 24, who arrived in Chicago on a 30 day furlough from the Panama Canal and Pacific theaters, where he has flown 101 missions for the navy during the last nine months. The judge had just said good-by to another son, Lt. Frank, 25, who left Monday night for additional combat training with the army air forces in Lincoln field, Neb. Another son, Lt. Elmer, 26, a fighter pilot, was mustered out of service last December, and the judge's youngest boy, Pvt. Paul, 18, has just been assigned to Keesler field, Miss.

SCANDINAVIAN LADS EAGER TO JOIN M'ARTHUR

Some Well Trained, but Green in War

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, June 19—The young blood of Norway, Sweden, and Denmark wants to join Gen. MacArthur and fight the Japs. In Oslo, Stockholm, and Copenhagen during the last month lads with much training and little or no fighting experience have inquired how they might volunteer.

The eager Scandinavians are good physical specimens—tall, long legged, and lean—and some are veterans of five years' service in the Norwegian or Danish underground against the German invaders. The Swedes long have been on field duty guarding their country's neutrality.

None at War with Japan

None of the three countries has declared war upon Japan. Sweden, in furtherance of its 130 years of unbroken peace, maintains diplomatic relations with the Japanese, including credentials for a corps of 10 so-called Japanese correspondents.

A possible barrier to the Scandinavians' serving as a group with MacArthur is the American precedent of manning its own armies. The United States has furnished auxiliary troops as well as material to Marshal Montgomery and to the French army on the western front but the United States armies were all American.

The Danish foreign office is reported to be considering an appeal for some of its formal and informal armed forces to be permitted to volunteer to fight the Japanese. In some diplomatic quarters the proposal is seen as a move to counteract any stigma, justified or not, the Danes may have acquired for having offered little resistance to the nazi invasion.

Total Number Negligible

However, the Scandinavian climate and training do not provide a favorable background for jungle warfare. And the total number of volunteers that could be trained, armed, and transported within a reasonable time would be inconsequential compared with the millions the United States has thrown into the Pacific war.

Nevertheless, their attitude is perhaps typified by the remark of a tall, tanned, blond corporal on a Copenhagen street car platform: "MacArthur is the world's greatest fighter and we want to join him."

South Africa Appoints Minister to Washington

PRETORIA, South Africa, June 19 [Reuters]—H. T. P. Andrews has been appointed South African minister in Washington, D. C., succeeding the late Dr. Stefanus Gie, it was officially announced today. Andrews is former head of the South African supply mission in Washington.

SERVICE VOTES DEFEAT KING IN OWN DISTRICT

OTTAWA, Ont., June 19 (AP)—Service men's votes in the dominion election June 11 returned to office the Liberal government of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, but caused the premier to lose out in the Prince Albert [Sask.] constituency which he represents.

The 70 year old prime minister who had carried Prince Albert in four general elections was defeated by E. L. Bowerman, 53, a farmer-preacher, running as a Coöperative Commonwealth Federation candidate.

Results of the service vote, announced today, along with civilian balloting, gave Bowerman a lead of 129 votes. King had led by 263 in the civilian returns. It was assumed King would seek a seat in the house of commons from another constituency.

Louis Herrin, 17, of 5004 State st., and Isaac Holmes, 17, of 4345 Langley av., both Negroes, were held to the grand jury in bonds of $80,000 each yesterday. They were arraigned on eight robbery charges before Judge Jacob M. Braude in Boys' court.

BARES LONDON POLES' PLAN TO BALK RUSSIANS

MOSCOW, June 19 (AP)—The commander of the Polish home army, Maj. Gen. L. Bronislaw Okulicki, testified at his "sabotage" trial today that the supreme Polish commander in London told him Russia intended to absorb Poland, and ordered him to take his army underground to help preserve Poland's independence.

Okulicki is the principal defendant among 16 Polish underground leaders arrested by the Russians and being tried by the military collegium of the soviet supreme court on charges of subversive activities behind soviet lines.

The 49 year old Polish commander admitted that he had hoped to see a western European bloc of nations, including Germany, alligned against Russia, but he told the court that he had taken "no overt action toward this end." This was one of the principal accusations leveled against the Poles in the indictment against them.

Fired on Soviet Vehicles

Earlier a parade of Polish witnesses related how they fired on soviet vehicles, killed Russian soldiers and wrecked trains and bridges. Okulicki admitted moral responsibility, as home army commander, for any such activities, but denied he had any first-hand knowledge of terroristic acts.

Okulicki said that in March, 1944, Gen. Kazimierz Sosnkowski, of the supreme Polish command in London, told him Russia planned to make Poland the 17th republic of the Soviet Union. Under examination, he said also that Sosnkowski had ordered that the Polish home army go underground to help maintain Poland's independence.

The Polish government in London, he told the court, sent instructions to him and to Jan Jankowski, leader of the Polish underground government, on how to create their organizations. Okulicki, on court instructions, read this message which he was said to have received from London:

"From the general section of the general staff: It is necessary to conduct a conspiracy: The principle is that of Polish independence. The sole Polish government is the one which is in London. The Lublin one has no legality. It will be liquidated as well as the occupationists."

Col. Gen. Vassily V. Ulrich, president judge, introduced what he said was a confiscated message sent by the Polish government in London and which, he asserted, asked for detailed espionage work against the Russians, with monthly reports to London.

Whole Movement on Trial

LONDON, June 19 (AP)—The Polish government in exile asserted today that the "whole Polish underground movement" is on trial in the Moscow case in which 16 Poles are charged with diversionist activities.

The government in exile said the date of the Moscow trial was chosen deliberately to coincide with Polish political discussions "to maintain in part the government imposed on Poland from the outside by force."

In Moscow, three groups of Poles were meeting to reorganize the Polish provisional government, and were reported to have made "definite progress."

1,450 GIs WILL STUDY IN EUROPE DURING SUMMER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, June 19—Fourteen hundred and fifty United States army soldiers will be enrolled in civilian schools and universities in France and England in July for summer courses under an army education program for the European theater of operations. Col. Paul Thompson, chief of information of the education division of ETO, revealed this today.

Cambridge university, various London schools, and the University of Paris will be attended by the service students, who will have access to many additional institutions as the program develops.

The University of London medical school and Liverpool university already have 90 medical corps officers undertaking post graduate studies.

Report Solution Reached on Soviet Protest

BY WILLARD EDWARDS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

San Francisco, Cal., June 19—In a closing rush to complete a peace charter in time for President Truman's scheduled address next Saturday, delegates of 50 nations at the world security conference were stirred tonight by these developments:

1. The Big Five — the United States, Great Britain, Russia, China, and France—were reported "on the verge of a solution" of the dispute aroused by a soviet demand for a gag on free debate in the new league of nations. A compromise was indicated after Soviet Ambassador Gromyko reported he had received permission from Moscow to agree to some liberalization of restraints on discussion of international matters.

2. A conference committee completed work on the draft of a trusteeship system for dependent peoples which avoided the objective of "independence" for 600 million persons under British, French, and Dutch colonial rule but set it up as an aim for some 2 millions in mandated territories.

Hidden Meaning Hits U. S.

3. Prime Minister Fraser of New Zealand startled a press conference with the statement that in his belief it is the "evident desire" of the American delegation here to see that the Pacific island bases won by this country from Japan are given over to the international trusteeship system.

4. Hitherto concealed interpretation of the trusteeship system disclosed that the United States must submit reports to the secretary general of the league on conditions in Peurto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska, the Virgin Islands, and similar territories. These reports would embrace health and mortality, literacy, penal servitude, and similar matters. Russia would not have to report on Lithuania or Great Britain on India, however, because such territories are "autonomous units."

5. A conference commission by acclamation indorsed a demand by Mexico that the league permanently bar the Franco government of Spain from membership. The Civic opera house resounded for three hours to denunciations of "Franco's murderers and torturers" by France, Australia, Belgium, the United States, White Russia, the Ukraine, Uruguay, Guatemala, and Chile.

Bar Domestic Interference

6. The same commission unanimously approved a section banning the international organization from intervening in domestic matters except when the peace and security of the world are threatened.

7. Similar commission indorsement was given the opening chapters of the charter setting forth the purposes and principles of the new league and pledging its members to take action collectively in resistance against acts of aggression against any member.

Gromyko's report on the "free discussion" issue encouraged leaders to believe they could whip the charter veto into shape before Saturday. On the authority of Dictator Stalin, he was said to have made counter-proposals on wording which were very close to the compromise advanced by Foreign Minister Evatt of Australia which permits debate on all matters "within the scope of the charter."

Gromyko, it was stated, no longer insisted on the strict text of the Dumbarton Oaks plan which confined assembly discussion to "matters affecting peace and security." After receiving the soviet note, the Big Five meeting broke up with all professing themselves highly pleased.

Twelve of the 13 chapters of the charter are now in the hands of the coördinating committee. The missing chapter is that relating to the functions and powers of the general assembly which will include the right freely to discuss all international matters unless Russia wins on its demands for modification.

All Blast at Franco

In the frenzied debate over Mexico's anti-Franco declaration, Assistant State Secretary James C. Dunn spoke for the United States delegation, Joseph Paul-Boncour declaimed for France, and Fernand Dehousse for Belgium. There was frequent applause as speakers vied with each other in abuse of the Spanish regime.

The Mexican declaration will be incorporated in the official records of the conference but not in the charter. It states that membership shall be closed "to states whose regimes were established with the help of military forces of countries that have waged war against countries of the united nations organization." Reference was made in the debate to messages of friendship sent by Franco to Mussolini and Hitler.

"The disappearance of Mussolini and Hitler," declared Luis Quintanilla, former Mexican ambassador to Moscow, "cannot erase the sins of the man Franco they placed in power."

BRITAIN, RUSSIA CAN OUTVOTE U.S. IN PEACE GROUP

Hold Power in Assembly, Core of League

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

San Francisco, Cal., June 19—While the world peace league's security council of 11 members, including the Big Five powers, will be the seat of action to preserve peace, the general assembly, composed of all member nations, will be the center of discussion, resolutions, and recommendations.

The general assembly will start off with the 50 member nations participating in the San Francisco conference, which is framing the peace league's charter. They are the nations that have declared war on the axis powers. The assembly can admit other nations later upon recommendation by the security council. A blackball by one of the Big Five powers — the United States, Great Britain, Russia, France, or China— or by five of the six small nation members of the council would keep a nation out. Russia, for example, at the present time would blackball Spain and Switzerland.

U. S. Has But One

Each nation may have five representatives in the general assembly but only one vote, according to the provisions of the charter. Two nations, however, have more than one vote. The British empire has six— the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and India. Russia has three — the Soviet Union, Byelorussia [White Russia], and the Ukraine. The United States, like the other member nations, will have one vote.

The British base their claim to six votes on the contention that the British dominions are independent nations, merely members of the British commonwealth of nations, each with its own independent government and foreign service and power to make treaties with other nations. The argument, of course, does not apply to India, which possesses none of these attributes of independence.

The British had six votes in the old league of nations also, to the one offered America. They were accorded six votes in 1919 before the dominions had been granted their present measure of independence by the statute of Westminster in 1931. The dominions cite their opposition to the United Kingdom on many votes in this conference as a demonstration that there is no British bloc. It was noted, however, that on the final vote in the veto controversy and on other important votes vital to the empire dominion opposition melted away.

Stalin's Maneuver

Russia has three votes in this conference and in the prospective peace league as the result of a neat maneuver by Russian Dictator Stalin at the Yalta conference. He proposed to Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt that the White Russians and the Ukrainians be admitted with one vote each. Stalin said these were autonomous republics like the other 13 soviet republics but he bespoke special consideration for these two because they have their own independent military establishments and foreign representatives and make treaties in their own right and because they had borne the brunt of the war on the eastern front.

Whether Mr. Roosevelt was aware of it or not Marshal Stalin was "pulling a fast one" there, for these two republics have no foreign service and have made no treaties and, autonomous only in local government, possess not a fraction of the independence of the British dominions. But Mr. Churchill, in view of the British empire's six votes, did not feel he could oppose a claim of two additional votes for Russia, scarcely less valid than the claim of the British dominions to independent votes in 1919.

Mystery of Yalta

Mr. Roosevelt's reaction to Stalin's request is one of the mysteries of the Yalta conference in the light of later developments. The President agreed to three votes for Russia with the counterproposal that if the San Francisco conference should allot the Soviets three votes he would ask three votes for the United States. Not six votes for America to equal Britain, but three votes for America to equal Russia. Mr. Stalin said he was agreeable to that and so said Mr. Churchill.

Several versions of the incident have been given by apologists for the late President. Some say Mr. Roosevelt was a very sick man at the time and unable to cope with the wiles of Stalin. From another source we have it that Mr. Roosevelt's agreement to three votes for Russia with a proviso of three votes for the United States originated with James F. Byrnes and Edward J. ["Paving Blocks"] Flynn, both of whom were with the President at Yalta.

This was one of the secret deals at Yalta. Nothing was said about it in the official communique or in the press conference that Byrnes flew home to hold. Mr. Roosevelt did not mention it in his personal report to congress. Then after Mr. Roosevelt had gone to Warm Springs the secret leaked out.

The effect was sensational. The American delegation to San Francisco was thrown into a state of confusion and consternation. Sen. Vandenberg [R., Mich.], who ever since writing it into the Mackinac island declaration had been the outstanding protagonist of "sovereign equality" of nations in the international organization, denounced the deal as an outrage. He said there was no color of fact or theory justifying more than one vote for Russia or for the United States, either. He thought the six votes for Britain justified by facts, in the case of the dominions, but usage in the case of India.

But because of the deal of three votes for Russia and three for the United States, Vandenberg threatened to resign from the delegation. That created consternation in the administration. It was absolutely essential to have Vandenberg at San Francisco to negotiate the peace league charter and deliver the Republican minority for its ratification in the senate. At least, it would be fatal if Vandenberg were to resign from the delegation and then possibly oppose the charter in the senate.

Vandenberg Mollified

In this crisis State Secretary Stettinius came up with a statement that Mr. Roosevelt would support three votes for Russia, if the claim should be pressed, but would waive his claim for three votes for the United States. It was hoped Stalin would drop his claim, in view of the embarrassment it had caused Mr. Roosevelt, and believed that if he should press the claim it would be defeated in the San Francisco conference by the small nations with a majority of the votes.

This mollified Vandenberg, and peace was restored to the American delegation. At San Francisco, however, Russian Foreign Commissar Molotov pressed the claim for three votes. Also, the American delegation decided to support it, not passively, but actively, because it offered a lever to be used on Russia in the Polish dispute.

Molotov was demanding the admission of the Polish puppet government set up by the soviets at Lublin. The Americans and British opposed this move on the ground Moscow had not lived up to the Yalta agreement to establish a broader democratic government of national unity in Poland. They proceeded to set Russia as example in good faith by living up to the Yalta agreement of three votes for Russia. Stettinius and Nelson Rockefeller delivered the votes of the Latin American countries for three votes for Russia, tho they had come to San Francisco against the proposition and capable of defeating it.

Poland Barred

Then the Latin Americans supported the United States and Britain in defeating Molotov's motion for the admission of the Polish puppet government and the United States and Britain supported the Latin Americans in getting Argentina admitted over Molotov's opposition.

The Russian delegations have disclosed the soviet intention of seeking the admission of the other 13 soviet republics to the league in due time. If these other divisions of the soviet union should be admitted as independent nations Moscow would have 16 votes in the league. Of course, a blackball by a single big power or five small nation would keep them out.

SENATE UNIT VOTES OWI DOUBLE THE FUNDS HOUSE GAVE

Washington, D. C., June 19 (AP)—Most of the money which the house cut from the office of war information's appropriation was restored today by a senate subcommittee.

The appropriations subcommittee, at a closed session, approved $39,750,000 for the agency for the year beginning July 1. A $42,000,000 budget bureau recommendation had been scaled down to $35,000,000 by the house appropriations committee, and the house slashed it further to $18,000,000.

In another action on a $900,000,000 supply bill for nearly two dozen war agencies, the senate subcommittee voted by a narrow margin to accede to house refusal to give any funds to the fair employment practices committee.

It was learned, however, that the attempt to amend the bill to include $599,000 approved by the budget buheau for FEPC had failed to win approval of the senate subcommittee by only one vote.

This led an influential southern subcommittee member to predict that the full senate appropriations committee will approve the money for FEPC when it considers the war agencies bill tomorrow.

U. S. TAX FRAUD OFFICE TO BE OPENED HERE

Washington, D. C., June 19 (AP)—Treasury Secretary Morgenthau announced action today which he said would enable the internal revenue bureau to review tax fraud cases faster before submitting them to the justice department for prosecution.

He enlarged and decentralized the penal division of the chief counsel's office of the bureau. This division now will have 10 field offices in which fraud cases will be reviewed with only general supervision from Washington.

Five of the offices will be established immediately in New York City, Philadelphia, Chicago, Kansas City, and San Francisco. The other five cities will be announced later.

Morgenthau said in a statement: "The purpose of this reorganization is to enable the penal division to handle more cases and handle them more expeditiously. We want no bottlenecks anywhere."

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Staff Sgt. Robert Freislinger

Staff Sgt. Robert Freislinger, 24, of 56 E. Chicago av., nose gunner in a bomber shot down over Wiener - Neustadt, Austria, in May, 1944, yesterday visited friends in THE TRIBUNE's rotogravure plant, which he left on military leave in October, 1942.

Freislinger was on his 27th mission and had one German plane and two "probables" to his credit when his plane was damaged by fighters. He and other crew members parachuted to safety and spent 11 months in German prison camps before they were liberated April 29 by units of the 3d army. He was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds suffered on his last flight.

After a 60 day furlough which he is spending with his parents, Julius and Clara, he will report to a reassignment center.

PROBE MOTOR TRIP BY RATION BOARD MEMBER

Cleveland, O., June 19 [Special]—Circumstances of an automobile trip from Cleveland to Lake Placid, N. Y., taken this week by Charles F. Carr, attorney and member of the gasoline panel of the Shaker Heights war price and rationing board, are under inquiry by the office of price administration.

This was announced today by W. J. Heddensheimer, OPA district enforcement officer, who said the OPA wants to find out where Carr got the gasoline to embark on a motor journey of this length. The round trip distance between Cleveland and Lake Placid is 1,078 miles, according to the Cleveland Automobile club.

Holds B Ration

Carr has an A gasoline ration card entitling him to two gallons of gasoline a week and a B card for 475 miles of occupational driving each three months.

Reached by telephone at Lake Placid, Carr said that he and his wife and daughter, Barbara, 15, are stopping at the North Woods inn there for a short vacation.

He said he drove from Cleveland to Syracuse on business, using his occupational gasoline allowance, and then drove an additional distance of "50 or 60 miles" to Lake Placid for vacation purposes.

Will Return by Train

"I'm going to leave the car here with my family and come back alone on the train," he said. "What's wrong with that?" He admitted, however, that his wife will drive the car back to Cleveland when her vacation is over.

The Cleveland Automobile club said that the distance from Syracuse to Lake Placid is 207 miles.

MATE OF ALICE DE TARNOWSKY BACK IN PRISON

Disclosure that Pvt. Charles L. F. McIntosh, husband of the former Alice Rand DeTarnowsky, Barrington heiress, is in the army disciplinary barracks at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., was made yesterday in Circuit court of Judge Michael Feinberg by Atty. Irving R. Campbell, representing the Metropolitan Trust company.

The hearing was called to cite Mrs. McIntosh for being $1,800 in arrears in payments for support of her three children, and for failure to pay $5,000 in attorneys fees to Joseph H. and Norman Becker, who represented her first husband, Capt. Alexis DeTarnowsky in a two year divorce fight.

Campbell also disclosed Mrs McIntosh was expecting a baby this month, and asked for time to talk with her regarding the support arreage and fees. He told the court that Pvt. McIntosh was sent to the army prison for the same reason that he was given a 10 year sentence Dec. 21, 1943, by a court martial at Fort Sheridan—for again honeymooning so long as to be considered by the army as being absent without leave.

Russian "Democracy" Comes to Rumania

LATELY relieved of Nazi dictatorship, Rumania now lives under the virtual domination of Soviet-sponsored government.

Now, from Soviet-occupied Bucharest, comes this plain spoken report, revealing the terrorist tactics used to place the Groza government in power. The suppression of press, radio and public gatherings. The disarming of all but the National Democratic Front.

Here, in significant and thought provoking facts, is one evidence of Russia's interpretation of the Declaration on Liberated Europe laid down at Yalta. Here is reading of major importance to all America.

IMMENSELY wealthy, one of the godliest of soldiers, hated by some, idolized by most of his men, Patton has been called the war's most spectacular and bewildering general.

A noted author who served as staff officer under his command gives you this frank and very personal portrait of the man who took five years to get through West Point, stopped the great Ardennes counter offensive cold, and wrote one of the most inspiring chapters in world history when he prayed for fair weather, and got it.

AP'S NEXT STEP

The Supreme court decided on Monday that the Associated Press has been violating the Sherman anti-trust law. The decision is the latest in a long line of cases interpreting the intention and scope of the statute. The majority of five justices held that some of the AP's acts and practices were in violation of this law. The minority of three took the contrary view.

The court was closely divided, as is indicated not only by the vote but also by the fact that five separate opinions were rendered, three concurring and two dissenting. The minority believes that the decision tends to destroy freedom in the Republic and, in effect, subjects the AP to censorship by the courts. Mr. Justice Roberts, speaking for himself and Mr. Chief Justice Stone, said:

"The decree here approved may well be and, I think, threatens to be, but a first step in the shackling of the press which will subvert the constitutional freedom to print . . ."

Mr. Justice Murphy, in his dissent, said:

"The tragic history of recent years demonstrates far too well how despotic governments may interfere with the press and other means of communication in their efforts to corrupt public opinion and to destroy individual freedom. Experience teaches us to hesitate before creating a precedent in which might lurk even the slightest justification for such interference by the government in these matters."

The majority disregarded these warnings. In this situation the obvious course is to turn to congress to ascertain its intention. Five judges say that congress meant the Sherman law to apply to coöperative news agencies and to the practices of the AP. Three say congress had no such idea in mind. Plainly, the last word lies with congress.

Both the majority and the minority give a broad hint to congress to speak its mind in a form which will leave no room for doubt. The majority says:

"It is significant that when congress has desired to permit coöperatives to interfere with the competitive system of business it has done so expressly by legislation."

The minority says: "The question is whether the Sherman act precludes such a coöperative arrangement" as was under consideration.

That is a question which only congress can answer in a form which will leave no doubt of its intention. It would never do for the Associated Press to accept the decree, with its clear threat of censorship, until all remedies have been exhausted; i. e., until congress has clearly indicated that it accepts the majority interpretation of the Sherman act.

The matter should be pressed upon the attention of congress if only to avoid the consequences of giving the courts permanent control over a news gathering agency. That is what the decree calls for, as the language of the majority makes plain:

"If, as the government apprehends, the decree in its present form should not prove adequate to prevent further discriminatory trade restraints against nonmember newspapers, the court's retention of the cause will enable it to take the necessary measures to cause the decree to be fully and faithfully carried out."

That is to say, the Associated Press and every publication which uses its service will be under continual threat of interference from the court. Mr. Justice Roberts knows what that means.

"From now on," he says, "AP is to operate under the tutelage of the court. . . . However the by-laws may be amenued and whatever judicial blessing may be given the new text, it is certain that every refusal to deal with any newspaper will evoke a fresh exercise of the judicial guardianship." He went on to say that this is a long first step toward "the shackling of the press."

The members of the Associated Press have a plain duty in the matter. In the interest of everybody's freedom from governmental interference with expression and opinion, these newspapers should urge congress to clarify its intention.

LONG PARLIAMENT AND LONG CONGRESS

The British parliament disbanding in preparation for next month's general elections will have sat continuously for nine years and seven months. That is a modern record for longevity, altho the present parliament hardly compares with some of recent centuries, among which were the parliament of 1572-'84, the Long parliament of 1640-'53, and the Pensionary parliament of 1661-'79. The first World war parliament, which came into being Jan. 31, 1911, sat only for seven years and 10 months.

While there are some parallels to parliament in the American congress, the distinctions are far more significant. By law, congress is required to meet annually on Jan. 3. The sessions have been of varying duration, but, except during the first World war, it was virtually without precedent for congress to sit continuously thruout a full year, let alone continue indefinitely in session.

Since Jan. 3, 1940, however, congress has been in almost continuous session, but the personnel of congress has undergone the review of the electorate and has been subjected to change three times, whereas the composition of the British parliament has been substantially unaltered from the general election of Nov. 26, 1935, to the present day. There has been no general election in the 10 years and the occasional by-elections to fill vacancies have resulted in little significant change.

The dominant Conservative party held 387 seats in 1935 and holds 347 now. The satellite government parties held 44 seats in 1935 and hold 39 now. The principal opposition party, Labor, held 154 seats in 1935 and has added only 16 since. The remainder of the 631 seats are held by splinter parties of little importance.

In the United States biennial congressional elections since 1940 have provided a popular check upon the behavior of the national legislature, even if they have not transferred control from the Democrats. The closest approach to Democratic loss of the house occurred in the 1942 election, when the Republicans cut the New Deal majority to 13. The judgment of the electorate was always a sufficiently immediate force to be reckoned with so that the administration could not afford to disregard public opinion completely.

In Britain, however, the Conservative majority has been able to proceed for almost 10 years without being called to account. The same group which formed government policy thruout the Ethiopian and Spanish wars, which did not oppose Hitler's reoccupation of the Rhineland, and which assented to the Munich decree dooming Czechoslovakia, was also in power all thru the war with Germany.

Whatever judgments one might be tempted to render concerning the relative ability, independence, and good sense of the British parliament and the American congress, it is impossible to overlook the advantages offered by the American constitutional system. Men and policies cannot get too far away from the people when they are subject to an accounting every two years at the polls, where the verdict can retire the men from public life and veto the policies which they and their leaders represent.

It is impossible to conjecture what consequences there might have been for this country had the 74th congress of 1935, with a Democratic majority of 322 members against a Republican opposition of 103, remained continuously in power for 10 years. The last check upon executive government, to say the least, would have long since disappeared.

BRIBED WITH OUR OWN MONEY

The justice department's recent report that foreign governments had spent 13 million dollars for propaganda in the United States in the two and one-half years thru the end of 1944 demonstrates that to an unimagined degree American opinion is controled in the interests of other nations. There is no question that the money was used to gain editorial support, win the services of columnists and radio commentators, and control the politics of the United States.

Inasmuch as the New Deal all thru this period was devoted to foreign rather than American interests, much of these propaganda expenditures were employed to support and maintain the position of the administration. A tremendous campaign fund was thus at the vicarious service of the New Deal, with no necessity of any accounting or obligation to keep within the legal limits placed on campaign expenditures.

The report shows that the British information service alone was able to place no less than 1,285 articles reflecting favorably on British interests in some of the largest magazines in the country. Commentators were provided with a constant flow of material slanted to British taste for American radio audiences. Every day of the year an average of 10 British speakers appeared before large audiences to influence their views in Britain's favor. Newspaper handouts, motion pictures, and books were all used to advance the empire's causes.

These activities on the part of Britain and 14 other foreign governments continue unabated. Only the other day a newspaper supplement with a national circulation presented an article on the campaign of the British 14th army against the Japanese in Burma. The writer, Maj. Frank Owen, a British public relations officer, celebrated the campaign as a strictly British triumph, slighting the contributions of the Americans and Chinese also fighting in Burma. "These men," he said of his British compatriots, "inflicted the greatest land defeat ever suffered by the imperial arms."

Maj. Owen estimated Japanese dead in the campaign at 150,000. He certainly is aware that Gen. MacArthur, during the Philippines campaign, has killed 400,000 Japs, but that did not prevent him from calling Britain's campaign "the greatest land defeat" sustained by Japan. The assumption seems to be that, fed enough propaganda, the American public will lose all interest in the facts.

The design of all this propaganda has been to establish a climate in American public opinion favorable to the continuance of the New Deal in its slavish devotion to British and other foreign interests. Our military rescue was one dividend. Lend-lease to the tune of 39 billion dollars was another. The activities of our representatives at the San Francisco conference, where we support imperialist subjection of colonial peoples and pledge ourselves to defend a status quo in which Russia and the British, French, and Dutch empires are confirmed in their ill gotten gains, are still another pay-off.

What makes the joke on us the more ironic is that the bribe money expended by foreign propaganda machines is only a trifling part of the huge lend-lease which it obtained thru the bribery.

SHEAR IMPERTINENCE

[Christian Science Monitor]

So the Michigan State Barbers association has passed a resolution discouraging the reading of newspapers in barber chairs because it stiffens the reader's neck! Every newspaper worthy of its ink is used to subscribers' protests that certain articles or editorials give them a "pain in the neck." But the barbers' indictment of newspapers as a whole is the unkindest cut of all.

Could it be that the tonsorial gatherers and purveyors of news resent competition? Or could their reaction be similar to the wife's whose husband reads at the breakfast table, and, if so, are they removing once and for all the temptation to throw the shaving mug? Of course, the papers themselves may be responsible for the stiffening suggestion. There has been no end lately of headlines such as "Britain Stiffens Attitude in Syrian Crisis," or "Stiff Stand Taken on Veto."

STAR OF DESTINY

The founder of this column, Bert Leston Taylor, adopted a star named Canopus, about which he wrote verses that are still quoted:

When quacks with pills political would dope us,
When politics absorbs the livelong day,
I like to think about the star Canopus,
So far, so far away.

The present editor, altho fond of tradition, has rejected Canopus as a guiding star. It is not visible in this latitude; indeed, there is no evidence that B. L. T. ever saw the luminary which he claimed, "conduces to repose." We have chosen, instead, a star that is almost overhead in Chicago's summer skies and much more important to life on this planet. It is the brightest star in the northern hemisphere and bears the name of Vega.

* * *

Let us consider the possibilities of Vega for settling political arguments and conducing to repose. The earth, as a part of the solar system, is swooping toward Vega at a speed of 400,000,000 miles a year. But Vega isn't running away from this threat. O, no, it is driving toward the solar system at a speed of 300,000,000 miles a year. A collision seems inevitable, and when that happens the problems of the human race will be permanently solved.

* * *

The astronomers who offer this theory of the end of the world assure us that there is no reason to worry. They say consolingly that the catastrophe, if it happens, will come 300,000 years hence. Nevertheless, keep an eye on Vega.

* * *

For curing ills from alpha to omega,
For ending war, and hate, and toil, and dearth,
I place a bet upon the star named Vega—
It has a date with Earth.

ON THE RIGHT OF WAY

Dandelions button the railroad right of way
With golden buttons and the sward is fastened to stay;
The telegraph poles and the wires are humming;
It may be a freight or a double-header coming.
Walk the rails if you can with arms outspread,
But over the culvert, watch your step, keep your head;
Skip a stone and the chorus of frogs will stop,
But down there in the weeds something goes kerplop!
Minnows are darting where the blue flag is rank,
And strawberries ripen far up on the bank.
Four men with a handcar go clickety-clack!
We climb high on the bank and give them the track.
When a train shakes the ground with rumble of thunder,
We run to the fence and we all roll under,
For the railroad right of way is ours,
Going to school, loitering, picking ripe berries and flowers.

"No Help, Please"

INTERROGATOR—Our first contestant is Mrs. Bloom, a housewife from Waxahatche, Tex. How do you do, Mrs. Bloom? How long have you been in town? How do you like our city? Have you seen anything that especially interested you? Thank you! Now don't be nervous. Our first question has to do with mathematics. Listen carefully. Does 2+2 equal 3, 5, or 4? Now think hard.

CONTESTANT [timidly]—Could it be 3?

INTERROGATOR—Now you're getting places, Mrs. Bloom! Keep thinking. I was out at the golf course today and some one shouted: "Fore! Fore!" No help, please.

CONTESTANT—Could it be 5?

INTERROGATOR—You're getting warm, Mrs. Bloom. Remember what Patrick Henry said: "Don't give up the ship!"

CONTESTANT [enthusiastically]—Four!

INTERROGATOR [excited]—Wonderful! Extraordinary! Terrific! Marvelous! Remarkable! Prodigious! Overwhelming! Colossal! That answer is absolutely right! Let's give the little lady a big hand!

STRENGTH FROM STARS

Let dreary routine pile up mundane chores
Against my kitchen chart and threaten dreams,
I will shoo dust and mop corroded floors,
Sew neatly all the stubborn-parted seams;
I will not rue the drab, deflated cake
That loomed so luscious in the magazine,
Felicity is mine each night to take
When evening drapes her velvet-cushioned sheen;
Let mundane tasks pursue me in vast droves,
Their burden will grow light when night time brings
The studded windows set in dark blue groves,
Where scintillating planets stir like wings.
There's fortitude in gazing at a star,
The beauty gained no day time task can mar.

The merchant marine still is seeking men from 17 to 50 for training in deck, engine, steward, radio, and the purser-hospital corps departments. Volunteers may apply for enlistment at the enrolling office, 844 Rush st. Men who volunteer for merchant marine service are not subject to the draft and are entitled to reëmployment in their old jobs under the selective service and training law.

Volunteers in the naval reserve and those who were drafted and assigned to the navy may apply for discharge after they have reached their 42d birthdays. Men stationed in the United States will be released within three months and those at sea or overseas within six months. Disability pension and unemployment compensation may not be obtained at the same time ordinarily.

LUNG COLLAPSE

THE lungs are contained in a bony cage [the thorax] and are separated from the inner wall of this structure by the pleural cavity. Normally the area resembles a vacuum in that it is free of air. If it were not for this phenomenon, the lungs could not remain expanded. Should air enter the space, a condition known as "pneumothorax" occurs. The increased pressure about the lung causes it to collapse.

In the treatment of certain forms of tuberculosis the physician actually employs this principle so that the involved organ is placed in a state of at least partial rest, depending upon the amount of air injected. The process must be repeated every week or two as absorption takes place rather quickly. One of the advantages of this therapy is that, in suitable cases, the patient can be up and about rather than confined to bed.

If a wound is made in the chest wall thru injury by a bullet or knife, the outside atmosphere finds its way into the cavity. If the perforation is not closed, more will pour in with each breath. In time, so much will be admitted that all the structures in this region are crowded, interfering with respiration and heart function.

Another type, called "spontaneous pneumothorax," derives its name from the mode of onset. Without warning, air gains access to the pleural sac by way of a lung. In healthy individuals one of the tiny air cells near the edge breaks, thereby permitting air to penetrate. It is no different than a small cut in an inner tube which allows air to escape within the casing of the tire.

If a lung is diseased near its surface, an opening may appear more easily. Advanced tuberculosis is a common cause and it seems strange that we have patterned our modern treatment along nature's lines. The only difference is that we do it early and we are able to control the amount that is injected. But the disorder may occur for no apparent reason or it may follow violent coughing or unusual exertion.

The patient usually suffers excruciating pain over the outer aspect of the chest, associated with a sensation as if something within had been torn. Shortness of breath is experienced, its severity depending upon the size of the rent and the quantity of air that is present. Many become pale and feel faint. The pulse is rapid and the blood pressure falls. In a few, however, the derangement develops with little discomfort.

As the lung becomes immobilized the hole is sealed. During the period that gas is being dissipated, the opening usually heals, but three to six weeks may pass before full expansion can be expected.

In most victims the outlook is good. Bed rest is advised until symptoms disappear. The patient can then be up and about but activity must be restricted. Occasionally the air is removed with a syringe and this procedure may prove lifesaving when breathing is seriously impaired.

Pneumothorax cannot be considered a disease. The underlying cause must be found, altho in many individuals a thoro search will reveal no abnormality. It is probable that in this group, a small air sac ruptures, due to some inherent weakness. Those who are susceptible should avoid strain of all kinds.

No Chg No Ldry No Hswk No Hm

This department made its annual checkup on home and housework possibilities the other day and reports with regret that things aren't a bit better than they were last year. From the standpoint of the consumer they are, if anything, a little worse.

Our survey was made in the Wanted to Rent and the Help Wanted: Women divisions of the classified ads, and we must say that the homeless public has gone hog-wild in telling, in small type, its most intimate secrets in an attempt to work up sympathy from that turnip, the landlord, and so get a roof over its head. Such a mound of bathos has not hit a linotype machine since Elsie Dinsmore's cruel papa threatened to horsewhip her right after the Civil war. The homeless generally want 5 or 6 room apartments, but they will take 5, 4, 3, 2, or even 1 lt. hskp. rm., and for any of these wonders will pay from 6 months' to a year's rent in advance.

They say, insistently, that their need is urgent, that their homes have just been sold over their heads, as tho this is going to make an iota of difference to the person firmly entrenched [with a lease] in the apartment they would like to have. They say they are des. and have no child. or pets. They say they are two adults with the husband draft exempt, newlyweds who "need help," a mid. age. lady not emp. with refs., or a gentleman, 30, des. comf. rm. nr. trns., pvt., reas., refs. char. and cred., imm. poss., which could mean immense possum but probably means immediate possession.

One wifely plea, which did everything but violate military security, inserted: "NAVAL Lt. [Capt., l. s. t., overseas 1 yr.] many invasions, anticipates leave; empl. wife; 1-3 rm. furn. apt. before his arrival. Pls." One went to the other violent extreme with: "I NEED A BATH and 5 or 8 rms. to go with it; family of 4; in spite of this nonsense I am a resp. exec. who will pay to $135 for the right hm. and take out ins. against any poss. damage; perm." He probably will say to his wife for months: "See! I told you that wretched nonsense wouldn't do any good!"

Equally pathetic [and hard to read, unless you've been working at it for months] are the inducements offered by prospective employes of domestic help. No philosopher ever dreamed up a more perfect Utopia than they offer the little women who aren't there. It is no ckg., no ldry., no hswk., no windows, no child., no pets, own rm., bath and rdio., and/or an annuity, vacations with pay, a month at the seashore, a $100 bonus at the end of a year. They offer security, spelling it in capital letters, secld'd surrdgs. with gd. tr., air conditioning, five hrs. per day 5 days per wk. choose yr. hrs., transportation to and from, go or stay, and reversed charges on the telephone call in which prospectee calls, inquires, and says no. Apparently no one yet has thought of offering meat two meals a day, but it is sure to come. Also bacon for breakfast.

The saddest we found went like this: "Room and brd. for Jap.-Amer. girl. Please call again. You can learn to cook." We have worried for 24 hours over that one. What happened?

All of which reminds us of a lady we know, Hazel Duncan, the poet, who is fortunate enough to live in an apt. hotel which has md. srvc. Not long ago a friend who had an oversupply of petunia plants asked if she could use any. She could, but was surprised when 500 came, for she could only use about 12. However, she planted these, left the others in a large kettle in the kitchen sink, and at noon that day came home to get them to give to some friends. Her maid, an eager worker, had left a note: "Dear Miss Duncan: I have cleaned the mustard greens for you. I have washed and washed and washed, and I have taken out all the stones and mud, but I think you'll have to wash them again." There, in the bottom of the kettle, a tiny beaten-down mass of green pulp, were the petunias, ready for supper.

WHY CIGARS ARE SCARCE

Chicago, June 12—A story states that "the cigar supply is less satisfactory than that of cigarets," as alleged by an attorney for cigar manufacturing interests. Trouble for this alleged shortage of moderately priced cigars is blamed on the OPA. That is substantially correct, from my point of view.

After almost 40 years of cigar selling and cigar manufacturing, I was obliged to suspend operations about two years ago and devote sales talent to other products. My heart cried out for the suffering man who could not purchase a wholesome clear Havana for what his pegged salary could afford, so I surrendered my job in that "other products" line and returned to Tampa last January.

Lo and behold, I found that the entire cigar industry was under dominance of the said OPA. Here is a fight, thought I, so I'll get in it. Making a sample of an all-Havana size to offer the suffering cigar smoking public at 12½ cents each retail, I sent it on to Washington on Feb. 12, together with the necessary form 635-2078 in duplicate, asking authority to manufacture and sell the same. Today is June 12th and no permission has come. To make and sell the cigar without the OPA authority would subject me to severe financial penalty.

Meanwhile, I came back to Chicago with two sizes approved by OPA, a 20 center and an 18 center. After producing for three months at a small loss a 20 per cent roll back was announced, which would be necessary if we were to maintain a "weighted average." To have done this, we would have lost approximately $2,000 a week on an approximate production of 60,000 cigars. So my partner in this enterprise closed the shop and ceased business.

That made it twice the OPA put me out of business.

TRAINING FOR CITIZENSHIP

Lake Villa, Ill., June 8—I was most surprised to find that Boys' state and Girls' state had been discontinued for this year because the ODT thought it not worthy enough. I'm wondering, therefore, if the ODT thought horse racing, in which train travel is employed, was so much more important than teaching the young people about state and national movement. I don't think that such a worthy youth movement should be put aside. Discontinue Boys' and Girls' states, but sports and pleasure trips go on. That's what it boils down to.

TRUCKING STRIKERS

PILSEN, Czechoslovakia, June 2—In a letter which I received from my Winnetka home today, I read that the army had to drive the food trucks in the Chicago area as the truck drivers were on strike. I don't know any of the details about why the drivers are striking, but it seems to me that, if they are not only satisfied but thankful that they are living in Chicago, to say nothing of just being home and not at the front, there are a lot of us who would gladly trade places with them.

Over here we are told, and our officers mean what they say, that if we complain too much about the food or anything else that we will be sent direct to the China-Burma-India theater. I'm in the 2d infantry division, which has been in the thick of it since D plus 1. Why should we go to the C-B-I when there are truck drivers who think, evidently, that it is patriotic to go on strike so that soldiers can do their work for them?

ICELAND FACES SHOW WHAT GIs WON: RESPECT

Early Indifference Turns Into Affection

BY WILLIAM STRAND

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, June 8 [By mail]—These islanders, many of whom turned stony faces to arriving United States occupation forces more than three years ago, stayed to marvel at the mechanical ingenuity of the visitors, and finally fell under the spell of the good humored American doughboy.

They saw camps and hospitals go up almost overnight, watched amazed as the bulldozers hammered out roads and leveled off camping space, and saw trucks and jeeps pour off the transports in astonishing numbers. Military security kept them from looking, but the islanders heard tales of the vast air field the newcomers were building on the isolated Keflavik peninsula to the south.

There is little doubt that the Icelanders feel both respect and affection for the Yanks. It's in the air and in the glances of the people passing on the streets, even in the thrill voices of the street urchins—"Hello, Joe. Candy? Chew gum?"

Service Builds Good Will

Behind the friendly relations between the island people and the troops are hundreds of incidents:

An army signal corps technician was sent to an isolated community to learn why the sound equipment in a movie house failed to work properly. The soldier listened, inspected the interior of the building, and hung burlap sacking on the rear wall. The sound was perfect after that and the villagers shouted their gratitude.

A baker tried in every way he knew, consulting available physicians, to rid himself of a rash on his arm. It affected his business by interfering with his mixing of dough. Finally he turned to an American army doctor, who found it was a simple case of allergy and prescribed a remedy.

American planes have helped the Icelanders find lost fishing boats and have carried sick and injured from out of the way places to hospitals.

Unhappy Episodes Forgotten

The early days of the occupation were marred by incidents between soldiers and civilians—four serious ones, all told—that might have led to a serious complication. There was a case of rape and three shootings in which civilians were killed. But little is heard now about the episodes.

"Your soldiers made a fine impression and they will be pleasantly remembered," the island's president, Sveinn Bjornsson, said.

American-Iceland relations reached the peak of good will on V-E day, when riots broke out between British sailors from royal navy camp and civilians in Reykjavik's main square on two successive days. Scores of American soldiers were in the town but none was in any way involved.

Morgunbladid, Reykjavik's biggest morning newspaper, said a few British sailors were under the influence of liquor and groups walked about the city singing. It added:

"Soon a great crowd assembled around them. Several British climbed up the statue of Ingolfur Arnarson [poet and statesman] in order to place the British flag there. It was prevented by British police."

Tear Gas Quiets Mob

Subsequently, the paper said, the throng began hurling stones thru scores of store windows. Civilian police and British shore patrols tried to quiet the mob with their clubs and then used tear gas.

This was not the first occasion that the island has showed its resentment of British activities. In the minds of many, Iceland's inflation began when the British arrived in 1940 and immediately hired hundreds of civilians to work on the building of the Reykjavik air field, paying overtime to speed the work. This created a labor shortage and wages and prices began to skyrocket.

The Reykjavik airport, built primarily to supply cover for the harbor installations and for submarine patrols, was another point of contention. The British built it inside the capital without consulting them, say the islanders, and homes were torn down.

British seizure of school buildings for billeting disrupted the island educational program. This was before Hitler's invasion of Russia and Iceland Communists were loud in their protests over the occupation. When the British arrested two communist members of the parliament [althing] and a communist editor, and took them to England, it was widely regarded as an affront to the sovereignty of Iceland.

DAY by DAY on the FARM

By GAIL COMPTON

June 19, 1945.

THE manager at the Fox river farm sets a very nice table for his hogs. In human equivalents, the hogs are given a free choice of sirloin steak, turkey, salad, vegetable, and apple pie. They can eat as much or as little as they want.

Available to the animals in self-feeders are ground oats mixed with pig and sow meal—a protein supplement. In another feeder, alfalfa leaf meal is mixed with a little tankage, or meat scraps. Another feeder offers a hog mineral that peps up appetites and makes the animals gain faster. Feeds are vitamin enriched. Each morning, ear corn is scattered in a clean spot for the hogs. On top of all this, the spring pigs are running in a field of rye and alfalfa, these supplying plenty of salad.

Hogs Watch Their Diet

Hogs are well known for their ability to eat a balanced meal without human interference. If the correct foods are placed before them, they will eat enough of each item to make a completely rounded diet. This is one of the main reasons for popularity of self-feeders in hog raising.

There is another item in the hog lot that is seldom found. In the drinking trough—much the same as a horse trough—there hangs a small white sack. Once every few days the manager gives the sack a squeeze, and the water turns milky as the powder in the sack dissolves. The powder is calcium carbonate.

Take to Lime Water

The powder turns the hogs' drinking water into what many know as "lime water." That it is enjoyed is demonstrated by the fact that there are two troughs side by side, but only one contains the lime sack. The hogs drink almost exclusively from the trough holding the lime water. The manager believes the sweetened water helps to build good bones, keeps his animals in good condition, and reduces the danger of disease.

He first started using lime water for his hogs after using it for years on feeder cattle brought in from the west to be fed out on the farm. Many old timers recommended the procedure as a good preventive of shipping fever and other ailments likely to strike a steer after a long railroad trip.

The calcium carbonate appeared to help the cattle, so the manager has been trying it out on the hogs. Results so far indicate the lime water is good for the hogs. They are finicky animals and will not often touch food or water liable to harm them, so their love of lime water gives it approval.

The GARDEN by Ben Markland

WEEDS are a serious menace to middle western gardens this year. Rains have left many plots so wet that it is impractical for gardeners to cultivate between the rows. Gardeners can do more harm than good by weeding a plot when the surface is muddy, because they pack the ground and cause formation of clods.

The best time to cultivate a garden is several days after a rain, when a rake or cultivator can be used without "caking" the topsoil.

Many gardeners overlook the weeds around their vegetable plots, but these also should be kept under control. Such control is valuable in combating garden insects, many of which are harbored in the tall vegetation. The new weed killer containing 2-4D chemical should be useful for spraying against weeds around a garden, because it destroys bindweed, chickweed, and all other broadleaved growths without killing the grass.

34 DE PAUL LAW GRADUATES HOLD CLASS REUNION

Thirty-four of the 67 members of the 1920 class of the De Paul university law school attended the 25th anniversary dinner in the Bismarck hotel last night. Speakers were the Rev. Comerford J. O'Malley, president of the university, and J. Edward Davey, chief of the finance division of the interstate commerce commission in Washington, D. C., and president of the class.

Class members who attended included Judges Cornelius J. Harrington of the Circuit court and Rudolph Desort of the Superior court, Municipal Judges Stephen Adamowski, George L. Quilici, Mason S. Sullivan, and Jay A. Schiller, and Ald. Grealis [44th].

Atty. Justin G. Turner came all the way from Los Angeles, Cal. He said he had trouble getting train reservations until he showed the ticket agent the "summons" sent him as notice of the meeting. That got results, he said.

FRENCH WORRIED BY WORLD'S VIEW ON OUTBREAKS

BY DAVID DARRAH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, June 19—The French expressed alarm today at the trend of reaction in foreign countries to an impression given that anarchy and lawlessness are prevailing in France.

The attack on a train carrying Spaniards from Switzerland to Spain by a mob at Chambery, which, it is alleged, was stirred up by Communists, was at first not given much attention here, but now it has government circles disturbed and an investigation is promised.

The French police are blamed today for failure to control the Chambery mob, but it is said they feared to act because of higher ups.

Call Action Justified

The French Communists continued to insist that returning Spanish militiamen were on the train attacked at Chambery, and that mob action was justified. This is officially denied.

Other French circles express uneasiness over the fact that abroad the Chambery train attacks are believed related to other disorder and unruliness in France. In recent weeks, since the return of prisoners and deportees, many persons have been given summary justice on the ground that they were identified as denouncers of returned Frenchmen.

There appears to be no doubt now that the Chambery attack was fomented by the Reds. The French are embarrassed because the passage of the Spanish across France was granted in exchange for Spanish permission to let 30,000 French cross Spain from Africa to France.

Another incident occurred near Moulins. Agence France Press—unofficial French news agency—reported from Mauriac that three returned French deportees seized their former boss, dragged him off, and made the gendarmes arrest and imprison him at Aurillac. Gossonat had denounced them, the returned workers said.

Shot to Death in Church

Another incident is reported by the same agency from Le Mans. In a church at Luche-Pringe in the Sarthe department, Fernand Fouqueray, 59, shot and killed Raymond Busson, 56, sacristan of the church. He said Busson was a collaborationist.

There have been disorders in Marseille. Rioting broke out between Senegalese and North Africans. Police reinforcements have been asked for a "moral cleanup" of the town, where black marketing continues unabated, says the French News agency.

MISSING WOMAN, 40, HUNTED TO EXPLAIN SHORTAGE OF $7,700

Police started a search yesterday for Mrs. Dorothy Mooney, 40, for questioning about an alleged shortage of $7,700 from a currency exchange at 1405 W. 63d st., where the woman was employed. Dayton Ballis, the owner, said she closed the exchange Saturday night and failed to appear for work Monday. Ballis reported another employe who opened the place Monday found a note on the safe that read: "Don't blame any one for this but me. Dorothy." Englewood policemen who went to her apartment at 6139 Ellis av. learned that she had left Saturday night with her two daughters.

An invalid, in the face of apparently hopeless conditions, turns to Christian Science and is healed.

A negotiator between industrial employers and employees comes against "a stone wall," and through the kind of thinking taught in Christian Science finds the wall opening — arrives at a formula in the interest of all concerned and acceptable to them all.

Fundamental in the teaching of Jesus, Christian Science shows, is the fact that there is a satisfactory answer to every question, social, economic, therapeutic, or of any other sort. And this Science reveals the technique for finding the answer always, as its students continually prove.

The complete explanation of Christian Science and its method of overcoming disease and other limitations and evils is given in

PLAN LIE TEST OF MERCHANT IN ELEVATOR DEATH

Charge Gaps in Story of Rockford Mystery

Cecil Robbel

Rockford, Ill., June 19 [Special]—State's Atty. Max Weston said tonight he would take Cecil Robbel, 45, wealthy appliance dealer, to Chicago tomorrow for a lie detector test unless Robbel before then clears up gaps in his account of the mysterious "elevator" death of a service man's attractive wife, who had been visiting him in his bachelor apartment.

"Even if this was an accident, and I don't believe it was, a second person was involved in it," the prosecutor said.

Robbel, manager of the Rockford Universal Electric company, is held without charge in the county jail here while police investigate the death of Mrs. Ruth Blanche Campbell, 36, whose third husband, Pvt. P. J. Campbell, is serving on an army hospital ship.

A Chicago Tribune reporter attempted to talk to Robbel in his cell, but only succeeded in getting surly answers to questions.

Second Elevator Victim

Mrs. Campbell, the second woman killed in the elevator in three years after visits to Robbel's apartment, was found fatally crushed last night in the cage in the downtown four story building which houses Robbel's company and in which he has a swank six room apartment on the top floor.

Robbel called police to the scene and admitted the woman had been in his apartment more than four hours, but asserted he knew nothing about her death. Thru hours of questioning he insisted she was still in his apartment at 11 p. m. when he left to get a cup of coffee.

Clutched in the fingers of the brunette woman, who had been employed as Robbel's clerk and stenographer for a week, were several strands of light colored hair.

The hair was sent to the FBI laboratory in Washington, D. C., to be analyzed, and a report was expected by Thursday.

Warm Coffee on Stove

On a stove in the apartment police found a pot of still warm coffee and they said employes of the restaurant to which Robbel asserted he went had denied he obtained coffee there.

Also in the apartment were a number of pieces of women's wearing apparel, an empty whisky bottle, 10 soft drink bottles, and many cigaret stubs, some with lipstick on them.

Police who found Mrs. Campbell's body in a pool of blood in the elevator at the first floor said her coat was wet as tho it had been washed shortly before. Investigators later reported a chemical analysis showed blood had been removed from the coat.

Body Badly Battered

Her body was badly battered. She had suffered a crushed chest, broken shoulder, fractured jaw, broken collarbone, and contusions about her face. Blood stains were on the door side of the elevator shaft from the first to the third floor.

Police recalled that a Rockford nurse, Mary Burton, 26, had suffered similar fatal injuries on June 26, 1942, when she was found dying on the top of the cage on the first floor after a visit to the twice divorced Robbel's top floor apartment. Robbel was questioned intensively then but was released and a coroner's jury held her death was an accident.

While authorities pressed their inquiry into the second case, Robbel's attorney, Clifford Pederson, sought his release thru a writ of habeas corpus on which Circuit Judge William R. Dusher ordered a hearing Thursday.

PASTORS ASKED TO HELP NORTH SIDE'S CLEAN-UP

Thirty clergymen of many denominations yesterday heard proposals that near north side churches cooperate with other civic institutions and groups to improve living conditions in the area between Randolph st. and Diversey pkwy. from Lake Michigan to the north branch of the Chicago river. Dirty streets and alleys, insufficient playground space, and poorly keptup schools and houses were among the specific subjects discussed.

The meeting was held in the Drake hotel. The Rev. H. G. Twietmeyer of Grace Lutheran church presided. Other speakers included Randolph Bohrer, chairman of the civic committee of the North Central association. The committee is in charge of the association's "better community" campaign.

Sunrise is scheduled for 5:15 a. m. and sunset at 8:29, a total of 15 hours and 14 minutes of day time.

U. S. JUDGES FINE 2 DEFENDANTS IN RATIONING CASES

Sol Michaels, 37, of 142-A N. Central av., a former grocery salesman, charged with illegal possession and sale of ration coupons good for 4,465 pounds of sugar, pleaded guilty yesterday before Federal Judge Walter J. La Buy. He was fined $2,000 and placed on probation for two years.

Bond of $3,000 was fixed for Zachary Taylor Pedicini, 25, of 3624 Augusta blvd., when he was arraigned before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on charges of attempting to obtain four tires on counterfeit certificates. Hearing was set for June 28.

WRITER DIES FOR MURDER OF RICH EMPLOYER

Wethersfield, Conn., June 19 (AP)—Nicholas A. Rossi, 32 year old writer of murder mysteries, college graduate, former law student, and onetime professional boxer, died in the electric chair at state prison last night for the murder of Mrs. Hedwig Wegner of Plainville.

Left in prison was Rossi's half-brother, Robert, who is serving a life term for the same crime. Both were employed by Mrs. Wegner, a wealthy elderly woman.

The Rossis were principals in one of the most bizarre cases in Connecticut criminal history. Robert Rossi posed as his half-brother's wife and worked as Mrs. Wegner's maid.

Mrs. Wegner's bludgeoned body was discovered in a garage behind her house on Sept. 22, 1943, and the Rossis, born at Montreal of the same Italian mother but different Negro fathers, were arrested while driving Mrs. Wegner's car in Missouri several days later.

WLB ORDERS END OF 15 DAY STRIKE AT DONNELLEY'S

Striking employes of the R. R. Donnelley & Sons company printing plant, 350 E. Cermak rd., yesterday were ordered to return to work "immediately without discrimination" by the national war labor board in Washington, D. C. The board said the strike was "in violation of the national no-strike, no-lockout agreement."

Officers of the five striking unions last night referred the WLB order to the organizing committee of the Chicago Printing Trades council for further study. The officers are Joseph J. Seppi, chairman; Larry Gruber, vice chairman; John J. Pilch, organizer, and Nicholas M. Di Pietro, executive secretary.

The union men walked out on June 5 after a stalemate in negotiation of a contract which included a demand for a union shop.

DOUGHNUTS AID TO SALVATION ARMY TAG DAY

Tagging for the Salvation Army doughnut day took a new twist in the Merchandise Mart and North Western station yesterday morning where taggers offered contributors real doughnuts supplied for the occasion by a chain grocery company. The idea caught on so fast that there were requests for coffee, too, and later that was supplied to go with the 50 dozen doughnuts while they lasted. Approximately 4,500 workers sold the paper doughnut tags yesterday in Chicago and suburbs.

WIFE TELLS HOW 'PLAYING DEAD' FOILED KILLER

Shelbyville, Ill., June 19 [Special]—Orville Bundy, 28, a railroad switchman, was found guilty of murder by Circuit Judge Franklin R. Dove here tonight after Bundy's divorced wife, Delores, testified she saved her own life by "playing dead" after Bundy had shot her sister.

Delores said that when a bullet from Bundy's gun grazed her neck she dropped to the floor and for several agonizing minutes pretended she had been killed while Bundy stood over her debating whether to fire another shot. He finally walked out without doing so.

Didn't Dare Move

Beside her on the floor, and suffering from a fatal wound, was her sister, Mrs. Barbara Allen, 20, wife of a soldier in the Pacific. Mrs. Allen, whom Bundy blamed for his domestic difficulties with Delores, had been struck by the first shot fired by Bundy. The shooting took place March 15 in Mrs. Allen's home in nearby Moweaqua.

"Even after he left, I didn't dare move," Mrs. Bundy said. "I was afraid he would come back or look in a window and that if he saw I was alive he would surely kill me. I didn't know how badly my sister was hurt. I called to her to shut her eyes and not move and we lay that way for five minutes. Then I crawled to another room and got a telephone."

Mrs. Allen died the next day in Decatur's St. Mary's hospital.

Death Penalty Sought

Judge Dove ordered Bundy brought into court at 10 a. m. tomorrow for sentence. State's Atty. Eugene Bland of Shelby county said tonight he will ask the court to impose the death penalty.

Bundy, testifying in his own defense after his former wife left the stand, said he had gone to the Allen home in the hope of persuading Delores to return to him. He said the gun was accidentally discharged in a scuffle.

Mrs. Bundy said she and her husband quarreled last February. They lived in Decatur where Bundy worked as a switchman for the Pennsylvania railroad. She left him, she said, taking their son, Jerry, 7, and went to Moweaqua to live with her sister. She obtained a divorce in Decatur several weeks after the shooting.

U. S. IS ACCUSED OF WPA TACTICS ON AIRPORT JOB

Aldermen and business leaders charged at a meeting of a city council subcommittee on airports yesterday that under the pretense of a labor shortage, federal bureaus now are forcing a return to work projects administrations tactics. The charge was caused by a clause in priorities granted for the city's new $700,000 temporary terminal building at the airport which stipulates that city labor be used for the construction work.

Public Works Commissioner Hewitt said that the war labor board and war production board had insisted upon city labor because of the labor shortage in the Chicago area, but Ald. Merryman [45th], a subcommittee member retorted, "Findings of those bureaus are not based on facts."

"This is just the opening wedge of the city's entry into the construction business, and it doesn't belong in it," said Robert L. Murphy, president of the Plumbing Contractors' Association of Chicago.

Hewitt admitted to the subcommittee that some of the city's services had been slowed because men were diverted from their regular departments to work on the terminal project.

FIGHT HOUSING OF NEGRO WACS IN BURNHAM PARK

A telegram protesting the army's decision to house 90 Negro members of the women's army corps in barracks between 47th and 48th sts. in Burnham park has been sent Secretary of War Stimson by eight property owners' association, it was announced yesterday.

The protest asserted the army had not cooperated in promoting harmonious race relations and that the action was "a plan on the part of a few agitators to impose Negroes upon whites in a white community." The WACs are technicians serving at Gardiner General hospital.

Organizations which asked the army to rescind its action and transfer the WACs are the Hyde Park Community Planning association, the Hyde Park Chamber of Commerce, Federation of Neighborhood associations, Oakland-Kenwood Property Owners' association, 55th Street Business Men's association, 53d Street Business Men's association, Woodlawn Property Owners' league, and Apartment Building Owners' and Managers' Association of Chicago.

$4,000,000 ESTATE OF H. P. CROWELL LISTED IN COURT

A valuation of more than 4 million dollars was put on the estate of Henry Parsons Crowell, honorary chairman of the board of the Quaker Oats company, in an inventory filed yesterday before Probate Judge John F. O'Connell. The filing was made by Attys. Edwin L. Brown Jr. and W. Ayers Keplinger, the latter of the legal firm of Kirkland, Fleming, Green, Martin & Ellis. Mr. Crowell died Oct. 23 at the age of 89.

The principal holdings listed were 23,743 shares of Quaker Oats common stock and 34,950 shares of common stock in the Perfection Stove company. Also shown were real estate holdings in Illinois, Ohio, Georgia, Louisiana, and Colorado. Mr. Crowell formerly was president of the Quaker Oats company and chairman of the Perfection Stove company.

Mr. Crowell's will, filed Nov. 17, 1944, left the bulk of the estate to a trust fund created in 1927 as a memorial to the philanthropist's wife, Mrs. Susan Coleman Crowell, to "further certain other Christian works and educational projects." Ten years ago Mr. Crowell gave $100,000 to trustees of the Fourth Presbyterian church. Six trust funds of $25,000 each were set up for Mr. Crowell's grandchildren.

SEE LITTLE HOPE UNTIL 1946 FOR REFRIGERATORS

Mechanical refrigerators are not likely to be available to the general public in the retail market until some time in 1946, Paul A. Jenkins, deputy regional director of the war production board, asserted yesterday in response to increasing public inquiries.

He said the available stockpile of refrigerators totals only 35,000, which must be held for essential requirements. Altho WPB has authorized production of 265,000 more in the third quarter of 1945, they will be added to the frozen stockpiles.

No priorities are needed to purchase washing machines and vacuum cleaners but there are virtually none to be had, Jenkins said. Production of electric irons on an allotment basis has begun and some units are obtainable in retail outlets, he said.

MOTHER DENIED RETURN OF BABY SHE GAVE AWAY

Judge Dewey L. Montgomery of Bloomington, sitting in County court, yesterday denied a motion by Mrs. Norma Savage, 20, of 408 Wisconsin av., to set aside the adoption of her son, James, 7 weeks old, by Mr. and Mrs. Herman Reber of 3844 Elston av. Denial of the motion was urged by Mrs. Savage's attorney, Benjamin H. Ehrlich, who told the court he believed the child's mother had lied to him. She had charged that her husband, Edward, 29, of 3610 N. Oakley av., had forced her to sign an agreement to the adoption. A witness, Mrs. Rose Reinhold, 5751 Warwick av., testified that Mrs. Savage had told her the baby was ugly and that she wanted to get rid of it.

NEWSBOYS HAND NATION'S FOES A HARD WALLOP

Newsboys of America have sold 1,661,441,804 10 cent war stamps since the attack on Pearl Harbor, it was announced yesterday. Howard W. Stodghill of Philadelphia, Pa., chairman and founder of the treasury department's newspaper boys for victory program, said a goal of 2 billion stamps had been set by the group to sponsor water weasels, the army's amphibian jeeps.

The Chicago Carriers' association, representing THE TRIBUNE and three other newspapers, have sold 218,196,720 stamps, an average of more than 60 stamps per capita in the metropolitan area.

Parents, wives, and sweethearts of 347 employes of the Wieboldt stores who are on war duty will be special guests at breakfast tomorrow in the Merchants' and Manufacturers' club in the Merchandise Mart. The event will climax the stores' campaign for the 7th war loan, in which 5,000 employes have participated.

Ted Gamble, chief of the 7th war loan drive, said in Washington, D. C., yesterday that "several million Americans who have not bought their war bonds in this drive will have to do so if the E bond quota is to be made." He said that sales nationally now total 75 per cent of the 14 billion dollar over-all quota.

POST-WAR BILL APPROVED BY HOUSE GROUP

$2,250,048 Is Added to Measure

BY ROBERT HOWARD

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., June 19 [Special] —Speeded on its way by Democratic votes, Gov. Green's post-war spending program was approved, 47 to 4, by the house appropriations committee today and picked up $2,250,048 in additional items on the way.

As finally approved by the committee, it was a $161,064,532 appropriation bill, sponsored by the state's post-war planning commission, for a long list of projects, some in the nature of public works.

Two Republicans and two Democrats voted against the bill. They were Representatives Bolger [D., McHenry], C. D. Franz [D., Freeport], O'Neill [R., Downers Grove], and Topping [R., Kankakee]. Objections were raised that the bill was a "pork barrel" spending program, designed for political effect, and that the money should be husbanded for bonus payments to World War II. veterans.

Add Building Restoration

Committee members didn't give Rep. Sullivan [D., Springfield] time to make a speech before they shouted approval of his amendment to insert in the post-war omnibus bill a $1,268,000 appropriation for purchase of the Sangamon county courthouse and its restoration as the state capitol of the Lincoln era. The senate had eliminated the capitol restoration item when it approved the bill, with slight reductions, last week.

The three Peoria representatives sprung a coup with a $450,000 item approved for a state office building in Peoria, to be constructed as an armory addition. Other legislators promptly started plans to get "little state houses" in their home towns.

For a new state park at Nauvoo, the old Mormon settlement, $50,000 would be spent, to the pleasure of Representatives Robbins [R., Augusta], Salisbury, [D., Carthage], and Schaumleffel [R., Monmouth], who come from that district.

Add Lake Project

Rep. Lewis [R., Marshall] got two new items inserted for his district, a $407,048 armory at Mattoon and a $75,000 lake and water works project for Charleston.

Two economy proposals were howled down. Rep. Hart [R., Streator] objected to spending $140,000 for two fraternity houses at the University of Illinois, saying they were overpriced and were mortgaged to a Danville building and loan company. Rep. Bolger wanted to abandon a 3 million dollar artificial lake program supported by Conservation Director Osborne.

Unless later cuts are made, Gov. Green's post-war budget will be finally passed at a $138,799,132 total, including $10,000,000 for slum clearance, $7,884,600 for veterans' hospitals, $4,850,000 for planning blueprints, and $15,000,000 for township roads.

House Approves $3,000 a Year Raise for Judges

Springfield, Ill., June 19 [Special] —The house today passed, 86 to 19, a bill to raise salaries of Supreme court justices from $15,000 to $18,000 a year. The senate is expected to concur.

12 SENATORS ASK VETO ON PENSION BILL BY GREEN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., June 19 [Special] —A dozen Republican senators from downstate districts, intent upon showing the voters back home that they don't want to be pensioned for service in Springfield, today started circulating a petition asking Gov. Green to veto the legislators' pension bill.

All had discovered too late that their votes last Thursday had completed passage of the bill. They are Senators Baker [Davis Junction], Barr [Joliet], Beckman [Kankakee], Benson [Ottawa], Broyles [Mount Vernon], Homer Butler [Marion], Carpentier [East Moline], Collins [De Kalb], Downing [Macomb], Flagg [Moro], Griffin [Springfield], and Oldfield [Centralia].

Bills passed by the senate and sent to Gov. Green include:

By Rep. Rategan [D., Chicago]: Pegs the Chicago library tax at $2,350,000.

By Rep. Lavezzi [R., Danville]: Makes it a misdemeanor to defraud a newsboy.

By Representatives O'Grady [D., Chicago] and David Hunter [R., Rockford]: Revises the child labor law.

A Democratic proposal to cut in half the state 2 per cent retailers' occupational [sales] tax was formally turned down by the senate revenue committee.

Strike by CIO Union Ties Up Foundry 2d Day

Production by the W. A. Jones Foundry and Machine company, 4401 Roosevelt rd., was halted yesterday as the strike of 216 workers, members of the United Automobile Workers [CIO] continued in its second day. President W. F. Coleman said that some striking employes offered to return to work, but the company was unable to take them because all of the powerhouse employes were on strike. The union is protesting the company's appeal of a war labor board order.

TREATMENT OF DOGS IN LABORATORY AT N. U. IS HELD HUMANE

Treatment of dogs used in the laboratory of Northwestern university was held to be humane yesterday at a meeting of the city advisory committee on dogs, headed by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health.

Charges of inhumane treatment and insanitary conditions were made by Mrs. Charles M. Petkus, a member of the committee and vice president of the Illinois Citizens' Animal Welfare league. Among her supporters present was Mrs. Irene Castle McLaughlin, head of Orphans of the Storm, an animal shelter.

Mrs. Petkus read a report in which she charged that she, Mrs. McLaughlin, and Mrs. Charles C. Rutson, managing director of the welfare league, were roughly handled by Dr. Andrew C. Ivy, laboratory head, when they tried to remove a dog for proof of their allegations of bad conditions in the laboratory. Against her charges were two reports by the health department inspectors which exonerated the laboratory. These reports were accepted by the advisory committee.

WARNING GIVEN ADVERTISERS OF A FAKE 'AP MAN'

A man pretending to be a representative of the Associated Press has been calling on taverns and shops recently, soliciting money for advertisments for a veterans' hospital publication, Marion Sheen, central division news editor of the Associated Press, said yesterday. The news service, Sheen said, has no such representatives and is not concerned with advertising in any form. Any one receiving such a solicitation, he said, should telephone the Associated Press or notify the police.

RADIO LIBEL BILL UP FOR PASSAGE; ADOPT CHANGES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Springfield, Ill., June 19—The senate will have up for passage tomorrow the Cutler-Downing-Connors radio libel bill, which would impose upon broadcasters a portion of the responsibility for defamation long borne by the press.

Judiciary committee amendments were adopted by the senate today, and the measure was advanced to passage stage. Sen. Downing [R., Macomb] and Sen. Connors [D., Chicago] said that no time should be lost in getting the bill thru the senate and to the house, where a similar bill sponsored by Rep. Cutler [R., Lewistown] is on second reading.

The amendments soften the application of the proposed radio libel law. Persons must "knowingly and maliciously" participate in a libel to be subject to the penalties of one year in jail or $500 fine.

No owner or operator of a radio station, or any employe, could be found guilty unless he had "advance knowledge or opportunity or right to prevent" a libel. Nor would the station and its employes be held responsible for utterances of political candidates.

Nevertheless, some opposition still continues, particularly from the eastern controlled networks. Also, the Chicago Federation of Labor has telegraphed legislators an 11th hour plea to defeat the measure on grounds that it does not require proof of malice on the part of the station.

TELLS INCREASE IN COUNTERFEIT MEAT COUPONS

Counterfeiting of red stamps for meat has mushroomed into a problem as serious as the bogus gasoline coupons of last winter, Rae E. Walters, regional administrator of the office of price administration, told a group of gasoline dealers and distributors and wholesale and retail food dealers yesterday.

Counterfeit red stamps in region 6 [Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota] between Feb. 1 and May 15 numbered approximately 75,000. Between May 15 and June 18 the number rose to 125,241, Walters said.

Gasoline counterfeiting, however, has decreased steadily, he told the men. Walters said only 16,625 counterfeit gasoline coupons were discovered among the more than 50 million coupons which were used in the region during April.

Guards Go On Beaches Saturday—as Chasers

The park board announced yesterday that life guards would be stationed on the beaches Saturday and thereafter chiefly to keep would-be swimmers from entering the water until it is considered warm enough for swimming. The lake will not be warm enough for swimming until the middle of July, a park board official said.

BERRY AND SPINACH PRICES ARE CUT 5C; LEMONS, ONIONS UP

Larger supplies of strawberries and spinach resulted in a 5 cent drop for each in the weekly fresh fruit and vegetable ceiling price list announced by the metropolitan area office of price administration yesterday. The new prices brought strawberries down to 56 cents a quart and bulk spinach to 8½ cents a pound.

Other decreases were new yellow onions, down 3 cents, to 31 cents for three pounds; new California potatoes, down 3 cents, to 29 cents for five pounds; peaches, down 2 cents, to 16½ cents a pound; repacked tomatoes, down 2 cents, to 26 cents a pound; bulk tomatoes, down 1½ cents, to 19½ cents a pound, and yellow apples, down 1 cent, to 14 cents a pound.

Increases were in sweet cherries, up 1 cent, to 43 cents a pound; lemons, up 1 cent, to 13 cents a pound, and new white wax onions, up 1 cent, to 30 cents for three pounds.

Effective today a new OPA regulation fixes the prices of combination window screens and storm sashes installed. Rae E. Walters, regional OPA administrator, said the order will save nearly half the current costs in some cases.

Mayor to Attend Party for Illinois Legislators

Mayor Kelly will leave Chicago this morning for Springfield, where he will attend a party to be given for members of the legislature by Secretary of State Edward J. Barrett. The mayor expects to return in time for the council meeting scheduled for tomorrow.

STATE AVIATION BODY APPROVED BY HOUSE GROUP

Springfield, Ill., June 19 [Special] —Administration bills to set up a state department of aviation were recommended for house passage by the house aeronautics committee today after witnesses challenged the broad powers to be given to the director of the new department. The senate has passed these bills.

Hugh Dobbs of Springfield, who drafted the downstate airport authority bill recently enacted into law, spoke in behalf of portions of the aviation industry. He offered an amendment to require a majority of the nine man advisory board to approve or reject any ruling by the director. All of his amendments will be acted upon later by the house.

"No provision is made for any power for the nine man advisory board, of which the director and his assistant are to be members," Dobbs said. "You shouldn't empower any man to adopt rules and regulations.

"There is no qualification required of the director, unless perhaps it is that he be able to read English. This is hostile to the aviation industry, no matter how benevolent the state administration's intentions may be."

Rabies Warning Given to Thornton and Bloom

State department of agriculture placards directing that dogs be confined in escape proof enclosures or that other precautions against the spread of rabies be taken were posted yesterday in the unincorporated villages of Thornton and Bloom townships. The rabies quarantine is largely a preventive measure, it was explained, for few cases of the disease have been reported.

Colossus'
Little Woman

AND now meet Mrs. Colossus . . . wife of the American Farmer. She's the little woman, the big little woman, whose gigantic family and rural neighbors buy nearly 40% of all the consumer goods America produces. And right now, giving her added stature as a prospect, are 14 billion dollars which she and her husband have accumulated in War Bonds and savings!

She's an important woman to know—and to be known by. For make no mistake, her close partnership with the man of the family makes her opinion a potent factor in every purchase made for the farm.

Yes, this little woman means business, a fact well shown by readership studies of Country Gentleman. Maybe you never thought of her as devouring articles on hog houses or soil conservation or Herefords—but she does. Periodic reader-traffic studies show that women's interest in farm articles—not to mention fiction and home service features—is almost as great as the men's!* No doubt about it, the preference farm families give to Country Gentleman is shared by both sides of the family.

And remember, the 2,000,000-odd families which read Country Gentleman cover-to-cover are concentrated among those families which buy 72% of all merchandise which flows to America's farms. Q.E.D.: That colossal market beyond the suburbs is a Country Gentleman market!

*Ask a Country Gentleman representative to show you the latest reader-traffic study, just completed. Proves conclusively: women, too, read Country Gentleman cover to cover.

What business can ignore the farmer's strength?

Thru the Looking Glass

A suntan is fairly fashionable these days, but we almost wish it weren't because so many women use so little judgment in acquiring one.

Too much sun is ruinous to a delicate skin, the kind most women have. It coarsens and dries it. A burn damages it and a succession of burns, which is what a lot of women have when they go completely mad over acquiring a suntan, can damage it ever so much more.

The sun is stronger than you think it is on cloudy days. You might be cautious enough on a clear day, but a great many women feel that haze is a sun screen. Often it isn't. Some of the worst burns are acquired on the very outings undertaken when the sun is a little obscured. Don't flirt with this, even on dull days, especially if you're near the water or where there's a spanking breeze blowing.

The sun screen preparations are a good investment for every woman, we think, even tho she feels her skin is the kind that can take a lot of sun without blistering. There is no point in not taking advantage of the protection from a deep burn that their proper use [and plenty of common sense] will assure. Then, too, the wise woman who is thinking of the texture of her complexion five or 10 years from now will balance her suntan doses with liberal doses of lubrication. Sun will sap natural oil—and who among us has enough to spare as it is?

Let caution be your watchword this summer, no matter how much a suntan becomes you. Small, gradual sun doses, and even these thru a protective, are by far the best.

Parisian Puts New Zip Into Youthful Hats

BY ANNE BRUYERE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

PARIS, June 19—Skull caps with dashing long feathers, off the face bonnets with goat's hair stuck jauntily in back, and vizor straw hats trimmed with cubist flowers running the whole gamut of color are Jacques Heim's bright new ideas for his "Jeune Fille" shop.

"Dorothy" is the name of a natural panama straw hat with a curled over brim worn well back on the head. A shocking pink pastel ribbon covered with rustic figures encircles the crown.

Triple graduated balls of green, yellow, and red feathers attached to a quill fly aloft a tiny flat pancake of plaited straw called "Colette."

"Marie Christine" is a wide-brimmed sun hat of white Italian straw.

Fashion Flashes: Duvelleroy's new three dimensional bags have polka-dotted sheer wool shoulder straps matching the gloves and repeating the color of the bag . . . Jean Patou's dressy white summer coat called "Bonne Fortune" is fastened with a dozen glittering brass chains crossing diagonally at the snug waist. . . . Nina Ricci's fairy gown of transparent sky-blue net has a foot wide bodice covered with tiny sparkling stars which also appear in profusion like the milky way on the finely gathered, widely spreading circular skirt.

Michigan City Music to Have Floral Setting

On the theory that music and flowers speak an international language, the International Friendship Gardens in Michigan City, Ind., plans a special musical program to be given this summer, officials announced yesterday.

In the beautiful spot where thousands of flowers from all parts of the world bloom, a series of music festivals will open July 14 with a presentation of "Rigoletto," followed by "The Bartered Bride" on July 28. The two operatic attractions have been arranged by Miss Anna Fitzu and will feature such opera stars as George Czaplicki, Michael Bartlet, Mona Bradford, Julia Sturges, Helen Claire, and others. The Chicago Opera company orchestra under the director of Jerzy Bojanowski and the Bernice Holmes ballet will take part in the productions.

Another musical presentation will be the Carnegie-Illinois Steel company extravaganza July 21, featuring Kenneth Resur and the Carillco band, also the Carillco chorus under the direction of Harry S. Walsh, director of the Northerners.

Highlight of the season will be the Chicagoland regional musical contest to be held in coöperation with the Chicagoland Music Festival on Aug. 4, two weeks before the big night in Soldiers' field. The contest will continue thruout the day in the gardens, concluding in the evening with a program by the winners. The second part of the show will present Percy Grainger, pianist and composer, also the Union Stockyards Kilty band.

The gardens, which stretch over 100 acres, are the work of the Stauffer brothers of Hammond who recreated them in 1937 from the Old Mill Gardens of the 1933 Century of Progress and International Friendship Gardens of the 1934 fair. Honorary sponsors include many great Americans and the crowned and uncrowned rulers of foreign nations.

The Music Festivals, Inc., as well as the gardens themselves, are incorporated not for profit and are supported by philanthropy.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 19—Ginger Rogers and her mother, Lela, are busy as bird dogs. They've both signed new contracts with R. K. O. It's three pictures a year for each, to be made independent of each other. Lela's first production, "Ain't It the Truth," is being prepared for the screen right now. And if you didn't know Lela's a smart cookie you will when I tell you she dug it up for herself. It's by a young actor-writer named Doug Morrow—his first venture, too. . . . But it's no first writing attempt for Ladislas Fedor, veteran Hungarian playwright, who sold "Spring Flood" to 20th Century and is now at work on that lot. . . . If you've had trouble spelling Tschaikowsky for civilian use, pity Hal Wallis, who had to decide on a version of it for the screen. There are eight different ways of getting Tchaikowsky down on paper—all of them okay, too. Hal tossed a coin and out came the above, a simplified version. Now his headache centers around whether he'll make his star grow a beard or have a barber roam over the face daily.

Barry Fitzgerald Company

Lionel Barrymore's favorite quote is the immortal Joe Jefferson's, "There's nothing so dead as a dead actor." I remember it when the Barry Fitzgerald company chose "Rip Van Winkle," Jefferson's most famous role, for its first screen venture. Four bright boys have gotten together to form this new independent producing unit—Gene Fowler, who will write "Rip"; E. H. Griffith, who will direct it; Barry [Going My Way] Fitzgerald, who'll play Rip, the sleepiest guy in Sleepy Hollow; and Noll Gurney, who'll handle the business end. It sounds like a very sound arrangement to me. I've always wondered why the screen ignored Rip Van Winkle all these years. Now it'll make up for lost time—in technicolor. . . . Charles Laughton, who talks better than most authors write, once described one of his favorite scenes from "Payment Deferred" to me thus: "I wanted it to be a matter of sweat and cheap scent—think I got it over?" Yesterday he was talking about Margaret O'Brien, saying how grown up she'd gotten in the year and a half since they made "Canterville Ghost" together. Said Charlie: "Margaret had just learned to draw angels when we were making 'The Ghost'—now she's gotten around to horses. Don't you think she's growing too fast, Hedda?" . . . Speaking of going fast, Director Sylvan Simon jumped from "Son of Lassie" to Abbott and Costello, then skidded off to Jackson's Hole, Wyo., with Wally Beery, Margaret O'Brien, and Marjorie Main to direct "Maggie's Bandit." Because he'll stay there until Sept. 1 he's called it a vacation.

Charles Laughton

Margaret O'Brien

Under the Hat

It isn't the black and pink chapeau from Caroline Reboux of Paris that intrigues me [altho I'll look something like Sadie Thompson in it]; it's the letter from Paul Manning from Magdeburg, Germany, that went with it. Town's on the Elbe river, about 45 kilometers from Berlin. Said Paul: "Read one of your columns here. How you get around! A soldier now engaged in tracking down former members of the Gestapo was reading this breath from home. It had been inclosed in a letter to him. Anything as American as talk about movies and ball games is a psychological stimulant to boys who've been away too long. This town soon will be Russian, and for many miles west of the Elbe, too. I stood on the river bank two days ago and watched German civilians fleeing from the soviet columns. I never saw more terrified people. If boats weren't available they swam the river. Lunched at the command post of a Russian column with 60 other guests who ate the most sumptuous meal I'd yet seen in Germany. It went on for hours. Half way thru an American general remarked to the Russian general in command, 'You eat much better than we do. How is that?' The Russian general lowered his knife and fork, and replied, 'Well, you're in Germany, too, aren't you?' I went Gestapo hunting with a squad of enlisted men and officers of the civil intelligence corps. It was like Chicago when Ben Hecht wrote 'The Front Page.' When American troops entered this German city the Gestapo discarded their uniforms, climbed into civilian duds, except the chief, who put on a private's uniform and let himself be captured as a soldier. He's still being hunted thru several thousand PW camps. Today I'm back in Paris and quite naturally thought Hedda must have a new hat. So here it is!"

So Elsa Had to Talk

Elsa Maxwell vowed she wouldn't speak to Senor Angel Carcano, Argentine ambassador to Great Britain, but had to eat her words when she sat near him at Ernst Lubitsch's dinner. Comdr. Jack Bolton brought Carcano to the party. Seems he phoned Lubitsch's secretary, and said, "He's a very distinguished guest, and I'd like to bring him along." The secretary demurred, "I'll have to ask Mr. Lubitsch about that. Isn't Carcano a nazi sympathizer?" But Mr. L. gave Bolton the nod. Payoff came when Bolton told Carcano he was taking him to the home of a famous director, Ernst Lubitsch. This was Carcano's turn to demur, "Lubitsch? Isn't he a German?" I notice they all accepted. . . . Van Johnson says he hasn't lost his heart to anybody, in case you've heard to the contrary.

Movie Boasts a Lively Spirit —Jack Oakie

"THAT'S THE SPIRIT"

By Mae Tinée

"That's the Spirit" presents Jack Oakie as the plumpest, healthiest looking shade you ever saw and death as a slinky, sexy-looking siren. When the latter lured the former from earth he left rather suddenly, without time to explain to his pretty wife, who, thinking she has been deserted, goes sadly home to her pompous papa. Buster Keaton, in charge of heaven's complaint department, takes 18 years to grant Steve permission to revisit his family, and by that time the daughter who was born after his death has grown old enough to resent her stuffy grandpa.

Equipped with a magic flute which makes people lose their dignity in a hurry, Steve has quite a lot of fun for himself and irons out all the family problems. Mr. Oakie was an excellent choice for the role and makes a very likable ghost. The film has several good musical numbers in it, a couple of lively dances by Peggy Ryan and Johnny Coy, and some droll behavior on the part of a lot of people, specifically Arthur Treacher and Irene Ryan. The idea is not entirely new, of course—it undoubtedly will remind you of other pictures you have seen—but it's as light as foam, and audiences are sure to giggle at some of the situations.

4,350 Invited to Museum's Gala Preview

BY JUDITH CASS

ONE of the season's largest guest lists—including some 4,350 Chicagoans—has been assembled by the Chicago Natural History [Field] museum for a gala program June 29, the first event of this type at the museum since its 50th anniversary celebration in 1943. The 2:30 p. m. program in the James Simpson theater has been planned in connection with a preview of a new Netherlands East Indies exhibition and will include a performance of Devi-Dja and her troupe of Balinese dancers.

Stanley Field, who has been president of the museum for 36 years, will give a short address welcoming guests at the program, and Prof. Fay-Cooper Cole, director of the department of anthropology at the University of Chicago, will lecture briefly on the Netherlands Indies. A representative of the Dutch government also will speak. In addition to the Devi-Dja troupe the Netherlands information bureau will bring a widely known East Indian male dancer, Soekoro, from New York to give several numbers.

After the program staff lecturers of the Raymond Foundation at the museum will escort groups thru the exhibit in Stanley Field hall, which depicts the life and culture of residents of the Indies, Sumatra, Bali, and other Pacific colonies of the Netherlands since 1600. The exhibit will be open to the public from June 30 thru Sept. 3.

Personality Pays

A number of interesting questions appear in the recently published "Careers in Business for Women." Here is a condensed list of them:

1. "Have you a system at home for keeping personal belongings in order? You will probably transfer this habit to your office work and win the gratitude of every one associated with you.

2. "Or do you allow things to accumulate and then have a grand 'cleaning up' spell at intervals? Better reform! Transferred to the office, it means a welter of disorder and unfinished back work.

3. "Are you always on time for appointments? You will arrive at the office in the morning on time as a matter of course.

4. "Or are you apt to finish dressing your hair, etc., in public places because you do not allow time to do these things at home? You will be late for work quite often.

5. "Do you budget personal expenses with success, buying only what you can afford? You will be dependable in the office, obeying regulations, and assuming responsibility.

6. "Or do you plan beautiful budget programs and then succumb to a darling hat that throws your budget out of kilter and forces you to go without essential things or borrow? You will be full of good intentions about your office assignments but fail to live up to them.

7. "Were you able to take your school work in your stride? You will adjust to office work just as matter-of-factly.

8. "Or did you pay little attention to your classwork, then study furiously for exams? You may find the office atmosphere just as oppressive, resent your work, and do it badly. Remind yourself that you are working for yourself . . . you, not your employer, will spend your pay check."

Deaf Vets Find the Road Back Hard but Sure

BY NORMA LEE BROWNING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Butler, Pa., June 19—There are no pink pills or 10 easy lessons to restore the deafened G.I.'s hearing to normal. His progress depends on his willingness to work and his determination to break out of his shell of isolation.

Some times the going is rough. One soldier at Deshon hospital here broke into sobs in a lip-reading class when the teacher whispered the word "baby." The thought of going home and not being able to hear the precious gurgles of his new baby boy was too much for him. One after another, hearing aids were tested on him until one was found that would give him some sound reception. Today he is back home with his wife and baby, well adjusted, and with a fine job in his old company.

Col. C. J. Gentzkow, commanding officer of the hospital, said the research carried on in the field of aural rehabilitation at Deshon will have a profound effect on the treatment of the deafened and hard of hearing persons the country over after the war.

"For many years," he declared, "a deaf person has been just that—an individual necessarily left out of the average social picture, missing both educational and recreational opportunities and as a result often becoming a recluse from society.

"When it is possible to make available to the general public the information and methods gleaned and perfected thru the present research, a deafened person may have a whole new life opened up to him. This fact alone, in addition to the primary and current need for rehabilitation for the men of our services, makes the aural rehabilitation field one of great importance."

One of the unusual features of Deshon hospital's aural rehabilitation department is its research in the field of sound localization.

The patients, either individually or in small groups, sit inside a sound-proof room well supplied with loud speakers. Outside, in a control booth, an instructor plays recordings of sounds such as car horns, traffic noises, whistles.

The instructor can switch the noise to any one of the loud speakers. Thru hours of practice, listening, and instruction, the deaf soldiers become adept at recognizing various every day sounds and the direction from which they come.

This will be important to the deaf boy's safety when he returns to civilian life.

Another important aspect of the rehabilitation program is the training in speech correction. Because of inability to hear what is spoken, the deaf person often develops speech defects. He has difficulty in modulating his voice; it is too loud, too soft, too monotonous, or nasal. He sometimes garbles his words.

The high frequency sounds—s, f, and th—are the ones most often mutilated.

According to Miss Verna Allshouse, speech correctionist at Deshon, the purpose of this program is to prevent speech deterioration as well as to correct existing speech difficulties. This is accomplished thru a course of intensive ear training which includes playing back records of the patient's own voice and practicing in front of a mirror.

In a class called "The Listening Hour," patients learn word discrimination by listening to an auricular therapist [who hides her lips with a sheet of paper so no one can cheat by lip reading] repeat such combinations as thumb, sum, myth, miss, thought, fought, thrill, fill.

They are given practice in group conversation in sound-proof rooms with loud speakers, under supervision of an auricular therapist.

They learn to talk and hear over the telephone—by holding the instrument vertically so the hearing end or receiver of the phone transmits the conversation to a hearing aid transmitter the patient wears on his chest.

Thruout the three month program at Deshon the importance of picking up and analyzing visual clews—such as hand gestures, shoulder shrugs, expressions of the eyes and mouth—is stressed.

Miss Gertrude Torrey of Chicago, one of the outstanding lip reading teachers in the country, explained the importance of rotating the teachers for deaf veterans in order

Rayon Jersey Wins Favor of Career Group

BY REA SEEGER

Rayon jersey is the special delight of shoppers, because it doesn't wrinkle readily, is colorfast, and needs little if any ironing or pressing. Casual dresses of this material are senationally popular with career girls. In current showings are both one-piece dresses and two-piece play outfits, which, when worn together, look like a smoothly tailored dress.

The sun-back dresses of printed jersey in Roman multistripes are giddily gay in color contrasts. The skirts are slightly flared and the tops are cut like a camisole with wide shoulder straps and back exposure for suntans. The companion boleros of solid colors are of butcher's linen weave rayon and since most of these boleros are leaf green, they cool down the exuberance of the vivid striped jersey dress. The two pieces are separable. The bolero is smart enough to wear with other skirts or dresses and the striped jersey sun-back dress is ideal for wear in the country or at home. The prices are amazingly low.

Jersey play outfits consist of the classic shorts and blouse—top cut in a well fitted one-piece model, with the button down the front skirt to make it into a street ensemble. Some have knitted belt bands that pull up snugly around the waist and are tied with a tiny string bow. Colors are brilliant—green, coral, yellow, and purple. The big coin dotted prints are of white background jersey with quarter size dots in brown, green, and bright blue. Some checked affairs come in blue and brown. These, too, have easy-on-the-budget price marks.

'The Wicked Mrs. Steel'

By Roy Vickers

(Copyright: 1945: By Roy Vickers)

SYNOPSIS: Gillian Benyon comes to Tenstable to act as companion to Mrs Steel, widow of Andrew Steel, who practically owned the town before his death. By the terms of his will Mrs. Steel must leave her vast wealth to ONE of her late husband's relatives, otherwise the estate passes in trust to the township of Tenstable. Mr. Hanshew warns Gillian against accepting the position. Mrs. Steel has a pet canary, which Ruth, her housekeeper, advises her not to treat as she did the others. She can't buy another, without gossip. Mrs. Steel invites Mr. Hanshew to her birthday party, at which he will meet her husband's relatives. Gillian learns her father was Andrews Steel's second cousin.

INSTALMENT III.

OUTFITTED

Gillian finished somewhat breathlessly. Mrs. Steel was smiling—such an encouraging smile.

"I have a lot of business to attend to and my position here makes me very lonely," she said. "Now what can you do?"

That was a thorny question. While Gillian was choosing her words, Mrs. Steel helped.

"Can you manage a car?"

"I can drive. But I couldn't do any running repairs."

"And you can use the typewriter a little, and speak a little French, and do a little in the way of keeping accounts? But not enough to get a job at anything?"

"I'm afraid that is true." Gillian got up. "I'm sorry I've wasted your time, Mrs. Steel, and thank you for giving me tea."

"Sit down, child. You misunderstand me. You are just what I'm looking for."

"When I want an expert I ring that telephone and one comes," Mrs. Steel was saying. "The manager of my factory speaks four languages perfectly. Mr. Hanshew. You'll be seeing him before long—probably on Friday. I shall want you to start at once. Can you?"

"O, yes, Mrs. Steel!" Hanshew! That bold, defiant man who had warned her against accepting the job. Manager of her factory—so that in warning her and giving her his name he had taken the risk of a strange girl prejudicing him in the eyes of his employer.

"What would you like me to pay you?"

"I have no idea—I must leave that to you," faltered Gillian. "I don't really want much for myself. If it would be possible for me to send mother a pound a week, she could manage."

"Then I will pay you 92 pounds a year. You can send your mother a pound a week and have 40 pounds a year for pocket money."

While Gillian was murmuring her thanks, Mrs. Steel added with a smile: "Now your first order is to send your mother a telegram, which you can do on that telephone."

When Gillian had finished dictating her message, Mrs. Steel was beckoning her from the door.

"I will show you around," she said.

The house, on closer inspection, now seemed much bigger. She became aware that Mrs. Steel was in some subtle way entreating her to like the house. She was speaking to Gillian as if to a daughter.

"You can have any room you fancy, but I hope you will choose the one next to mine."

Gillian warmed toward her. And how amazing that, to cap everything, she should turn out to be some sort of distant relation by marriage!

From the house to the garden. Here for the first time Gillian felt ill at ease. She had been aware of something odd in the front garden. Now she knew what it was. The grounds consisted solely of bushes and patches of lawn and gravel. They were well kept, but surely this was the only garden in the kingdom which had not a single bed of flowers in the first week of June!

"We forgot to discuss clothes," said Mrs. Steel abruptly. Gillian suddenly felt as if her own clothes were in tatters. "Yours are very nice, of course—but you'll want to keep them for your holidays. You had better go down—now—to Babbinger's and order everything you will want. And you might match this embroidery silk for me."

Gillian took the single thread which Mrs. Steel had produced from her bag. "But I can't pay for the clothes until—until my salary. . . ."

"I don't want you to pay for them." Gillian felt in herself an instant response.

"You are kind," she murmured. "But. . . ."

"But it is impossible to accept from a stranger? I understand, dear, tho it hurts a little. Now we must both be sensible about this. Let us agree that the clothes will be mine, not yours—lent to you as part of the equipment for your work. You'll find a car at the front door. It will wait for you and bring you back with your parcels."

Gillian was bewildered. The personality of Mrs. Steel was overwhelming her.

"Run along now, dear. I'll phone them that you're coming."

As the car brought her in sight of Babbinger's, Gillian remembered how she had waited in the arcade.

Probably Mrs. Steel meant, say, a couple of tweed suits, two or three afternoon frocks, a few striped linens for the garden and hot days; some must be businesslike and some prettyish. It was a little awkward, not knowing how much she was expected to spend.

Again the clock tower chimed. Six o'clock.

"It's no good—the shops will be shut."

The big store was indeed closed when the car stopped. But by the time Gillian had crossed the pavement a side door had opened again and a head saleswoman was standing on the threshold.

"Come in, Miss Beynon." A mechanical smile accompanied the welcome. Gillian entered and the door was shut and locked behind her. The fact of being the only customer in the store gave her a kind of stagefright.

"Mrs. Steel telephoned about me, of course," she remarked. "But I started in a hurry and we forgot to arrange the exact amount. . . ."

"There is no restriction as to cost," answered the saleswoman. "You are to have everything you need."

Everything she needed! Regardless of cost! It was the kind of thing head saleswomen said in dreams. Pinching herself, Gillian walked up the stairs by her side.

"I am stock size," she volunteered, "so I oughtn't to be much trouble to you. I may want a couple of outdoor suits, if you have the right colors."

"You will take three," said the saleswoman. "But we will get the evening things done first, as we're here."

Gillian was speechless. Presently as they entered a department a sharp retort suggested itself. But was she in a position to make it? Mrs. Steel, after all, was the real customer. All the same, this woman need not be so brutally frank about it.

Two girls were standing by to help. Ten feet away another girl was drawing a dust sheet over a long line of hangers.

"Half a minute!" called Gillian. "I like the look of that green over there. If it's near my size I'll try it on."

"Mrs. Steel doesn't care for green," said the saleswoman. And the girl finished covering the hangers with the dust sheet.

Most of the patients at Deshon leave the hospital with higher ambitions than when they entered. About 30 per cent, return to active duty in this country, according to Maj. Edward H. An amazingly high percentage of those interviewed declared unhesitatingly they were going back to college.

One of these was 20 year old Pvt. Kenneth O. Humpf of 7603 S. Peoria st., Chicago, a graduate of Tilden Technical High school. Kenneth was with a tank outfit in Italy that had moved for two weeks without rest, sleep, or a hot meal.

"It happened in an orchard," he said. "We had stopped for a rest and had gone scouting for firewood so we could have a hot breakfast. They opened up on us with a barrage of tank shells. The boy I was eating breakfast with was killed. I came to in the aid station and couldn't hear anything."

Kenneth spent 11 months in various hospitals for other wounds. His hearing will never get better, but he's going to college anyway and study industrial engineering.

"You can do just about anything if you have enough determination," he said philosophically. "At first you think you wouldn't be caught wearing one of these things on a bet. But I've made up my mind to wear it, so that's that. With it, I hear. Without it, I don't. Simple as that."

After three months of Deshon rehabilitation most soldiers are no longer sensitive about wearing their hearing equipment.

"Sure," one of them quipped, "I got my own private public address system that anybody can talk into if I let 'em. Even Hedy Lamarr."

The suggested bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	Pass	3 spades	Pass
5 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

When I saw this hand played the bidding proceeded as above until North's final call. At this point North could not resist the temptation and accepted South's slam suggestion by bidding six spades. There just wasn't anything to be done about those two aces that the opposition produced and a 100 point loss was recorded.

Members of the jury, who is guilty? North contended on his own behalf that he had definitely more than was required for him for a three spade bid and that he interpreted his partner's overbid of the game as inquiring, "Partner, have you any more than you have promised?" This question he answered in the affirmative. He argued further that South should have been satisfied to bid only four spades and not make a slam invitation with only one ace.

South maintained that he had at least a trick more than his opening bid had shown and, therefore, he felt justified in trying for a slam after his partner's jump. If partner held two aces he was willing to gamble it out.

I quite agree that this hand is made to order for the artificial slam conventions. All that South wants to know for practical purposes is whether North has two aces and it is on hands like this that the Blackwood convention is very effective, and may be safely employed. However, it should have been just as easy to stay out of trouble in using the direct method and I, personally, find North guilty.

South would have been chicken hearted indeed to give up without a try since two aces in the North hand in conjunction with the values necessary for his jump raise would afford a splendid play for slam. It should have been quite apparent to North that the opposition held both red aces and that South had everything else. Because, if South held either the ace of diamonds or hearts he would have shown that ace at the level of four rather than make the higher bid of five spades. South's message should have been decoded as follows: "Partner, I have a very fine hand, which has slam possibilities, but I have no ace to show you [except in trumps]."

A Successful Mother Must Use Her Head

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

[Copyright: 1945: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Mothers get so busy and become so involved in the practical details of caring for their children or babies, that sometimes they don't "use their heads" enough. They don't say, when something happens, "Why?" or "Perhaps I could do something about this."

Every once in a while, when I was a "young mother," and when the baby seemed upset or in later years when things went awry, I used to, more or less by accident, do the right thing. Then I would "come to" and say to myself, "Why didn't you use your head and look for the reason and then do something about it, instead of just happening to stumble on it? After all, stumbling on the right thing isn't exactly an intelligent way to raise your little boy."

And after scolding myself like that I'd really do better. Even so, I'd slip; as, for instance, in not taking into account as often as I should have, that a child's physical condition explains so many otherwise unaccountable things that he does. If you recognize that, you can then do either one of two things—both intelligent and both fair and kind to him; either you can correct the trouble, or if it's something which can't at the time be changed, you can overlook his actions.

This may not seem an important point—but I can assure you, from wide experience, that it is.

Stage Notes

Music Note

Radio income has rescued the Philharmonic-Symphony orchestra of New York from the deep red, according to a report just issued by Arthur Judson, its business manager. Three seasons ago the deficit was $130,000, but radio sponsorship cut it to $20,000 two years ago and to about $29,000 for the season just ended. It also was announced that the 1944-'45 deficit has been met by private gifts and other contributions, and that Charles Triller, active in Philharmonic affairs for 25 seasons, has been made chairman of the board of directors.

MRS. ZAHARIAS, MISS SUGGS WIN FIRST MATCHES

Medalists Advance in Women's Golf

BY CHARLES BARTLETT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

Indianapolis, Ind., June 19—All of the top artists in the 16th Women's Western Open golf tournament advanced thru today's first round of match play at the Highland Golf and Country club in shipshape fashion, the adjective being used because of the slightly damp nature of the doings. A dark ceiling is promised for tomorrow's second session, auguring heavy going on a course already drenched by last Saturday's storm and hardly mopped up by yesterday's perfect weather.

Betty Hicks

The co-medalists, Mrs. Mildred [Babe] Didrikson Zaharias of Los Angeles and Louise Suggs of Lithia Springs, Ga., who whipped up fancy 75s in yesterday's qualifying test, moved along in different styles. The Babe ran off from Elizabeth Dunn, perennial Indianapolis champion, by a 6 and 5 margin, playing out the bye holes for a medal 76, even par.

Miss Suggs Beats Marjorie Row

Miss Suggs, who is making her northern debut in this show, had more difficult traveling before she could win a 2 and 1 argument from Marjorie Row of Anniston, Ala. The latter, a former Detroit girl, and a 1942 Open semi-finalist, had Miss Suggs 2 down after 10 holes, but the Georgian came back to win.

The most promising duel on tomorrow's program sends Miss Suggs against Dorothy Cermain, the Philadelphian who has won the last two Western Amateurs and was runner-up to Mrs. Zaharias for the 1944 Open crown. Miss Germain had an easy time in eliminating Virginia Bartock of Park Ridge, Ill., 6 and 4. Jean Hopkins, able young Clevelander, drew the second round assignment of trying to halt Mrs. Zaharias' march to a third triumph in this league.

Betty Hicks Wins

Other victors were the two professionals in the cast—Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., and Betty Hicks, currently registering from Chicago's Tam o' Shanter Country club. Both won by 5 and 4 margins in today's showers, Miss Jameson from Marjorie Lindsay of Decatur and Miss Hicks from Mrs. Lawrence Selz former open champion and present holder of the Chicago district title from Northmoor.

The nearest engineer of a real upset was young Jean Hutto, 17, Kansas City college freshman, who was making her first appearance in the Open. Jean was 2 down to a first nine 38 by Phyllis Otto of Atlantic, Ia., who has been runner-up for both W. W. G. A., Open and Amateur titles. She was three down on the 13th tee, then bounced back with a birdie and two winning pars, squaring it on the 16th. They halved the next two and had to go to the 19th before Phyllis could win the match. Tomorrow, Miss Otto meets Peggy Kirk of Findley, O., another former Open semi-finalist.

Oregon Newcomer Wins

Such other proven veterans as Sally Sessions of Muskegon, Mich., Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, Ga., Ann Casey of Mason City, Ia., and Mrs.

SECOND LT. ROBERT WOODS, who played varsity football for both Annapolis and West Point, was first captain of this year's graduating class at West Point. . . . Other notable first captains were Robert E. Lee, John J. Pershing, and Douglas MacArthur. . . . The first baseball game to which admission was charged was played on July 20, 1859—fifty cents, 1,500 paid. . . . Players did not receive remuneration until 1863, when they were allowed a share of the gate receipts. . . . A Rockford high school—East or West—has won the Illinois prep golf championship for the last five years and it is predicted that no other city will win the event for some time. . . . Reasons: Rockford, a city of 100,000, has five country club and four public fee courses. . . . A youngster can buy a season ticket for $1 which admits him to any public course in the city. . . . An adult can buy the same privilege for $4, the country's greatest golf bargain. . . . Glen Fletcher of Armstrong, Ill., works in a stone quarry near his home town five days a week and pitches for the Indianapolis American association club on Saturdays or Sundays. . . . A California company has named a candy bar for Barney Ross. . . . Lt. Comdr. Edward Mann, former director of publicity at Duke university, is the new public relations man for the 8th naval district in New Orleans. . . . After three years of submarine patrol duty in the Pacific, Lt. Comdr. Ted Grefe, end on Northwestern university's 1939 football team, has been assigned to the naval R. O. T. A. B. Chandler, baseball commissioner, had a hand in the football upset scored by Centre college over Harvard in 1921. . . . Happy scouted Harvard for the Praying Colonels. . . . Eddie Froelich, now trainer for the New York Yankees, will return to his job with the Blackhawks next fall. . . . One Brooklyn fan's reaction to Leo Durocher's alleged slugging of a customer: "Well, Lippy finally found somebody he could hit." . . . Ernie Lombardi has made more than 1,500 big league base hits and practically every one of them was an honest bingle. . . . Nobody can accuse Schnoz of beating out those infield grounders. . . . When Ernie was with the Dodgers Uncle Wilbert Robinson pleaded with him to become a pitcher—Robby always liked big hurlers—but Lombardi refused. . . . "I ain't gonna be a pitcher," said Lom. "I'm a catcher and, before I'll pitch, I'll go back to the Pacific Coast league." . . . The Barretts seem to be always with us in baseball. . . . There now are three big league regulars—all in the National. . . . They are Outfielder Johnny of the Pirates, and Pitchers Dick and Red of the Phillies and Cardinals, respectively. . . . Joe Tepsic, Marine veteran of Guadalcanal, is Penn State's 1945 batting champion with a .500 percentage. . . . Joseph Tabor Johnson II., son of the Olympic track star of 1900 and a widely known athlete in his own right, has been appointed New England district traffic manager for Pennsylvania Central Airlines. . . . The younger Johnson starred in football, swimming, and track at Worcester academy and Brown university.

My Beautiful Dreams

I buried my past last night at dusk,
I buried four beautiful dreams;
As I cut up four dresses I used to wear,
I cried as I opened the seams.

One I wore to a country club,
With a bright red rose in my hair;
It was then I met Dan with his eyes of blue,
And we danced, and we kissed on the stair.

One I wore to a football prom;
It was blue and had a sash at the hips;
That night I met Jimmy, the star of the team,
And he fell for the lure of my lips.

Two I wore to weddings,
One was pink and one pearly white;
The stars shone bright as I flitted about,
The belle of the parties each night.

I sighed as I buried my beautiful dreams,
I wept as I snipped each thread;
But I smiled at each patch as I stitched new dreams
On a quilt for my daughter's bed.

SENATORS WIN TWICE FROM A'S, 6-0 AND 5-3

Wolff Yields 1 Hit in First Game

Washington, D. C., June 19 (AP)—Washington's Roger Wolff turned in one of the majors' fanciest pitching performances of the season tonight, a one hit, 6 to 0 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics.

This so inspired the Senators they put on a couple of rallies in the second game to win, 5 to 3, and sweep the twin bill.

The hit off Wolff, who hurled his seventh victory against three defeats, was a double by Hal Peck in the fourth. Only 28 men faced Wolff. Five of Washington's six runs off Lou Knerr were unearned.

TRUAX FIELD LOSES, 4-1, TO GREAT LAKES

Madison, Wis., June 19 [Special]—Great Lakes' baseball team played airtight defensive ball and knocked out three timely hits to defeat the Truax field, 4 to 1, this afternoon before 4,000 soldiers.

The sailors, with a newcomer, young Merlyn Kleen on the mound, went ahead in the second inning on Bob Feller's triple after a walk.

Truax outhit the sailors, 7 to 5, but wildness by Bob Zachritz who yielded six walks, proved their undoing.

REDS WIN IN 13TH

Cincinnati, O., June 19 (AP)—A 13th inning single by Catcher Al Unser scored Al Libke to give the Cincinnati Reds a 1 to 0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals tonight after a pitchers' duel between Red Barrett and Joe Bowman.

Until then, Barrett, who came to St. Louis from Boston in the Morton Cooper deal, had the edge, retiring 26 Red batters in order from the first to ninth inning.

In the 13th, after Frank McCormick was out, Barrett issued a pass to Libke. Steve Mesner beat out a bunt. Unser drove one of Barrett's offerings over the second baseman's head to end the contest.

CUBS RESUME WORK AGAINST PIRATES TODAY

BY EDWARD BURNS

The Cubs, scheduled to loaf Saturday, Monday, and yesterday and rained out of a game Sunday, worked out yesterday on their own initiative in the hope of becoming supple for their opener this afternoon with the Pittsburgh Pirates, the team that has whipped them in the last five engagements between the outfits.

At the workout it was discovered that Don Johnson, who has been suffering back agony, has not thrown off the misery as much as expected and if he isn't better by game time Bill Schuster will take his place at second base but not in the batting order. Peanuts Lowrey will be moved up in the list to second and Schuster will bat eighth.

Becker to Return Friday

There still is a chance that Don will play and in that event the same cast and batting order that trimmed the Reds three straight in the last three games played will continue against the Pirates. The Cincinnati cast, by the way, was different than the one which lost three to the Pirates just before the successful visit to Cincinnati.

Heinz Becker played first base and batted third in the unhappy series in Pittsburgh and appeared to have his mind on an impending trip to see his draft board in Dallas, Tex., Monday. The board had the docs take a look at Heinz and the latter said it would be all right for him to rejoin the Cubs. He will do so Friday, becoming available for the opener of the four game series with the Cardinals. Whether Heinz will get back into the starting lineup on his return will depend somewhat on what the team does against the Pirates in Wrigley field today and tomorrow.

Start Eastern Trip Monday

Capt. Phil Cavarretta, restored to his first base job with the departure of Becker, batted a cool .700 in the three games he played in Cincinnati immediately following his return to the position he prefers to play. His assortment of accomplishments included a homer, a triple, a double, four singles, and three walks.

The Cubs will start on their second eastern trip Monday, after playing single games with the Cardinals Friday and Saturday, and a double header Sunday. They will leave Chicago at 1:30 o'clock Monday, and play an exhibition game Tuesday. On Wednesday night they meet the miraculous Dodgers, now leading the National league on a rebound from a terrible stagger thru the west several weeks ago.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

St. Louis, Mo., June 19—The James Dykes' White Sox, who are in the midst of one of their periodical upswings, glided to another success under the lights this evening, taking the champion Brownies apart in the opener of a two game series. Using an error by Vern Stephens as an excuse to start something, the Chicagoans built up a juicy seventh inning that eventually led to a 5 to 4 final for their fourth straight victory. Also a firmer grip on fourth place.

The Sox were forced to spend the better part of the evening worrying whether they ever would be able to do enough to Nelson Potter to offset two runs the champions had frisked in the fourth from Earl Caldwell, the 40 year old ex-Brewer who was making his first start under the Dykes banner. Potter, trying to break a losing streak that now extends thru five games, stopped the Sox cold on three hits in the first six innings, but wasn't present for long thereafter.

Fans Three in Row

The exact cause of the Potter removal in the seventh when four scored was four hits—one off Reliefer Bob Muncrief—around the blunder committed by Stephens. Then with Sig Jakucki on the mound in the eighth Le Roy Schalk and Johnny Dickshot came thru with life saving singles that scored a run. And the run paid off in the same inning when the Brownies shelled Caldwell into the dugout, making it necessary for Orval Grove to do a fireman's act. He ended the eighth with the Brownies' fifth and sixth runs on the bases and in the ninth yielded nothing, not even to Stephens, who had nicked Caldwell three times.

The first inning was enough to give the Sox a faint idea that they might be in for a tough evening of sport. Potter fanned Moses, Schalk, and Curtright in order. The Sox didn't feel so badly about those three strikeouts when Dickshot and Cuccinello opened the second with singles but their relief was short lived. Three strikes for Nagel and a double play on Michaels' grounder made short work of the two hits. And the Sox didn't get another man past first base until the seventh inning disturbance.

Stephens' Fumble Aids Sox

Caldwell handled himself so well during the first three innings that only two Brownies hit safely and it was only a matter of inches that prevented him from continuing his good work instead of allowing two runs in the fourth. Stephens led with a two base liner just beyond Nagel's reach but Caldwell set down the next two batters and the inning would have ended harmlessly on Moore's liner if Dickshot hadn't lost his bearings momentarily. The result was a two base hit, Stephens scoring. Christman then singled to score Moore.

Schalk and Curtright set the stage for the Sox seventh inning splurge by uncorking their singles before anybody was retired. Dickshot's tap was made to order for a double play and Stephens knew it but in his haste he failed to come up with the

NICHOLS WINS ON 4 OF 7 MOUNTS AT HAWTHORNE

He Also Participates in $544 Double

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN

Billy Nichols, 17 year old apprentice rider from West Frankfort, Ill., spent most of yesterday afternoon in the winner's circle as he floated to four triumphs in seven of Lincoln Fields' eight races at Hawthorne. He was second once, third twice, and sat out another.

The youngster not only ran his string of victories on Chicago tracks this spring to 45, but participated in the second portion of the largest Lincoln Fields daily double in two years, $544.

Just Dawn Pays $81

After Herb Litzenberger accounted for the opening event with Lowry and Karl's Just Dawn, a 39½ to 1 shot, while Billy was relegated to second place, Nichols took over with Mrs. Monte Weil's Isaiah Girl, one of the favorites in the second race. Just Dawn, winner only once in 18 previous starts, returned $81, $26.60, and $14.60 across the board. Isaiah Girl paid $6.80.

Nichols made it two in a row in the third on Swanee River stable's Short Life, which paid $4, and then spent the next race in the tackroom as Joe Wagner booted in another outsider, Mrs. A. M. Creech's Cid Play, worth $64 to the holders of $2 mutuel tickets.

Nichols Scores in Fifth

Billy came right back in the fifth, the $1,800 Great Lakes race, to win with J. H. Hutchins' Gallantry, a well rated finisher which returned $7 to win.

Litzenberger interrupted in the featured sixth, the $2,000 Glenview purse, and won with I. C. Mishler's Lights Abeam, another outsider, which paid $21.80 for a straight wager. Nichols was third with J. H. Miles' Rush Act as Corydon took the place.

12,694 Bet $893,667

Ben Gogelson's Martian, however, proved the vehicle for Nichols' fourth winner in the seventh, beating Mrs. Creech's Tawn Lady and Mrs. G. H. Emick's Three Clovers handily, returning $6 for a $2 ticket.

Nichols was on the favored Devil's Crag in the final event but had to be content with third place as Freddie Smith got M. Obstfeld's Valdina Nymph up in time to whip P. L. Kelley's Piplad.

A crowd of 12,694 wagered $893,667.

MANY CALUMET THOROBREDS AT WASHINGTON PK.

Chicago racing fans are assured of seeing the nation's outstanding thorobreds when the coördinated 64 day Arlington Park-Washington Park meeting opens at Washington Park Monday. Among the stables with thorobreds already on the grounds is the famed Calumet farm string owned by Warren Wright.

Ben Jones, head trainer of the string, will have the entire stable in Chicago for the richest meeting ever presented by the two tracks. Such nationally known performers as Pot O' Luck, the fast stepping 3 year old which finished second in the Kentucky Derby; Good Blood; Twilight Tear, the sensational 4 year old filly; Ocean Wave, in the handicap class, and many promising juveniles now are working out each morning in preparation for the meet.

Since Jones took over as head trainer of the famed stable in 1940, the racers have won $1,809,251 in purses. Last year the Calumet farm thorobreds established a world record by earning $601,660.

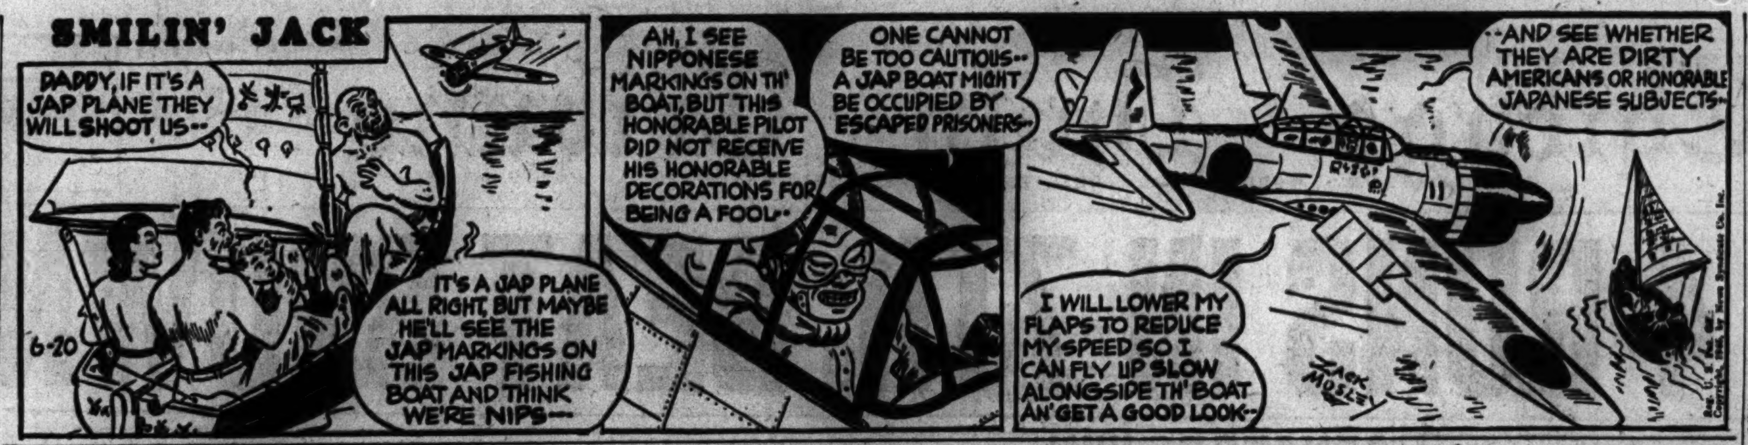
THE PRIMA PHILOSOPHER Says

Some folks cause happiness wherever they go; others whenever they go.

PRIMA AMERICA'S FINEST BEER



SMILIN' JACK
DADDY, IF IT'S A JAP PLANE THEY WILL SHOOT US--
IT'S A JAP PLANE ALL RIGHT, BUT MAYBE HE'LL SEE THE JAP MARKINGS ON THIS JAP FISHING BOAT AND THINK WE'RE NIPS--
6-20
AH, I SEE NIPPONESE MARKINGS ON TH' BOAT, BUT THIS HONORABLE PILOT DID NOT RECEIVE HIS HONORABLE DECORATIONS FOR BEING A FOOL--
ONE CANNOT BE TOO CAUTIOUS-- A JAP BOAT MIGHT BE OCCUPIED BY ESCAPED PRISONERS--
--AND SEE WHETHER THEY ARE DIRTY AMERICANS OR HONORABLE JAPANESE SUBJECTS--
I WILL LOWER MY FLAPS TO REDUCE MY SPEED SO I CAN FLY UP SLOW ALONGSIDE TH' BOAT AN' GET A GOOD LOOK--

DUCK BONANZA FOR SPORTSMEN: 40,000 NEW FOWL

Saskatchewan Project Nets Results

BY BOB BECKER

Illinois sportsmen have a financial interest in a special duck growing project in Saskatchewan and will get a dividend in live quackers this fall instead of a check for money.

The waterfowlers in this state who invested in the Ducks Unlimited marsh restoration project, known as Lake Illinois, are now getting their first 1945 report on this worthwhile conservation enterprise from Tom Main, the Canadian manager of DU. Main advises us that altho the entire Lake Illinois plan to restore a ruined marsh to a productive status is not quite completed, since there are more dams and ditches to be installed, it is far enough along to produce well over 40,000 ducks this summer.

Members Contribute Funds

Every nickel to make Lake Illinois and give the ducks another big and safe nesting area has been contributed by Illinois members of Ducks Unlimited and their friends. Eventually the restoration project will include about 50,000 acres. When completed, the annual duck crop from Lake Illinois will be in six figures. Illinois sportsmen who have helped to make Lake Illinois possible have the privilege of hunting on it during the open Saskatchewan duck season.

Canada to Spend $200,000

More than $200,000 will be spent by Ducks Unlimited in the Canadian provinces this summer to continue the work of restoring duck nesting areas, and managing them so that they will yield the maximum number of birds. By such management sportsmen hope to perpetuate the sport of waterfowling and maintain a high population of both puddler and deep diving ducks.

ORGANIZE NEW UNITED STATES HOCKEY LEAGUE

The midwest and southwest will have professional hockey next winter if plans of a group of sportsmen meeting yesterday in the La Salle hotel bear fruit.

The group, headed by Paul W. Louden of Minneapolis, organized the United States Hockey league with franchises in Dallas, Fort Worth, Omaha, Tulsa, Kansas City, Minneapolis, and St. Paul.

"We plan to start competition next winter," Louden said. "There are plenty of players available, and we should have no trouble getting under way, unless transportation difficulties prohibit it. It looks now, we should be playing in November."

Louden was elected president and treasurer and Paul W. Linz of Dallas was named vice president.

Green Bay Packers Sign Guards Cope and Monaco

Green Bay, Wis., July 19 [Special]—A pair of guards, Robert L. Cope of Arkansas and Ray Monaco of the Washington Redskins, have signed 1945 contracts with the Green Bay Packers, Coach Curly Lambeau announced today. Monaco, who played at Holy Cross, is a discharged army officer. He joined the Redskins last year.

ball. By the time it was recovered Schalk had scored and Curtright was on third. He ran home on Cuccinello's fly to Gutteridge in deep left. Nagel blasted a double into the left field corner, Dickshot scoring and Potter going away. Michaels singled off Rescuer Muncrief to score Nagel with the fourth run of the inning.

Schalk was the first to face Jakucki in the eighth and gave the third Brownie pitcher a fitting greeting in the shape of a single. After Curtright had furnished a sacrifice, Dickshot exploded a single that sent Schalk across the plate. A few moments later the Caldwell decline set in. The annoying Stephens opened the home half with a single, which Dickshot fumbled. After two were out Moore singled Stephens home. A single by Christman and another by Joe Schultz, who batted for Jakucki, scored Moore and Grove then stepped in to end the inning.

WALLACE WADE EXPECTS ARMY DISCHARGE SOON

Durham, N. C., June 19 (AP)—Mrs. Wallace Wade, wife of Lt. Col. Wallace Wade, disclosed today that her husband expects to return to this country in about 30 days.

She said she understood he would be given a discharge and, if so, that he would resume his duties as head football coach and athletic director at Duke university—posts he held before he volunteered shortly after Pearl Harbor.

A field of 60 players, the largest since the war, will compete in the tournament which will continue all week. The finals in both singles and doubles are scheduled for Saturday, June 30.

Stanley Clark of California Tech, and Nick Buzolich of George Pepperdine college of Los Angeles, both 1944 quarter-finalists, are among the early entries. The west coast will also be represented by teams from Southern California and College of Pacific.

The principal midwest hope will be Charles Samson of Notre Dame, who reached the finals last year before losing to Segura. The east will be represented by two-man teams from Annapolis, West Point, and Dartmouth. Additional entries are expected by the close of the week.

MORE THAN 800 DOGS ENTERED IN SHOW SUNDAY

More dachshunds, boxers, shepherds, Dobermann Pinschers, springer spaniels, Boston terriers, Irish setters, English setters, Scottish terriers, and other well known breeds have been entered in the Skokie Valley Kennel club dog show to be held Sunday in Soldiers' field than were entered in the 1944 show, according to the tabulation of more than 800 entries made yesterday. HOGAN AIMS AT VICTORY GOLF'S SPECIAL PRIZE

Lt. Ben Hogan, defeated by Harold [Jug] McSpaden in a playoff for the Victory National Open Golf championship last year at Edgewater, will be back for another shot at the rich title next Wednesday at the Calumet Country club.

Hogan will be making his second tournament appearance since being commissioned a lieutenant in the army air forces, and will do so on furlough. Ben will be aiming at a double goal, too, for besides the Victory championship and its accompanying war bond and cash awards, any service golfer winning the title also will win 20 per cent of the net receipts for his post recreation fund.

Last year the scrappy little Hogan appeared a cinch for the title until McSpaden turned on the heat on the last nine holes and sank a 40 foot ptt on the 72d green to square the mach. McSpaden continued at the peak of his game in the subsequent play-off and Ben got second money but missed the special military prize.

Sam Snead probably will compete at Calumet. Snead was forced out of the Philadelphia invitational meet last week because of a fractured bone in his wrist. Larry Rutherford, Chicago District Gold association president today said Snead's physician indicated he may be able to compete in the Victory meet.

RETAIN TARIFF CUTTING POWER IN TRADE BILL

9 Republicans Vote to Keep Clause

Washington, D. C., June 19 (AP)—The administration today won the most hotly contested point of its reciprocal trade extension legislation when the senate approved new tariff cutting power for the President.

Nine Republicans joined with 37 Democrats and Sen. La Follette [Prog., Wis.] to pile up a 47 to 33 margin for giving the President authority to reduce tariffs 50 per cent under Jan. 1 rates when negotiating trade agreements with other nations.

Voting in opposition were eight Democrats and 25 Republicans. Six pairs were announced, thus putting on record 92 of the senate's 96 members.

Four Senators Not Recorded

Not recorded were Senators Connally [D., Tex.] and Vandenberg [R., Mich.], attending the San Francisco conference, Sen. Hart [R., Conn.], called home by the death of his son, and Sen. Scrugham [D., Nev.] who is ill.

To be disposed of are six proposed amendments which stirred extended debate, but leaders hoped for a final vote on the legislation tomorrow. In any event, they considered the main fight ended. The heart of the legislation is the additional tariff slashing power. Otherwise, it provides simply for a three year extension from June 12 of the President's authority to make reciprocal trade agreements.

The original trade agreements law, in effect since 1934, gave the President power to negotiate the agreements and to reduce tariffs up to 50 per cent under the schedules of the 1930 Hawley-Smoot act, last Republican tariff law. Many of these schedules have been reduced the limit. Pointing to that, the administration asked added tariff cutting authority to give new "bargaining ammunition" when making agreements.

Defeated in Senate Committee

The legislation sailed smoothly thru the house, where the division was largely on party lines, but ran into trouble in the senate finance committee. A 10 to 9 vote there advised against allowing the new tariff cutting power.

Technically, the senate's vote today rejected a committee-recommended amendment which would have removed the authority from the house-approved bill.

When the senate recessed for the day, the business before it was an amendment proposed by Sen. Shipstead [R., Minn.] to forbid a reduction in duties on any agricultural product except tobacco, sugar, and flax. Shipstead said that under the trade agreements imports of agricultural products had increased, but exports had not.

Among other proposed amendments awaiting action is one by Sen. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.] to require that all new trade agreements receive congressional approval before becoming effective.

WARNS FOREIGN BUYERS EXPECT EASIER CREDIT

If the United States is to hold its own in the coming highly competitive "battle" for world trade, credit restrictions must be eased immediately, Stanley E. Hollis, executive vice president of the American Foreign Credit Underwriters corporation, warned members of the Export Managers Club of Chicago yesterday.

Latin American and other foreign buyers believed the European war's end automatically would increase merchandise and shipping and lower prices, he said, and as a result buyers will expect more liberal terms.

Tho some risk will remain in granting credit to foreign buyers, this will be offset partially by the reliable information, guidance, and service in financing, and credit and collection procedure available thru the foreign departments of commercial banks, Hollis said.

Super-Precise Gauge Assists Plane Output

A new measuring instrument possessing precision never before demanded by industry was among the latest marvels of industry discussed yesterday at the regional meeting of American Society of Mechanical Engineers in the Stevens hotel. Gerard M. Foley, research physicist of the Battelle Institute, Columbus, Ohio, described the device which has been used by the aircraft industry.

The gauge can measure rapid changes in position only one thousandth the thickness of the printing ink on a newspaper, or approximately one fifty-thousandth the thickness of newsprint, he said. It uses the principle of "static free" frequency modulation [FM] radio to measure the position of either slowly or rapidly moving objects without touching the object being measured.

Lathe Spindles Measured

The first application of the device was to measure the errors in high precision lathe spindles used in machining aircraft motor parts. With it minute errors could be determined and spindles designed on the basis of information obtained.

Altho capable of measuring very small motions, on the order of one ten-millionth of an inch, Foley said operation of the machine is as simple as tuning a radio.

Arthur E. Pew Jr., vice president of the Sun Oil company, Philadelphia, said operation of gas turbine engines by the petroleum industry has been highly successful. He said the first successful large gas turbine unit in the United States was placed in use in 1936 at the company's Marcus Hook, Pa., refinery. Twenty-six are now in use in Houdry cracking plants.

Turret Drive Developed

Stanley J. Mikina, engineer with Westinghouse Research Laboratories, East Pittsburgh, Pa., described development of a new electric drive for the turret of the Gen. Sherman tank which passed its acceptance tests on the eve of Pearl Harbor with "truly providential timeliness."

He said development of the device was undertaken by Westinghouse at the request of army ordnance in February, 1941, to supply the army with a new drive in addition to the hydraulic drives then in use. On Dec. 6, 1941, tests were satisfactorily completed at the Aberdeen proving ground and mass production was started at once.

The government should put at least half of the 700,000 machine tools it owns in safe storage as war insurance, A. G. Bryant, president of the Bryant Machinery and Engineering company of Chicago, said.

The approximately 350,000 machine tools that should be saved cost the government about 1⅛ billion dollars and if they were dumped on the market it is unlikely that more than a third original cost could be recovered, he said.

LIFE INSURANCE FUNDS INTEREST RATE DECLINES

The net rate of interest earned last year on invested policy holder funds by domestic life insurance companies reached the new low of 3.19 per cent, the Institute of Life Insurance reported yesterday.

Last year's decrease resulted primarily from continued investment of life insurance funds in government securities and the low interest rates of new issues and open market securities.

Holdings of war bonds and other government securities increased more than 3½ billion dollars, raising to almost 10 billion the aggregate gain in these holdings since the start of the war.

Because of the refunding of railroad, public utility and industrial securities to take advantage of lower interest rates, the interest return to life insurance companies on holdings of business securities was lower, the institute said. Securities maturing or called for redemption before maturity could be replaced only at lower rates.

FLEXIBLE PRICE POLICY URGED BY HOUSE UNIT

Encourage Output, OPA Is Advised

Washington, D. C., June 19 (AP)—Production is the surest inflation preventive, the house banking committee said today and called upon the price administration to pursue a flexible pricing policy, allowing ceiling increases where needed for maximum output of consumer goods.

"Red tape cannot be tolerated" in conversion repricing, the committee said in a report to the house recommending a year's extension of price controls without amendments. It cautioned, however, that all pricing must conform with over-all stabilization efforts.

Bill Comes Up Today

The rules committee approval will permit consideration of the extension bill beginning tomorrow.

Minority Leader Martin [R., Mass.] announced after a conference of house Republicans that his colleagues believed that "maladministration of OPA" had brought the nation "to the brink of want."

"At least" 15 Republican sponsored amendments may be offered, he said, and "several will get strong support." Chief among them will be one limiting the extension to six months rather than a year as the bill proposes.

A 66 member "congressional committee for the protection of the consumer" announced full support for the banking committee measure.

The banking committee made these recommendations:

1. Price making with consideration for maximum production.

2. Firm opposition to all proposals to write into the price control law "rigid cost-plus formulas."

Propose Aid to Landlords

3. OPA immediately should take steps permitting landlords to receive thru higher rentals compensation for increases in services, furniture, furnishings and equipment, supplied at the request of the tenant. A "wide degree of discretion must be vested" with area rent directors in making rental adjustments.

4. In combatting illegal markets, the committee said that "too large a portion of OPA's enforcement energies have been devoted to comparatively trivial violations." Success of the fight against illegal markets depends largely upon "the willingness of the courts to impose sentences commensurate with the offense."

5. The committee believes that recent administrative steps to assure a fair distribution of the scarce meat supplies will decrease housewives' difficulties.

PROFIT CASHING PUSHES GRAIN PRICES LOWER

Substantial profit cashing pushed futures prices lower yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade after an early advance had lifted rye 1½ to 4¼ cents a bushel to a new seasonal high. July rye after selling at $1.59⅝ reacted to $1.57¾, a gain of 2½ over Monday's close. Other deliveries were off ¼ to ¾. Wheat declined 1¼ to 2¾, oats ½ to 1, deferred deliveries of corn ¼ to ⅜ and barley ¼ to 1¾.

Trading in rye decreased and commission houses sold despite the purchase by distillers of 50,000 bushels of cash rye and belief that more than half of the 10 million bushel North American visible supply is earmarked for export or distillers. July rye was tight when selling was concentrated in deferred deliveries.

A forecast of continued favorable weather in the southwest which will speed harvesting of winter wheat coupled with some hedging pressure depressed wheat futures.

Army Seizure of Struck Ohio Plant Ordered

Washington, D. C., June 19 (AP)—President Truman today directed Secretary of War Stimson to seize and operate the plants of Diamond Alkali company at Painesville, O., where 2,000 United Mine Workers have been on strike since Friday. William H. Davis, director of economic stabilization, who recommended the seizure, said the strike arose from union objections to the company's use "of an outside contractor for work which it is alleged can be done by the regular employes in the plant."

A statement issued with the President's order said the undersecretary of war reported that the strike "is one of the most critical from a war standpoint that has occurred."

The company produces soda ash, caustic soda, chlorine, and other chemicals used in the production of aluminum, magnesium, rubber gases, explosives, leather, and textiles.

Detroit Strikes Spread

Detroit, Mich., June 19 (AP)—The CIO-AFL jurisdictional dispute spread tonight to the Ford Motor company's Rouge plant where more than 3,500 workers were made idle. Approximately 500 United Automobile Workers' [CIO] maintenance men walked out because of the presence of AFL building trades mechanics in various sections of the plant, the company said. The company was forced to send the other workers home.

The dispute continued in other plants. Another factory affected today was that of the Packard Motor Car company, where 400 AFL maintenance men were off the job.

Glass Workers Walk Out

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 19 (AP)—Approximately 3,000 employes at the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company's Ford City, Pa., works left their jobs today as the war labor board announced it had scheduled hearings on contract issues between the company and the CIO-Glass and Silica Sand Workers' union. Three thousand workers at the company's Creighton, Pa., plant walked out last Friday.

Employes at six plants of the plate glass company and four plants of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company voted to strike in a poll conducted last Thursday and announced yesterday by the NLRB. The union has scheduled the strike for Thursday at 6 p. m. Libbey-Owens-Ford plants affected include one in Ottawa, Ill.

Spread Is Threatened

Akron, O., June 19 (AP)—More than 16,000 production employes of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company today continued a strike which has halted production at five Akron plants since Sunday as 15,000 Firestone Tire and Rubber company employes threatened to join them.

House Votes to Extend War Requisition Power

Washington, D. C., June 19 (AP)—Legislation extending until June 30, 1946, the President's power to requisition property and material needed for the war was passed today by the house and sent to the senate. The house also voted to continue for another year the President's power to prohibit or curtail the exportation of military equipment, machinery, tools, and other supplies.

TWO BOMBS SIGNAL STRIKE BY 4,500 AT INT. HARVESTER CO.

The explosion of two aerial bombs in the vacant lot next to the McCormick Farm Machinery works of the International Harvester company, Western and Blue Island avs., was a signal yesterday for a strike of more than 4,500 day shift workers. The employes walked out of the plant at 1:30 p. m. after they had loafed on the job for more than four hours, company officials said.

The strike resulted from a dispute over piece work allowances, growing out of a recent war labor board directive regarding the payment of such allowances.

Within a few hours, Edward L. Warren, regional WLB chairman, sent messages to Jack N. Hymers, president of local 108, and Grant Oakes, national president of the United Farm Equipment Workers' union, telling them to order the workers back on the job by tomorrow morning or appear at 1:30 p. m. that day before the regional WLB to show cause why the strike has not been terminated.

DEMANDS PROBE ON U.S. SALE OF METAL TO JAPS

Washington, D. C., June 19 (AP)—Rep. Thomas [R., N. J.] today proposed a congressional investigation of pre-Pearl Harbor sales of scrap iron and merchant ships by the United States to Japan.

He introduced a resolution calling for appointment of a seven member committee to inquire into sales made directly to Japan and those made to domestic and foreign agents for resale to Japan.

The investigation would cover a 10 year period prior to the attack on Pearl Harbor.

The committee would be asked to recommend any legislation necessary to "protect the people of this nation and our government in the future."

CATTLE PRICES CLOSE LOWER IN DULL TRADE

Despite the meat shortage trading in many classes of cattle was dull at the Chicago stock yards yesterday. Only the best grades of steers were active, and buyers bid up the top loads to the price ceiling of $18 a hundred pounds. Most sales were at $15.50 to $17.40 on a steady to 25 cent lower basis.

Buyers bid cautiously for the lamb supply and most sold steady. The best new crop natives sold up to $16.25 and old crop shorn lambs at $15.35 or less. Old shorn ewes sold for $8 or less.

Supply and demand were far apart in the hog trade, and the market remained at price ceilings.

AVIATION CORP. BUYS 64 PCT. OF CROSLEY STOCK

Pays $39 Per Share to Get Control

New York, June 19 (AP)—Victor Emanuel, chairman, and Irving B. Babcock, president of Aviation corporation, today announced the purchase of a controlling interest in Crosley corporation of Cincinnati.

Approximately 64 per cent of Crosley's 545,800 shares outstanding was purchased from Powel Crosley Jr., and the Crosley family, for $39 a share cash. The same offer was made to minority stockholders. The shares purchased and the offer to minority stockholders involved approximately 22 million dollars, which will be provided thru a bank credit with 10 banks participating.

Holdings Are Diversified

Aviation corporation is a holding company with investments in a widely diversified list of companies, including Consolidated Vultee corporation, maker of the Liberator bomber. The Crosley purchase is expected to improve its position in the home appliance field and is its initial entry into radio broadcasting.

Crosley corporation owns radio station WLW at Cincinnati and holds a contract to buy station WINS in New York. Because of the radio interests in the transactions the purchase is subject to approval of the federal communications commission. The purchase does not include the Crosley Automobile division.

Crosley manufacturing lines added to those of Aviation corporation and its subsidiaries will provide AVCO with a wide range of household equipment, including radios, refrigerators, kitchen sinks and cabinets, and electric ranges.

Concentrate on Automobile

In Cincinnati, Powel Crosley said: "The decision to sell was based upon personal considerations, one of which is my desire to concentrate on the manufacture of the Crosley automobile. We are planning a new light car, much improved in design and manufacture, over the prewar model.

"A new company will be organized to produce and sell the car and Crosley corporation stock holders will have an opportunity to acquire a pro rata interest in this company. If the sale is approved by the federal communications commission, Aviation corporation will assume control of all Crosley corporation assets except the car. However, I will remain a Crosley director."

World Trade Lead Forecast for Chicago

Chicago can become one of the world's foremost international trading centers if proper airport facilities are developed and if the air lines are permitted to operate world routes on a competitive basis, C. E. McCollum, general manager of the Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., said yesterday.

C. E. McCollum

Speaking at the opening of a two day air freight meeting in the Morrison hotel attended by T. W. A. officials from nine cities, he said that no inland city in the world has the opportunities of Chicago for sharing in post-war world trade.

May Profit Enormously

"Chicago, with her vast and diversified industries, stands to profit enormously in the traffic of supplies and materials which many foreign countries will need to rebuild their national economy," McCollum said.

"China alone has announced intentions of purchasing $1,584,631,000 of goods on world markets to satisfy her relief and rehabilitation needs. Chicago can bid for a large part of such business."

He explained that T. W. A. has proposed an air service that would bring Peiping, China, within 65 hours elapsed time of Chicago, and that in the Constellation T. W. A. has a plane that can fly the route in that time. The 65 hours compare with nine days by air and 22 days by the fastest surface transportation before the war.

Quick Access to Markets

"Global air service will provide easy and quick access to foreign markets," he said. "Accounts can be developed and serviced with the ease that a commercial organization now conducts business thru local branches on the Pacific coast."

The meeting, held to discuss plans for expanded T. W. A. passenger, mail, freight, and express service, is the first of a series to be held this summer in Chicago, headquarters of the company's central region.

AMERICAN ZINC TO PAY 10 CENTS ON ITS COMMON

American Zinc, Lead and Smelting company yesterday voted a dividend of 10 cents on common stock for the first disbursement on this issue since 1917. Directors also authorized payment of $139.50 a share on the $6 preferred. This dividend covers all arrearages on the issue and includes the current quarterly of $1.50. The quarterly of $1.25 on prior preferred also was authorized.

3,100 NONWAR WORKER HOMES ARE ALLOTTED

Privately Financed Units Get Priorities

BY AL CHASE

Chicago has been allotted priorities for the construction of 3,100 privately financed family dwelling units and provided funds for the erection of 800 publicly financed homes, William K. Divers, regional representative of the national housing agency, disclosed last night.

Priorities for 1,100 privately financed homes can be issued this month, followed by 1,000 in July and 1,000 in August, Divers said. His announcement was made at the annual dinner of the Chicago Metropolitan Home Builders association in the Continental hotel.

Three hundred of the 3,100 will be available for persons building homes for their own occupancy; 500 will be for rent, and the balance of 2,300 will be built for sale. The maximum sales price will be $8,000 per unit and the maximum shelter rent [base rent minus refrigerators, cooking stoves, etc.] will be $65 per month.

CHA Will Manage Homes

The 800 public housing units, designed principally for occupancy by Negro families, will be constructed by the federal public housing authority. The Chicago housing authority will supervise erection and manage the homes which will be limited to war workers.

The 3,100 private housing units are the first H-2 [civilian nonwar workers' homes] priorities to be allotted Chicago. This quota compares with 5,000 in Detroit, 4,000 in Los Angeles, 2,200 in Cleveland, and 1,000 each in St. Louis and Kansas City. A total of 73,000 has been allotted to 366 localities by NHA, Divers said.

"The Chicago Metropolitan Home Builders association has pledged that the privately financed housing will be used to meet the housing needs of veterans and families of service men," he asserted.

Must Obtain Priorities

However, the average person will be eligible for a part of the Chicago allotment, Divers promised. Application for priorities may be obtained from E. J. Kelly, district director of the federal housing administration, in the Merchandise Mart.

Increasing real estate activity was reflected yesterday in six additional transactions involving a total of more than 1 million dollars. The largest was the purchase by Clark-

STOCK MARKET PRICES UNEVEN; TRADING ACTIVE

Metals Are Prominent; Carriers Lag

New York, June 19 (AP)—Steels and other metals rallied in today's shortened stock market, but rails were stalled by selling, and many industrials were neglected. Prices closed irregularly.

In the three hour session—the exchange and other markets recessed from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. because of Gen. Eisenhower's visit—customers placed enough orders to put volume near that of a normally active full market. Transfers totaled 1,560,000 shares against Monday's five hour volume of 1,930,000, the largest since May 7.

Most Carriers Are Lower

After trading was resumed some carriers steadied but the majority remained lower. Gains of 2 or more points for favorites were reduced at the close.

The urge to employ idle cash persisted as the main purchasing incentive. Metals revived on the belief they were "behind" the market and had far from discounted postwar prospects. Carriers had to contend with the suggestion they had been overbought.

The Associated Press 60 stock average was unchanged at 67. The utility composite reached an eight year peak.

BONDS AVERAGE HIGHER

New York, June 19 (AP)—The bond market averaged a little higher today, altho the forward move was made difficult at times by lack of aggressive bidding as well as light offerings in some recently strong rails.

The Associated Press average of 20 rails held unchanged at the high since 1937 established on Monday. Small advances were made by industrials and utilities. Sales of $7,670,000 were far under the $10,232,000 turnover of the preceding session.

CHICAGO LIST LOWER

Prices declined yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange and turnover was 37,000 shares. Active issues included Chicago corporation, Commonwealth Edison, and Libby, McNeill & Libby, unchanged; Republic Steel, up ⅝, and New York Central, down ⅞.

LIFE INSURANCE DIPLOMA

Please explain the meaning of the designation C. L. U., as used by life insurance agents.—S. K.

The abbreviation stands for chartered life underwriter. When you see it after the name of a life insurance representative it signifies that he has met certain qualifications and passed five examinations covering educational subjects prescribed by the American College of Life Underwriters, Philadelphia. The designation is in the form of a diploma awarded by this college. A candidate must have had at least three years of satisfactory life underwriting experience.

The college does not conduct educational courses itself. With a high school education as a basis, a candidate may prepare for the examinations either thru home study, underwriters' group courses, or thru college and university courses. Examinations are conducted by more than 140 coöperating colleges. In the 18 years since the underwriters' college was founded, more than 2,500 applicants have completed the examinations.

"If practiced as it should be, life underwriting meets all the requirements of the professional concept," an announcement by the college said. "The day is passing when the agent is content to know only the technique and psychology of salesmanship. . . . The efficient underwriter needs a broad business education, including economics, government, sociology, inheritance taxation, commercial and insurance law, law of wills, trusts and estates, corporation finance, banking and credit, and investments, in addition to life insurance training." The subjects named are included in the examinations.

TRANSIT BOARD HEAD LIKELY TO BE HARRINGTON

With the appointment of a seven man governing board for the proposed Chicago metropolitan transit authority out of the way, the next step, it was announced yesterday, will be the organization of the board and preparations to purchase and unify the surface and elevated lines.

Within 30 days the board members, under the transit law, must meet and elect a chairman, a secretary, and a treasurer. They may vote extra compensation for the chairman [all board members are to receive base pay of $15,000 a year]. Only the chairman is required to devote his full time to the authority's business.

Harrington Probable Chairman

Philip Harrington, city subway commissioner, is looked upon as the probable choice for the chairmanship. He was appointed by Mayor Kelly, who indicated he would make Harrington's term seven years. The mayor also has a one year, five year, and six year term to designate but has not yet been specific on these. The governor had two, three, and four year terms to deal out.

The governor sent his list to the state senate for confirmation yesterday. He nominated George F. Getz Jr., coal merchant with a wide range of business interests, for two years and Philip W. Collins, director of the state revenue department, for three years. The four year term went to John Quincy Adams, real estate dealer and a director of the Continental Illinois National bank.

Collins Leaves Revenue Post

Collins resigned from his revenue post, effective yesterday, and Gov. Green immediately appointed Paul C. Rosenquist of Rockford to be his successor. He has been deputy to Collins.

Aside from Harrington, the mayor's choices are Ald. James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the council committee on local transportation; Irvin L. Porter, vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago, and Martin H. Kennelly, storage firm executive and leader of the 1945 Red Cross war fund drive.

So far, the mayor said, only Kennelly has withheld his acceptance. The four nominations will be presented to the city council for approval tomorrow.

Board of High Caliber

Harrington, who has had long experience in traction matters, commented briefly on the appointments.

"Of course, there is no finality about them until the council and the senate concur," he said. "But I think it is a strong board, of the caliber that can and will give Chicago and the suburbs better transportation that will be satisfactory to everybody."

Other nominees to the board either were out of town or unwilling to talk at this time.

The city plans to make an early effort to have the Illinois Supreme court pass on the validity of the metropolitan authority act and the ordinance granting the authority a franchise. This has been made a "must" by the investment banking firms that propose to raise the purchase money—75 millions for the surface lines and 12 millions plus for the elevated—by the sale of revenue bonds backed only by the earnings of the combined systems.

YANKS OF 86TH WILL BE HEARD ON W-G-N TODAY

Chicagoland men who arrived at Camp Grant, Rockford, yesterday after two years of fighting in Europe, will be heard in recorded interviews over W-G-N today and tomorrow. The soldiers are members of the 86th [Blackhawk] infantry division of the 3d army—the first complete combat division to return from Europe. Harry Creighton, W-G-N staff announcer, went to Camp Grant yesterday to get the first words of these men on returning to their home state. One group will be heard from 3 to 3:15 p. m. today; another from 7:15 to 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Lawrence Tibbett of the Metropolitan Opera company, who replaced Frank Sinatra as the Hit Parade singer, is himself to yield to another singer after 26 weeks of trying to establish himself with the younger generation. Dick Todd, who formerly sang on Chicago radio stations, has been engaged to take over in Tibbett's place. Tibbett expects to go overseas soon on a USO tour.

Domestic listeners will get an opportunity of hearing something our fighting men in the Pacific have been hearing for years. Actual transcripts of Japanese propaganda broadcasts in English will be rebroadcast over WENR-ABC at 9 p. m. Mondays, starting June 25.
